SCHOOL BOARD OUSTS GERLING; NO DISSENTING VOTE

Members Disregard Superintendent's Request He Be Allowed to Act in Advisory Capacity.

GEORGE L. HAWKINS NAMED ACTING HEAD

Decision Made to Select Man From National Field With Aid of Three University Presidents.

Henry J. Gerling was ousted as Superintendent of Instruction by the Board of Education last evening without a dissenting vote and without comment on the disclosures of his use of relief funds, intended for lunches and other aid to children, for speculation in stocks and bonds and for personal real estate deals, which led to his resignation.

The board disregarded completely the request by Gerling to be allowed to serve in the future in some advisory capacity "consistent with his training and demonstrated abilities," on regaining his health.

In a surprise move, the board acted swiftly to name a temporary successor for Gerling and take steps for obtaining a permanent superintendent. George L. Hawkins, an assistant superintendent for the last 10 years, was made acting superintendent, with the understanding he would not be chosen permanently. President Mark D. Eagleton was directed to ask the chancellor of Washington University and the presidents of Missouri and St. Louis universities to suggest six candidates for the superintendency from the national field.

Murphy Not at Meeting.

Richard Murphy, board member and pal of Gerling, who was chief sponsor of Gerling for promotion to superintendent in 1929, and who hereafter sold him many thousand of dollars of bonds and stocks, largely at excessive prices, for relief and other trust accounts, was absent from the meeting. Eagleton has demanded that Murphy resign from the board. Others absent were John J. Sheahan, whose late father was a friend of Gerling, and John A. Fleischli, who is out of the city.

Gerling's removal as superintendent automatically removed him as a trustee of the St. Louis Public Schools Foundation for the Relief of Distress and the Advancement of Professional Training, established by the late Ben Blewett. City Comptroller Louis P. Nolte, an ex-officio trustee, was elected president to succeed Gerling.

An audit of the fund showed securities on hand valued at $428,039 and cash of $7047. Immediately after Nolte's election, he and the other three trustees, Philip J. Hickey, Hugh H. Barr and Harold R. Small, went to the Mercantile-Commerce Bank & Trust Co. to check the securities.

Account Found in Order.

They reported they found the stocks and bonds in "good order." Comptroller Nolte said the cash account was also found in order.

Eagleton, who, with Vice-President Rudolph Hofmeister, received Gerling's offer to retire and admission of speculative use of the previously secret Children's Relief Fund last Sunday, announced at the start of the meeting that Gerling had authorized him to present a request for retirement. Max G. Baron moved acceptance, seconded by Dr. Hofmeister. The nine members present remained silent, except to answer "aye" in quick succession on the roll call.

Thus ended a career of 41 years in the St. Louis school system, in a room where for the last 10 years Gerling's had been the leading voice. Gerling, whose pay was $12,000 a year, was not present, as he is suffering from heart trouble at his home, 3626 Lafayette avenue. He will be 70 years old next month.

Discussion on Successor.

The president then called for reading of letters dealing with the selection of Gerling's successor. Only one urged a choice from the St. Louis teaching and administrative corps, rather than the nation.

Elmer B. Klein, securities dealer, who was a candidate for the board last year, asserted that "civic-minded individuals and organizations are of the opinion that we have plenty of talent from which to draw in the present system. A policy (of going elsewhere) is de-

POPE TELLS ROOSEVELT HOPE FOR PEACE IS SLIGHT NOW

Pius XII in Letter Says There Are Stubborn Obstacles Which Become Daily More Difficult to Surmount.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20 (AP).—Pope Pius XII told President Roosevelt today that the immediate chances for peace were reduced to a "slight probability" by "stubborn obstacles" which 'become daily more difficult to surmount."

The Pope called upon the "friends of peace" to "visualize" the seriousness of these obstacles and the improbability of cessation of war "so long as the present state of the opposing forces remains essentially unchanged."

These expressions and a hope for the eventual attainment of peace were made in a letter to the President. The letter, made public simultaneously here and in Rome, was delivered to the White House by Archbishop Cicognani, apostolic delegate in Washington.

It was a reply to a communication of Dec. 23 in which Roosevelt disclosed he was sending to the Pope a personal representative, Myron C. Taylor, to assist in "our parallel endeavors for peace."

Act of Solidarity.

It bespoke a "providential help," the Pope said, when the President at Christmas time placed himself in the vanguard "of those who would promote peace" and succor the victims of war.

"It is," the Pope declared, "an exemplary act of fraternal and hearty solidarity between the new and the old world in defense against the chilling breath of aggressive and deadly godless and anti-Christian tendencies, that threaten to dry up the fountain head, whence civilization has come and drawn its strength."

In such circumstances, the Pope said, using the plural pronoun as in all papal utterances, "we shall find a special satisfaction" in receiving a personal representative from Mr. Roosevelt.

President Roosefelt sent nearly identical letters last Christmastime to the Pope, to Dr. George A. Buttrick, president of the Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America, as a Protestant leader, and to Rabbi Cyrus Adler, president of the Jewish Theological Seminary of America.

In the letters, Roosevelt said it was well to encourage a "closer association between those in every part of the world—those in religion and those in government—who have a common purpose."

Text of Letter.

The text of the Pope's letter to President Roosevelt follows:

"Most Excellent Sir: Health and prosperity.

"The memorable message that Your Excellency was pleased to have forwarded to us on the eve of the holy feast of Christmas has brightened with a ray of consolation, of hope and confidence, the suffering, the heart-rending fear and the bitterness of the peoples caught up in the vortex of war. For this all right-minded men have paid you the spontaneous tribute of their sincere gratitude.

"We have been deeply moved by

SWEDES FLYING FOR FINNS REPORT THEY DESTROYED SIX RUSSIAN WARPLANES

STOCKHOLM, Jan. 20 (AP). THE headquarters of Swedish volunteer forces in Finland reported today that Swedish airmen already had destroyed at least six Russian planes.

The Swedish flyers went into action in operations carried out in co-operation with Finnish infantry.

The Swedes themselves lost two planes which collided in the air, killing two officers and one non-commissioned officer. Another non-commissioned officer who survived the crash made his way back to the Finnish lines on skis, headquarters reported.

STRONG RUSSIAN ATTACKS BEATEN OFF, FINNS SAY

Soviet Bombers Continue Raids on Cities — Reds Report They Destroyed Enemy Battalion.

HELSINKI, Jan. 20 (AP). — Strong Russian attacks have been flung back both on the Karelian Isthmus and north of Lake Ladoga, the Finnish command's communique reported today.

The account of new land successes came as Russian planes were ranging over all southern Finland, bombing Turku and other towns heavily and causing four air raid alarms in Helsinki, which, however, was not bombed.

Four times the Russians attacked yesterday at Taipale on the Isthmus and lost 40 dead, the communique said. Above Lake Ladoga the fighting lasted all day before Red Army efforts to recapture positions whic hthe Finns had seized Thursday were beaten off.

The destruction of two Russian tanks was all that was recorded of the battle at Markajarvi, in the Salla region above the arctic circle, where previous reports said some 40,000 Russians, retreating toward their own frontier, were fighting a rearguard action.

The communique said seven Russian bombers were shot down yesterday and that three more probably were destroyed.

Danish newspaper dispatches from Tallinn, Estonia, said thousands of Russians had been frozen to death on the Karelian front. In some instances depleted Russian regiments were merged to maintain numerical strength, the reports said.

Unofficial Finnish reports showed the great Russian aerial invasion has been at heavy cost. These reports estimated that 204 Soviet planes had been down in the first seven weeks of war. Finns said they cost an average of $200,000 each. In the same period the Red army is reported to have lost 434 tanks and armored cars, 189 cannon, 282 machine guns and 522 lorries.

REDS WIPED OUT FINNS, THEY SAY

MOSCOW, Jan. 20 (AP). — The Russian Army reported today it had "annihilated" a Finnish battalion on the north shore of Lake Ladoga and inflicted "numerous casualties" on the enemy on the Karelian Isthmus.

A communique from the Leningrad headquarters declared:

"Jan. 19. In all directions, there were activities of scouts, and in

30,000 Men, 200 Planes Needed To Save Finland, Declare British

LONDON, Jan. 20 (AP),—Given 30,000 more fighting men, 200 airplanes and a generous supply of military equipment before May, Finland can save itself from Russia, British military authorities concluded today.

In line with a growing belief that Finland is the pivot of the entire struggle against what Britons call "aggression in Europe," Great Britain and France have been making substantial contributions to Finland, including planes and military supplies, but the amounts have been kept secret.

The military experts' prediction was founded on a study of the campaign in Northern Finland, where they said one of history's most notable displays of tactical skill had thrown back invaders.

It was agreed generally that May would bring the ultimate turning point. It is then that the snows melt and the ground becomes firm enough for best use of mechanical equipment.

(Military observers in Finland previously have said that a major Russian smash at the Karelian Isthmus defenses might come in March or April. Bitter cold ordinarily continues through March, however.)

Experts here declared that with adequate arms, ammunition, planes and the designated fresh fighting force, the Finns might hold out even through a May crisis because the rugged, lake-strewn countryside is a defensive asset.

20 HURT IN FIRE ON SOUTH SIDE; LOSS $250,000

Blaze Wrecks Building at Cherokee and Iowa Housing Casa Loma Ballroom, Stores, Bowling Alley.

5 FIREMEN RESCUED AFTER WALL CRASHES

Men Caught on Ladder—Most of Injured Department Members — Fire Burns Through Night.

The two and one-half story brick and terra cotta building at the northeast corner of Cherokee street and Iowa avenue, which housed the Casa Loma Ballroom, six stores, and a bowling alley, was destroyed last night in a $250,000 fire which caused injuries to 20 persons, most of them firemen.

It was a stubborn and, at times, spectacular blaze, which lasted throughout the night. At 8 a. m. today, 75 firemen operating 13 pieces of apparatus, were still pouring steady streams of water into the smouldering, tangled, and ice-coated wreckage.

A group of firemen narrowly escaped death at 7 p. m. when, just as the flames were at their height, the south wall of the building collapsed, burying at least five in the wreckage. The men were extricated almost immediately.

Short Circuit Apparent Cause.

The fire began, apparently from a short circuit, at 5:22 p. m. in the Harber & Ackerman dry goods store, Miss Pauline Stuess, 2317 Park avenue, clerk in the store, told police she looked up from her work and noticed that a small flame had started near a radio.

She called Ralph Ackerman, her employer, who attempted to put it out by beating the flames with his hands. Meanwhile she ran for water. But the flames made rapid headway.

Ackerman ran next door to the Proper Shoe Store and asked Milton Mandel, the owner, to call the Fire Department. Upstairs in the decorated ballroom the orchestra was rehearsing for a leap-year dance to be held by the pupils of the Garfield School. There were a few customers in the Union Electric Co. branch office and in the Walgreen drug store on the corner.

"Pull the Hook."

When Engine Company No. 3 from Broadway and Salena street arrived it was apparent that it would be a large fire and the driver of the engine pointed to the nearby alarm box and called to a passerby: "Pull the hook."

Four successive alarms were turned in rapidly up to 6:13 p. m., after which additional apparatus was called as needed. When the fire was at its height, 200 firemen were on active duty, manning 21 engines, 11 hook and ladder trucks, two deck pipes, salvage wagons and inhalators.

The building, which has a 100-foot frontage on Cherokee street and goes back 110 feet along Iowa to an alley, is of wood joist construction and the flames moved rapidly.

An hour and a half after the fire had started, the roof caved in and flames shot high in the air. At this time firemen on three ladders, posted against the south wall, were pouring water into the top of the building. Suddenly pieces of the cornice began to fall and Fire Chief Lawrence Cornoyer shouted: "Everybody down!"

Scramble for Safety.

The men at the top of the ladders hurried to anchor the nozzles of their hoses. All scrambled for safety. In an instant the wall caved in and bricks, terra cotta, glass and wood splinters came tumbling down on the men.

There were moans from the firemen and shrieks from the crowd. The falling debris broke the street car feeder wires and severed fire hoses. Sparks shot up from the wires and great fountains of water spurted from the broken hoses.

It seemed that some of the men must have been killed. Lieut. Fred Meyer, a husky firefighter of 44, who was buried completely in the wreckage, told a Post-Dispatch reporter about it later on at Lutheran Hospital, while a doctor was bandaging his broken foot.

"At Top of Ladder."

"I was at the top of the ladder," he said. "The roof had just fallen in and it looked like we were going to get a good chance to pour it on. One of the men from below called and said his hands were so numb he couldn't hold the hose any longer. I told him to go to the truck. Then a few bricks began to fall.

"I fastened the hose and was about halfway down the ladder when a huge hunk of cornice hit me on my helmet. I thought I'd duck close to the wall, but before I had a chance the whole mess came

DIRECTED VERDICT ACQUITS GRAVES OF ONE CHARGE

Judge Throws Out Neglect of Duty Count Against Prosecutor in Charles Gargotta Case.

THREE INDICTMENTS REMAIN AGAINST HIM

Jackson County Official Is Expected to Go on Trial on One of Them Early Next Week.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Jan. 20 (AP).—The case charging W. W. Graves, County Prosecutor, with neglect of official duty was thrown out of Circuit Court today by Judge Marion D. Waltner.

Judge Waltner sustained a demurrer filed by counsel for Graves shortly after the State rested its case about noon. Judge Waltner halted the trial more than an hour while he considered the demurer, which was in the nature of a motion for a directed verdict of acquittal.

No appeal is open to the State from the ruling, but three other indictments, all embracing the general charge of neglect of duty, remain against the prosecutor. He probably will go to trial on one of these early next week.

The charge thrown out by the Court today accused Graves of failing to prosecute Charles Gargotta, charged with assault with intent to kill. His case was continued through 27 terms of court over a period of more than five years.

Shortly after the State rested, Judge Waltner commented from the bench that "not one syllable" of corruption appeared in evidence presented by the prosecution.

Earlier, former Sheriff Thomas Bash had tetsified he made no objection to the dismissal of the charge against Gargotta. Asked if he ever told Graves he didn't want to prosecute the case, Bash said he "was worn out with it. I told him to do as he wished."

FUNK SUES UNION ELECTRIC FOR $300,000 OVER HIS OUSTER AS VICE-PRESIDENT

Dean of Senate Dead

SENATOR WILLIAM E. BORAH

SAYS HE REFUSED 'TO MISPERFORM DUTIES OF OFFICE'

Charges, as Result, Egan and Boehm Conspired to Drive Him From Job and Ruin Him — Ex-Officers Named Defendants.

Suit for $300,000, including $100,000 for punitive damages, was filed in Circuit Court today against Union Electric Co of Missouri and two of its former executives by Oscar F. Funk, the former vice-president of the company whose dismissal in June, 1938, led to the Securities and Exchange Commission's investigation of Union Electric.

The individual defendants are Louis H. Egan, former president, and Frank J. Boehm, former executive vice-president. Both resigned in May, 1939, under circumstances amounting to removal, but were carried on the payroll at their old salaries, $60,000 a year for Egan and $42,000 for Boehm, until Jan. 1 of this year.

Allegations of Suit.

The suit alleges that Funk, who has been with the company for more than 20 years and as a vice-president was in charge of accounting, was forced to resign by the tactics of Egan and Boehm and was prevented by them from procuring comparable employment elsewhere in the utility industry. For this Funk asks for $200,000 actual damages. His salary at the time was $15,000 a year. Funk is now residing in Brazil. His attorney, H. E. Grossenheider, filed the petition.

The suit asserts that Egan and Boehm dominated the board of directors of Union Electric and that under their management certain wrongful practices were permitted, to which Funk objected, and that on account of his objections he was driven out of his job.

The petition alleges that because of the plaintiff's "refusal to misperform the duties of his office in compliance with said wrongful directions of defendants Egan and Boehm," the company and Egan and Boehm "entered upon a wrongful conspiracy and confederation together and with other persons to destroy and malign plaintiff, destroy plaintiff's good reputation and force plaintiff to leave the service of defendant company and its affiliates and subsidiaries and to leave the State of Missouri."

Charges He Was Shadowed.

Among other things the petition alleges that defendants caused Funk to be "shadowed and followed in order to attempt to discover some misconduct of plaintiff," but that failing in this they "entered upon a series of activities to manufacture wrongfully evidence of misdoing by plaintiff in order to accomplish the aforesaid conspiracy."

When Funk's resignation was accepted in June, 1938, the petition asserts, the management agreed to pay him his regular salary until the end of that year, or until he had obtained suitable employment elsewhere. His salary, however, was cut off in October, 1938.

The petition asserts that the defendants "exercised great power and used enormous sums of money for the accomplishment of any of their purposes when necessary," and that the plaintiff was alarmed and intimidated by threats.

When Funk resigned a statement from the company said that he had resigned to take a long rest. The Post-Dispatch subsequently learned that as a result of disagreements with other executives he had been asked to resign.

Objected to Big Fees.

It was learned that Funk had objected to certain large expense accounts and fees to lawyers and in some cases had refused to approve such items for payment, making it necessary for superior executives to approve them.

The Post-Dispatch subsequently disclosed that for many years Union Electric Co. had engaged in widespread political activity and legislative lobbying, including lavish entertainment of politicians and officeholders at Jefferson City and at the elaborate lodges maintained by the company at the Lake of the Ozarks, and had paid out enormous fees to a large list of lawyers.

As a result of these disclosures the Securities and Exchange Commission began an investigation more than a year ago of the company's business practices and po-

MAN KILLS SELF AFTER WOUNDING YOUNG WOMAN

Opens Fire on Her in Residence on Morrison Av. When She Says: "That Is Final."

A man tentatively identified by police as George Stuart, Denver, Colo., shot and killed himself this afternoon after wounding a young woman, said to be Miss Irene Dunning, his sweetheart.

The shooting took place at a residence at 939 Morrison avenue, which officers said is the home of Miss Dunning's brother. Miss Dunning, wounded in the left shoulder and back, is in City Hospital.

Police said they were told that the man walked into the Dunning home and asked, "Have you any final word, Irenee" Miss Dunning is reported to have replied, "That is final."

The man drew a revolver and shot the girl, then fired a bullet into his own head.

Miss Dunning, 22 years old, resides at 1521 South Third street, officers reported. The man's body was taken to the morgue.

J. J. PRYOR IN PRISON, WON'T SEE BOSS TOM FOR MONTH

Quarantine Regulations Keep New Inmates Segregated for 30 Days.

LEAVENWORTH, Kan., Jan. 20 (AP).—John J. Pryor entered Leavenworth penitentiary yesterday, the fifth leader of the Pendergast machine to begin serving a two-year Federal income tax evasion sentence.

Pryor, 66-year-old contractor whose companies shared richly in paving and other awards from Pendergast-dominated office holders, reached the prison unescorted. He waited in the warden's office until a deputy United States Marshal arrived with commitment papers from Kansas City.

Also in the prison are Pendergast, R. Emmet O'Malley, former State Insurance Superintendent; Otto W. Higgins, former Kansas City director of police, and Charles V. Carollo, gambling overlord for the machine. Pryor won't see any of them for at least a month because of the quarantine period each new inmate undergoes.

SENATOR BORAH'S FUNERAL WILL BE MONDAY IN SENATE

President, Cabinet, Supreme Court to Attend Services for Idahoan, 33 Years in Office.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20 (AP).—Senate leaders arranged today to hold a State funeral Monday for Senator William Edgar Borah, its dean in point of service, who died last night of a cerebral hemorrhage.

President Roosevelt and members of the Cabinet, Supreme Court and Diplomatic Corps will attend.

The White House announced the President's intention to be present shortly after plans for the State funeral were definitely decided upon.

The funeral services will be held at 12:30 p. m. and will be directed by the Rev. Ze Barney T. Phillips, Senate chaplain.

Senator Borah's body will be taken to his home state of Idaho for burial at Boise.

Senator D. Worth Clark, Idaho's junior Senator, said brief funeral services would be held for his colleague in the rotunda of the State Capitol at Boise Thursday prior to burial there the same day. The people of the State, he said, had requested Mrs. Borah to consent to another State funeral there.

Escort of Senators.

Vice-President Garner appointed a committee of 10 Senators to accompany the body to Idaho. The group was composed of five Republicans—Austin, Vermont; Lodge, Massachusetts; Nye, North Dakota; Vandenberg, Michigan, and White, Maine—and five Democrats, Clark, Idaho; Pittman, Nevada; O'Mahoney, Wyoming; Burke, Nebraska, and Minton, Indiana.

The funeral train will leave here at 5 p. m. Monday. Arrangements or the State funeral were completed today at a conference of Senators Clark, Barkley (Dem.), Kentucky, and McNary (Rep.), Oregon, with Mrs. Borah.

Senator Borah, an isolationist in personal as well as international affairs, died in his sleep at 8:45 p. m. He was 74 years old.

At his bedside was his wife, Mary. She had kept a constant vigil over her husband since last Tuesday. It was then that he fell in his apartment bathroom. Whether he was stricken first or suffered the hemorrhage from the fall has not been determined.

Found Unconscious by Wife.

Senator Borah was able to speak only rarely, after that. When he did, it was to call his wife.

The Senator's death had been a question of time since his fall. Then, Mrs. Borah wondered why he was late for breakfast, finally

HALIFAX SAYS WAR PREVENTED HITLER RULE OVER EUROPE

'Apparent After Munich Fuehrer Wasn't Satisfied Although He Got All He Immediately Wanted.'

MINISTER PROMISES REAL AID TO FINNS

Asserts England Fights to Restore Nations Germany Cut Off but Not for 'Vindictive Peace.'

LEEDS, England, Jan. 20 (AP).—Lord Halifax, British Secretary for Foreign Affairs, expressed the belief today that Adolf Hitler would have become the dictator of all Europe if England had been lulled into a false sense of security after the Munich settlement.

"I have no doubt he (Hitler) was disillusioned that we were not lulled after Munich into relaxing our own determination to rearm," Lord Halifax said in a radio speech which was broadcast also in the United States.

He declared the Munich agreement "gave Germany all that she immediately wanted" and settled every contentious matter in Germany's favor."

"Yet it became apparent at once," he said, "that Herr Hitler was dissatisfied."

He said Britain was "under no illusions" in regard to the war and urged the people not to underestimate the enemy.

"To insure victory we must command all our energy," Lord Halifax said.

"A dictator enjoys great initial advantages. His policies can be made in great secrecy. The people have no part in that policy. They cannot place themselves in opposition to it and therefore the actions of a dictator appear to the outside world as the decisions of a single mind."

Democracies in Contrast.

Democracies, on the other hand, he continued, do not surrender the private judgments of its citizens.

"But when trouble comes the fact that the people approve carries with it the thought that it is the overwhelming will of the people."

His audience in town hall applauded at these words.

Halifax declared that England's promise to help Finland "will not remain an idle promise, a mere academic formality."

Halifax said he had no doubt that the "prayers of the world" were going up for the Finns in their war with Russia.

England's Peace Aims.

Speaking of peace aims, he said England must insist on the restoration of the small nations which Germany has cut off and Europe must be guaranteed against a repetition of "this disaster."

If Germany is willing to make a decent peace, Halifax said, "we would not seek a vindictive peace."

Halifax said, as he saw it, Germany's only chance of winning the war was by doing it at once.

"Yet she has hesitated . . . probably for the reason that makes the bully hesitate for fear someone will hit him back. I have heard it said that if the winter were to pass without an aggression by Germany it would be the equivalent of a victory for the Allies."

Meanwhile, he continued, England has been building up its strength at home and in the field and co-ordinating its efforts with France.

"Our agreements open up a new chapter in our history with France," he said.

He repeated what Prime Minister Chamberlain told a radio audience early this month that he hoped the British-French understanding would be broadened and preserved.

U-Boat Warfare.

"Meanwhile, Germany has been concentrating her efforts on the kind of warfare peculiarly her own —submarine warfare. Yet in spite of this she seems to be gaining little," he declared, adding:

"At a time when we hoped hostilities might be averted the German U-boats were taking up their stations along the trade routes to prey on our unarmed and helpless vessels."

But, he said, some 6000 vessels have been safely convoyed with the loss of only 12.

He referred to the self-destruction of the Graf Spee after the British victory off the River Plate, and declared the seas were swept clear of German shipping.

"Conscious of her miserable failure at sea Germany resorted to mine warfare," he said. "You know that mines have caused us great losses and worry, but I am happy to say that today methods are being taken which the Admiralty is confident will cope with that menace successfully."

Confident of Victory.

At another point he said:

"While it would be dangerous and wrong for anyone to underestimate the strength of the enemy and the extent of the ordeals we must go through I am satisfied that victory will be ours."

The troubles of war, he went on, will be borne more easily by the man "who is in the war from his own convictions and not through coercion."

It was desirable, Halifax said, that the fullest information on the nation's foreign policy be available.

"I became Foreign Secretary at the end of February, 1938, and within a fortnight the German army marched into Austria. Two months later there was a crisis over the alleged preparations of Germany to attack Czecho-Slovakia."

Whatever the truth of the picture then, he continued, Germany did destroy Europe's confidence in peace.

In public, Lord Halifax declared, Hitler began attacking England. So did his Minister of Propaganda.

"Herr Hitler objected to settlement by negotiations, and he actually resented the Czechoslovakia settlement," he said.

Had England not prepared, Lord Halifax indicated, Hitler would no doubt have one day become dictator of Europe.

Historic Challenge.

"Once it became clear that the purpose of Germany was the domination of non-German peoples, we found ourselves once more faced by the historic challenge that Europe was threatened and no assurances of Hitler's could remove those fears."

"I think it is true that the instincts of our people have always made them resist the attempts of any one nation to become master of Europe. They have always seen in such attempts the threat to their own liberties and of those of all Europe. And I have no doubt that the history of the nineteenth century proves them to have been right."

"No small nation, I believe, has ever regarded our sea power as a menace to its development," he said.

But this, he added, was not true of Germany's land power, and once it began rearming after the World War "a trembling ran through Europe."

"So I think that if the British people have been right in opposing threats to their liberties in the past they are doubly right today."

England, Halifax said, would have been "singularly blind" not to recognize that Hitler's aggressive ambitions lay far beyond Poland.

"Once he had settled with Poland and southeast Europe he would have been ready for France and Britain," he said.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20 (AP).—The Maritime Commission yesterday authorized the sale to Runciman, Ltd., London, Eng., of six American cargo vessels, with transfer to British registry. The American Hawaiian Steamship Co., San Francisco, was authorized to sell four vessels.

NINE of the 12 members of the Board of Education were present as Superintendent Henry J. Gerling was ousted. From the left: DR. RUDOLPH HOFMEISTER, MAX G. BARON, ARTHUR A. BLUMEYER, JAMES J. FITZGERALD, THOMAS F. QUINN, J. HARRY POHLMAN, DR. FRANCIS C. SULLIVAN, EDWARD A. FERRENBACH and the board's attorney, EMMET T. CARTER. The board president, Mark D. Eagleton, was on the rostrum.

School Board Ousts Gerling Without a Dissenting Vote

moralizing to the morale of the organization."

Mrs. E. T. Senseney, acting chairman of the Citizens' School Survey Sponsoring Committee, wrote to the board: "The committee finds itself in hearty accord with your announced policies in this crisis, believing with you that the selection of a new superintendent constitutes a matter of major civic importance, demanding the most serious consideration. We feel that your recommendation that the choice be made from the national field of education, rather than from the St. Louis system, is wise under existing circumstances." Mrs. Senseney suggested Dr. Nickolaus L. Engelhardt of Columbia University, associate director of the 1939 Strayer survey of the schools, as acting superintendent.

"Educator, Not Politician," Urged.

Selection of a "well-qualified educational statesman" to head the school system is no easy task, the board was told by W. H. Reals, associate professor of education at Washington University. He suggested that three to five candidates be recommended by a committee of educators from Harris Teachers' College, St. Louis and Washington Universities, leaders in the school system and representatives of outstanding civic organizations.

Appointment of an "educator of national reputation and promise" was urged by Judge Joseph L. Simpson, president of the Public School Patrons' Alliance. Officers of the Public School Mothers' Gavel Club and of the Public School Playground Mothers' Circle wrote that ordinarily they would favor promotion of some one in the system, but that this occasion was extraordinary and that an outstanding educator should be picked from the country at large. The Gavel Club letter said: "The new superintendent must be an educator, not a politician."

Mrs. Norman M. Windsor, president of the Child Conservation Conference, insisted that the new executive should have "no connection whatever with those who have been in authority," but should rank high in the opinion of educators.

Report on Temporary Head.

Next Dr. Hofmeister, as chairman of the Instruction Committee, presented a committee report unanimously proposing Hawkins for acting superintendent, at $800 a month, compared with his old pay of $604.16. The committee said that Hawkins had the qualifications demanded by the period of transition and "is desirous of putting into effect, immediately, such changes and reforms in the school system as have been the subject of discussion by this board for many months past."

It was advisable, the report continued, to offer the temporary appointment to a person intimately acquainted with the organization and personnel, with the understanding that there was neither implication nor consideration of a permanent appointment. Rather, it was added, the temporary head would be barred from such consideration "because your committee is unanimous in its belief that its permanent successor must be a man of national prominence and of proven executive and educational ability."

Hawkins, said the report, was advised of these circumstances and was willing to accept the responsibility with "the distinct understanding that he has no personal ambitions to serve and that his only purpose would be to clear the path for the man who will be his successor."

Hawkins' View on Matter.

Hawkins, said the committee, stated further that "with the cooperation of the board and the other executive officers of the system, his effort, energy and ability would be directed to cleaning up many situations and things that 'need cleaning up' before his successor comes in; that he firmly believes a vigorous, middle-aged man of proven ability should be selected, and that in no event should any man be appointed who is over the age of 60." The report noted that Hawkins was 62 last Tuesday.

On roll call, the board members present voted unanimously for Hawkins, without comment, and he automatically entered office. He was not present, remaining at his home, 4961 Lotus avenue, because of a heavy cold, but he planned to be at the office Monday.

Born in Jefferson County, Hawkins was educated at Northeast Missouri State Teachers' College, University of Missouri and the graduate school of the University of Chicago. For three years he taught at Middletown, Festus and Webster Groves, Mo., and since 1907 he has been in the St. Louis system. For the first 22 years here he was principal of Oak Hill School. He is married and has a son and two daughters, all grown.

Selection of Permanent Head.

Eagleton disclosed to the audience of representatives of civic and teachers' organizations that the board members already had agreed on the plan to have six educators of national reputation recommended for the superintendency by George R. Throop, chancellor of Washington University; the Rev. Harry B. Crimmins, S. J., president of St. Louis University, and Frederick A. Middlebush, president of the University of Missouri.

When this advisory group reports, the board will welcome comments from interested citizens, Eagleton continued, explaining that the board had been compelled to "take quick and decisive action."

Dr. Hofmeister promised that the board would "find the very best man," and that the public could make suggestions to the advisory committee, but that it would be too complicated to have civic organizations participate in the formal recommendations. Member Baron said the board was not shirking responsibility but adopted the advisory method to find the best man.

Mrs. Senseney, Mrs. George Gellhorn and Mrs. Laura S. Edwards congratulated the board on its handling of the situation. Prof. Reals expressed confidence in the assistant superintendents. A motion to request the advisory group to act was carried unanimously.

$2000 Voted for Audit.

An appropriation of $2000 for the audit of the special trust and relief funds which were under Gerling's exclusive control, but which the board had taken over from him earlier yesterday, was voted by the board. It has been started already by Boyd, Cronk & Co., which recently completed a general check of all school departments, reporting many things wrong. Time for the new audit was estimated at three weeks. A member of the auditing firm said to a Post-Dispatch reporter that the number of funds to be covered was not specified, as whatever intermingled accounts were encountered would be examined.

Baron remarked that, if R. W. Hibbert, director of books, supplies and equipment under Gerling, was "really interested in education," he would waive his objection to having his personal bank account inspected by Boyd, Cronk & Co. and save the board the $3500 fee of another auditing firm for this purpose. Hibbert, who was not present, has been under inquiry because of two unexplained checks deposited in his account and his relationships with various interests dealing with the board through him.

Change in Handling Textbooks.

After disposing of the Gerling resignation, the board directed the Supply Department to maintain complete records of all textbooks, in order to eliminate inefficiency and a division of responsibility in this matter between the Supply and Instruction Departments. Formerly, the handling of elementary textbooks was under supervision of the Supply Department and the high school books under the Instruction Department.

The board also expressed approval of the new system for the selection of books, recently approved by the Superintendent of Instruction, assistant superintendents and the auditors, which is expected to overcome the auditors' criticism of inefficiency and objectional practices.

The new plan provides that the assistant superintendents furnish the names of teachers and principals they feel are qualified to pass on the merits of textbooks in a particular course. The Superintendent of Instruction will select a committee from those recommended, and each member will be given a copy of the revised or next text for review.

Each Member to File Report.

Each member will file a report, submitting first, second and third choice and reasons. A combined committee choice will be submitted to the Superintendent of Instruction for approval. If he selects a text other than that recommended he will have to give his reasons in writing.

The board also directed its attorney, Emmet T. Carter, to work out with Supply Commissioner James J. Lee form contracts covering the purchase of books, which will require publishers to give six months' notice of text revisions and to guarantee the supply of a certain number of replacements, if desired.

At the suggestion of William Susanka, the board's auditor, a complete inventory will be made of all school library books. There has never been an adequate accounting of these books, and the inventory will show what books are on hand and form the basis of regular audits to be made in the future.

Baron questioned the auditors about their report of 101,000 "missing books." Ernest Boyd, partner in the auditing firm, asserted the report stated these books were unaccounted for and pointed out that they might have been included in books in the bindery or to be sold for waste, records of which were not kept. Supply Commissioner Lee said such records are now being made. Lee said the department was keeping complete records of the handling of desks and supplies.

SWEDISH VESSEL TORPEDOED OFF SCOTTISH COAST

Merchantman's Crew of 35 Saved — Second Scandinavian Ship to Be Reported Sunk in 2 Days.

STOCKHOLM, Jan. 20 (AP).—The torpedoing of the 6685-ton Swedish steamer Pajala off Scotland, was disclosed today by its owners. It was the second Scandinavian steamer reported sunk in the last two days by submarines.

The crew of 35 was rescued and taken to a Scottish harbor.

A cable message to the owner said the steamer was torpedoed without warning Thursday and sank in 25 minutes. It was on the way to Sweden from Buenos Aires with a cargo of corn.

Another Scandinavian ship was sunk, also on Thursday. It was the 1831-ton Canadian Reefer, of Danish registry, bound for the Mediterranean from Los Angeles. The crew of 26 was rescued. The Danish radio said it was sunk by a German submarine off Cape Finisterre, Spain.

Estonian Ship Sinks on Rocks After Russians Halt It.

LONDON, Jan. 20 (AP).—Exchange Telegraph (British News Agency) today reported from Copenhagen that the 944-ton Estonian steamer Kastor sank when it struck some rocks after it had been stopped by Russian warplanes in the Baltic Sea. The crew was reported saved.

3 SENTENCED TO DEATH FOR MURDER OF MAN, 64

Case of Three Chicago Youths Was First to Be Handled by Mixed Jury in Illinois.

CHICAGO, Jan. 20 (AP).—Three youths were sentenced today to die in the electric chair Feb. 23 for the murder of Viggo P. Petersen, 64 years old, in a tavern holdup last Oct. 13.

The case of Victor Wnukowski, 24, Henry Drewek, 22, and Frank Michalowski, 25, was the first involving the death penalty to be considered by mixed jury of men and women in Cook County. They were convicted Dec. 9.

Jerry Mangano, 22-year-old murderer of a park policeman, sentenced yesterday is scheduled to be executed the same day.

Finns Lose Love of Sun and Moon Because They Bring Red Air Raids

By WADE WERNER

HELSINKI, Jan. 20 (AP).—What a difference a few air raids make!

Only a few weeks ago the Finns loved the sunshine and saw romance in the moonlit night. Now inhabitants of cities and towns curse clear skies and watch the rising moon with foreboding.

The Northern day is lengthening, and nobody likes it—longer days mean more daylight for Soviet Russian bombers. At night, Helsinki's blacked-out streets are treacherous with ice, but the blacker the night the safer. At least, it means one can sleep a few hours.

Bombings encourage early rising, of course, for enemy planes arrive at the start of day. In this underground haven in the basement of a hotel, I am meeting my fellow guests informally. One man is puling on his trousers just now in a big hotel kitchen refrigerator. Others are more publicly lacing their shoes. Women are tidying their hair, rubbing cold cream off their faces.

I finally bought one of those white snow camouflage capes—appropriately sold in masquerade departments of large stores. On manikins, they look smart. I thought one would give me the appearance of the Prophet Isaiah in a painting I had seen somewhere. Actually, it made me look like the family wash, all bundled up ready for the laundry.

It is amazing what persons will do to occupy themselves underground during an alarm. Some merely bite their fingernails nervously; others read books. Men seem to like conversation. Women generally prefer to knit in silence. One I watched was wrestling earnestly with a crossword puzzle!

Nervous individuals—usually foreigners—sit stiffly and count what they think are 200 detonations. Later they learn 199 of the "explosions" were doors slamming up stairs.

Six months more of this and our idea of a heavenly mansion will be a cave in the mountains—with iron shutters.

FRENCH ATTACK NAZIS IN 'SERIOUS COMBAT'

Fall Back to Own Lines Afterward, Paris Reports—German Plane Shot Down.

PARIS, Jan. 20 (AP).—Military sources said today French forces on the Western front had penetrated enemy territory and engaged in "serious combat" with German units.

The French withdrew after heavy automatic fire by both sides, military advices said, and succeeded in regaining their own lines, although some casualties were suffered.

The Allied communique reported a German warplane had been shot down behind French lines. Military advices said the plane was a Messerschmitt.

The communique said: "Sharp engagement between reconnaissance units on German territory in the region of the Blies River. An enemy fighter was brought down within our line Jan. 19."

Germans Report Capture of French Prisoners.

BERLIN, Jan. 20 (AP). — The German high command reported today the capture of several French prisoners in skirmishes on the Western front and the loss of one German plane in a battle over the French lines. The communique follows: "Between the Moselle and the Palatinate forest, a scouting group had a skirmish with a French reconnoitering force and took several prisoners. The air force conducted reconnaissance flights against Great Britain and France. During border patrol flights, air fights ensued over the French front lines. One German plane was lost. Scattered enemy planes in the night of Jan. 19-20 again entered Northwest Germany."

MORE BRITISH NIGHT FLIGHTS OVER GERMANY REPORTED

Ministry Releases for Publication Pictures of Fortifications It Says Airmen Took.

LONDON, Jan. 20 (AP).—The Air Ministry said today British flyers had made reconnaissance flights over northwest Germany last night and the night before.

"During the night of Thursday, Jan. 18, and again last night," the communique said, "units of the Royal Air Force carried out several reconnaissance flights over northwest Germany."

The Air Ministry, releasing for publication various pictures of German fortifications, airdromes and seaports purportedly by Royal Air Force photographers, said they left "little mystery about what goes on in the enemy camps."

Britain last night conducted the biggest air raid rehearsal to date in the five London boroughs south of the Thames. Two thousand air raid precaution workers fought makebelieve fires. Bombings and gas attacks in Battersea, Camberwell, Lambeth, Southwark and Wadsworth.

GOERING DECREES SEIZURE OF POLISH STATE PROPERTY

Order Is Basis of Introducing Four-Year Economic Program in Occupied Territory.

BERLIN, Jan. 20 (AP). — The official Law Gazette announced today that Field Marshal Gen. Hermann Wilhelm Goering, supreme war economic authority, had decreed confiscation of the entire property of the former Polish state.

The decree, issued Jan. 15, is effective immediately as a basis of introduction of the four-year economic program in the Eastern provinces and is in keeping with Fuehrer Hitler's ordinance of last Oct. 12 installing German administration for the occupied Polish regions.

District agents were ordered to report in detail on the status of properties in their areas within one month. Non-compliance is punishable by imprisonment and the death penalty may be invoked if "insubordination against political reorganization" is proved.

some sectors clashes of small units.

"In the Petrozavodsk direction, in the area of Kitela, our reconnoitering group annihilated an enemy battalion which left 26 machine guns on the spot.

"On the Karelian Isthmus, there were clashes of advance units. The enemy suffered numerous casualties.

"In a number of areas, our aviation made reconnoitering flights and bombed military objectives."

The Soviet soldier, meanwhile, has been ordered into intense ski training for warfare on the snows, War Commissar Klementi E. Voroshilov said in the newspaper On Guard.

"Trainees must not only learn how to fire under complicated conditions but also be able to solve independently any important problem in battle," he wrote.

Decorations were awarded to 164 Soviet soldiers and political workers by the Government "for carrying out in an exemplary manner battle tasks by the command on the front in the struggle against the Finnish White Guards."

SWEDES TAKE OWN EQUIPMENT TO WAR

By THOMAS F. HAWKINS

ROVANIEMI, Finland, Jan. 20 (AP).—Swedish volunteers in increasing numbers are participating in the defense of Finland on its northern fronts.

Swedish aviators have been active in engagements north of Lake Ladoga and in the Salla sector, just above the Arctic Circle, where 40,000 Soviet troops began a retreat Sunday.

About a thousand Swedish volunteers are said to be in Finland now, but most of them are still in training.

Finnish-Americans, Norwegian, Danes and Italians also are among the volunteer forces.

The Swedes are well equipped with their own skis, heavy sheepskin coats, guns, trucks and their own commanders. At present they are housed in barracks in Northern Finland. (Presumably the Swedish pilots are flying British-made planes, owned by Finland.)

Soviet bombing planes have been exceedingly active in Northern Finland in the last three days, during which the writer traveled to this town in Western Finland from the Eastern front.

Nearly every town from Lieksa north to Rovaniemi has been bombed or has seen planes pass over it in the last two days. The two towns are 280 miles apart by airline. Rovaniemi lies only 55 miles east of the Swedish border and 65 miles up Finland's northernmost railway from Kemi, on the Gulf of Bothnia. Lieksa, on the same rail line far to the south, 25 miles from the Russian border, is about 130 miles north of Lake Ladoga.

Kajaani and Nurmes, two towns on the rail line, were bombed and machine gunned without serious damage or casualty. The railway track was damaged at one point, but was repaired within two hours without halting any trains.

SUPPORT GROWS FOR EMBARGO AGAINST JAPAN, SAYS PITTMAN

Tokyo Must Abandon New-Order-in-Asia Policy if U. S. Is to Have Its Rights, He Asserts.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20 (AP).—Senator Pittman (Dem.), Nevada, asserted today that Japan would have to abandon its new-order-in-Asia policy if the United States is to have its due rights in Japanese-occupied China. Pittman is chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

The United States-Japanese treaty of amity and commerce will expire soon. Pittman said that sentiment was growing for his proposal to give the President authority to embargo shipments of raw materials to Japan.

TOKYO, Jan. 20 (AP). — The newspaper Asahi said today that after expiration of the trade treaty with the United States Jan. 26, Japan would continue to give American imports "most-favored nation" treatment and would levy no additional duties on them.

It said that since the Japanese understood the United States intended to refrain from applying extra duties to Japanese goods, trade would be unchanged in that respect, even in the absence of a treaty.

NORWEGIANS JOIN DANES IN SHOW OF UNITY IN NORTH

Copenhagen Declaration on Defense Echoed by Oslo Premier—Swedes Increasing Aid to Finns.

COPENHAGEN, Jan. 20 (AP).—Declarations of Norway and Denmark that they are prepared to defend their independence were regarded widely today as new evidence of Scandinavian solidarity.

Observers compared both, in tone at least, with the statement of Swedish Prerier Per Albin Hansson Thursday that "the idea of Northern collaboration is by no means shipwrecked."

The lower house of the Danish Parliament yesterday voted unanimously that Denmark's neutrality "must be maintained" and its independence defended. The pronouncement was intended partly to correct impressions left abroad by Premier Thovald Stauning, who had said in a New Year's broadcast Denmark might be unwilling to offer armed resistance in the event of attack.

Norwegian Support.

The Danish stand was echoed in Oslo by Prime Minister Johan Nygaardsvold, who told the Norwegian Parliament any attacks on that nation would be resisted.

Nygaardsvold did not expand his statement, but asserted that "the question of an all-party government as proposed by the left and the peasant party might be discussed when Norway has one task to do." Observers interpreted this as meaning the time for such discussion would be ripe when and if Norway had to defend itself.

The Norwegian Finance Ministry announced conclusion of an agreement to accept from the United States Reconstruction Finance Corporation a credit of $10,000,000 to be used by the end of 1941 for the purchase of American agricultural products. The credit will bear interest at 4 per cent and be repaid by the end of 1946.

The Danish press, with one voice, approved Parliament's vote. Some urged that the Government take steps to show it was in earnest.

"It was high time that the lower house was saying something," the National Tidende declared. "It was impossible to maintain an official Danish silence, especially after what happened in the rest of the North. . . .

"The real value of the resolution will be seen from what measures are taken now."

Swedish Private Aid.

Statistical evidence indicated the extent of private Swedish aid to Finland, including contributions of 62,000,000 kronor ($15,356,000) by Swedish industry and the equivalent of almost $10,000,000 by popular subscriptions.

Gifts of clothes, food, medicines and other necessaries have totaled 2000 tons so far. Each day at least four fully loaded freight cars leave Stockholm for Haparanda, on the Swedish-Finnish frontier, where 20 trucks driven by Swedish volunteers transport the goods to Finnish central storehouses.

The central organization of Swedish trade unions announced through President August Lindberg that Swedish workers would be sent to Finland as fast as possible. Lindberg has just returned from a week's survey in Finland.

The Stockholm labor newspaper Social Demokraten reported police had uncovered an elaborate espionage organization for the reporting of Swedish troop movements and industrial activities by short wave radio to an unnamed "foreign power." It said numerous arrests were made.

NETHERLANDS PROTESTS AGAIN TO GREAT BRITAIN

Finding of Leaflets Leads It to Believe English Planes Crossed Country.

AMSTERDAM, Jan. 20 (AP).—The Netherlands Government for the second successive day reported today it believed British planes had flown over Netherlands territory in darkness on propaganda missions to Germany and asked the British Government for an explanation.

Propaganda leaflets bearing British and French flags and addressed to the German people again were found on Netherlands soil.

One leaflet appealed directly to German workers to "fight for peace, freedom and human rights," and pictured trade unions and social and youth organizations as victims of Nazi violence.

Another leaflet explained the unified war efforts of Great Britain and France, which it said "with out any doubt will lead to victory."

GANDHI SEES A CHANCE FOR INDEPENDENCE FOR INDIA

BOMBAY, Jan. 20 (AP).—Mohandas K. Gandhi said today in his weekly newspaper a new pronouncement by Lord Linlithgow, Viceroy of India, "seems to contain germs of a settlement" of Indian demands for independence.

Gandhi wrote, however, there were "undoubted snags" in the Viceroy's assurance Jan. 11 that Britain was ready to consider any practical suggestion for Indian independence which had general support.

Britain had asked for delay of discussions of independence until after the European war.

Reports from Wardha indicated Gandhi might seek an interview with the Viceroy in an effort to effect a possible compromise.

GERLING DROPPED $1185 IN ONE DEAL WADE MADE $665

Ex-Broker Discloses Client's Loss on 'Little Hot Rock' Bonds, Handled Through Murphy.

SALES TO PERSONAL, SCHOOL ACCOUNTS

Regional Administrator at Chicago Says SEC Will Investigate Three Men's Transactions.

Another deal in unlisted securities in which Henry J. Gerling lost $1185, while Festus J. Wade Jr. & Co. made a profit of $665 was disclosed yesterday when details of the "Little Hot Rocks" transaction were explained to the Post-Dispatch by Wade.

Gerling protested two months ago when the Post-Dispatch first called attention to the presence of the Little Rock & Hot Springs Railway bonds in the Pupils' Relief Fund. He said the bonds had already been disposed of, but did not say that his loss on the deal was $1185. The loss was 26.7 per cent; while Wade's profit was 17.6 per cent.

Asked whether the guarantee to Gerling against loss went into effect on that transaction, Wade said it did not because the guarantee covered only the principal and not individual deals. Thus, even though Gerling lost heavily on the transaction, while Wade gained, there was no repayment to Gerling to make up his loss.

Wade Gives Details of Deal.

Wade said he bought four of the bonds, with a face value of $4000, for $2410, or 60¼. He could not recall the date. Then he sold them to Gerling for the school man's personal account for $2565, or at 64⅛, on Aug. 29, 1933. Richard Murphy, School Board member, handled the entire transaction.

The market for the bonds began declining. Wade bought three more at 45, or $1350. Then he sold them to Gerling for the trustee account at 62, or $1860, on Feb. 18, 1935. A year and a half later, on Wade's advice, Gerling sold back five of the bonds to Wade at 40, or $2000, July 24, 1936.

"I told Gerling to sell because the market was going down and it was time to run to cover," Wade related. That left two of the "Little Hot Rocks" in Gerling's hands. Wade said Murphy bought the two back at the purchase price, $1240.

Wade admitted that his fixing the price to Gerling at 64⅛ and 62 was what caused his customer's loss. The bonds are down to about 10 or 12 today.

SEC to Go Into Transactions.

Meanwhile, W. McNeil Kennedy, regional administrator of the Securities and Exchange Commission, reached by telephone in Chicvago, said that he would look into the Wade-Murphy-Gerling deals. "We don't have to have a law violation spelled out for us before we decide to get to the bottom of it," he said. The Wade firm went out of business in 1937.

Charles F. Ford, partner in A. G. Edwards & Sons, pointed out that although records of the Pupils' Relief Fund showed a purchase by Gerling of 50 shares of Phelps-Dodge stock on Jan. 25, 1937, the purchase was actually made Jan. 22. The stock was bought at 56 on Gerling's order and he specified the price, Ford said. On that day the high for the stock was 56½ and the low 55½. Thus the stock was sold at market value. Two other stock transactions with the A. G. Edwards firm by Gerling for the Pupils' Relief Fund were also at market prices.

Ford said: "All of the purchases and sales of securities made by Dr. Gerling through us were at the regular market price. All of the purchases and sales made by him through us were of listed securities except in two instances, and on such listed securities we received no compensation except the regular commissions prescribed by the rules of the stock exchanges on which the securities were listed.

"In five instances the purchases or sales were of odd lots and therefore the local custom of charging a minimum commission of $5 was applied. The two instances with reference to unlisted securities were the sale on July 11, 1933, by Dr. Gerling of $2000 Wisconsin River Power 5s of 1941 for $1829.44, which was the regular market price of said securities, and the commission received by us on the transaction amounted to $5. The other instance of unlisted securities was the sale by Dr. Gerling on April 20, 1937, of $2000 Chicago, Milwaukee & Gary Railroad first mortgage 5s, 1948, for $600, which was the regular market price of said securities at said time, and the compensation received by us was a commission of $6."

Other Transactions With Wade.

Wade, discussing his deals with Gerling, said he bought two Litchfield & Madison Railroad bonds at 75, or $1500 and sold them to Gerling for the personal account at 93, or $1860, March 21, 1933. That gave Wade a profit of $360, or 24 per cent.

Gerling sold one bond back to Wade Aug. 31, 1933, at 73, or $730. Gerling's loss was $200, or 21.5 per cent. Wade said he understood Gerling held the second bond until the railroad redeemed it at $1000, giving him a profit of $70. Gerling's net loss on the two bonds was $130, or 14 per cent, Wade said.

Auditor William Susanka's records of the Pupils' Relief Fund showed that two Litchfield & Madison bonds were bought for $1860 Feb. 11, 1933. The market value was $1440 that day.

Wade bought 100 shares of Southern Natural Gas "B" for $712.50 and sold them to Gerling for his personal account for $800 on May 3, 1937. Wade's profit was $87.50. A month later, on June 6, 1937, Gerling transferred the stock to the Pupils' Relief Fund, selling it at $800, the price he paid. Wade said he learned later Gerling sold the stock through another broker last Dec. 23 for $775, a loss of $25.

Mobile Bay Bridge Bonds.

Wade bought two Mobile Bay bridge bonds for $1095 and sold one to Gerling for his personal account for $600 Sept. 23, 1935, and the other at the same price to Gerling Dec. 2, 1935. Thus Gerling paid $1200 in all, giving Wade a profit of $105.

A year later Gerling sold both bonds to the Pupils' Relief Fund account for $1200, the price he paid. On Aug. 17, 1937, Wade bought both back for $930. Thus Gerling and the Pupils' Relief Fund lost $270, or 22.5.

In several instances the Wade company not only made a profit on sales to Gerling but took the bonds back, at some advance over the sale price to Gerling, and then sold them on the market for a still higher price, thus realizing another profit.

In one deal the company bought two $1000 bonds of the Shreveport Bridge & Terminal Co. for $1325 and sold them to Gerling for $1500, a profit of $175 to the company. Later the company bought them back from Gerling for $1620, held them six months and sold them on the market for $1700, making an additional profit of $80. Thus, while Gerling made $120, the company made two profits totaling $255.

In 1933 the company sold to Gerling for $1000 two bonds of the Denver & Salt Lake Railroad, which it had bought for $780, realizing a profit of $220. It took the bonds back May 8, 1935, for $1500 and sold them the same day for $1520, taking an additional profit of $20.

Murphy sold about $150,000 in stocks and bonds to Gerling for at least two relief fund accounts in nine years. Murphy received half the profits on the deals and a share of the firm's earnings as a stockholder, Wade said.

Wade said he thought Gerling's stock and bond holdings had earned about $8000 in interest and that Gerling had also made a net profit of $3687 on resales in 35 deals.

"I felt that I ought to make $1.50 or $2 to every dollar profit that Gerling made," Wade said. On the 35 deals, Wade said, his own profit was $7685.

Murphy's Statement Disputed.

William H. Taussig, member of the local committee on rules of fair practice of the National Association of Security Dealers, said that the price at which unlisted securities are sold should have a definite relation to market value. He said Murphy's statement that brokers bought such securities as low as possible and sold them at prices as high as possible was absolutely false.

Generally speaking, Taussig continued, a profit of 5 per cent, or $250 on a $5000 trade, would be a large one and would only be proper if a good deal of work was entailed in the sale. He pointed out the Wade firm was already out of business at the time the association of security dealers was formed a year ago. The association has self-policing powers.

Spectacular Fire on South Side

down. It threw me into the gutter and two big slabs of concrete pinned my legs fast. Lucky I wasn't unconscious, because the water in the gutter was up to my chin."

Meyer's son, Melvin, was in the crowd and he watched the spot where his father was buried. He held his father's head up as other firemen began to lift off the smoking debris. Meyer was carried first into a butcher shop across the street and then to the lobby of the Cinderella Theater. Here his soaked clothes were stripped off. Later on Meyer discovered that someone had stolen his helmet and heavy raincoat.

Other firemen who were almost completely submerged in the wreckage were Lieut. Edward O'Neil, Edward Haltinner, Frank Kratky and Robert Sack.

Spectators Disperse.

A large group had been watching the fire from the show window of the Dau Furniture Store, directly across the street. As the wall fell there was a mad scramble from the window. Chairs and floor lamps were bowled over as the men and women hurried to get to the rear of the store.

The fire attracted a large crowd of onlookers, very few of whom got close enough to the burning building to see what was going on. When word spread that none of the firemen had been killed, the crowd turned the evening into a sort of carnival, and saloons and restaurants did a roaring business.

All of the eating places in the neighborhood sent out large cans and buckets of steaming coffee for the firemen. One youth walked around with a whisky bottle and asked anyone with a helmet or a badge: "Want a schluck?"

Mayor Encourages Firemen.

Mayor Dickmann, dressed in a polo coat, moved about among the firemen, patting them on the back and lending encouragement. Later on he went to City Hospital to talk with the injured firemen and then drove down to Alexian Brothers' Hospital to visit Capt. Daniel J. Finnegan, father of Prosecuting Attorney James P. Finnegan, who was suffering from shock and exposure.

For several hours the firemen appeared to be making little headway. When it seemed that one corner was out, the hoses were turned an another burning spot. But no sooner had the water been taken away, fire broke out again in the first spot. Cherokee street was filled with wateer, torn hoses, and a mass of charred wood and bricks.

Building 13 Years Old.

The building is owned by the Audrey Real Estate Co., which is controlled by Eugene A. and Harry Freund, brothers, who have put up many structures in the Cherokee street district. Harry Freund, who lives at 6253 Alexander drive, Clayton, estimated the loss to the building at $175,000 to $200,000. The structure is 13 years old.

Mandel said the loss of his shoe stock would be about $20,000 and Herbert Schmidt, operator of the 10 bowling alleys in the basement, said each alley cost $3500 to install. The ballroom is operated by Arthur Kawell, who said he would lose about $3000 in furnishings.

The dance hall has been a mecca for swing fans and sometimes was filled with as many as 2000 persons. An orchestra directed by Little Jack Little was to play there tomorrow night.

List of Injured in Fire

Those injured last night in the fire at Cherokee street and Iowa avenue:

Frank Kratky, 3647 Gravois avenue, Engine Company 21, cuts of the hand.

Lieut. Fred Meyer, 400 West Davis street, Engine Company 3, fractured right foot and exposure. Serious.

Capt. Daniel J. Finnegan, 6735 Bradley avenue, Engine Company 44, shock and exposure.. Serious.

Capt. Joseph Olinger, 3508 Tennesee avenue, Engine Company 38, shock, exposure and a heart attack.

Joseph Klopmeyer, 5121 Rosa avenue, Hook and Ladder 14, exhaustion and exposure.

Martin Eckrich, 4466 Bingham, a policeman, contusions of the back and neck.

Fred Arbogast, 3453 Iowa avenue, a bystander, scalp wounds.

Val J. Obman, 3879 Alberta avenue, a bystander, fractured left wrist.

Ralph Ackerman, 6308 South Rosebury avenue, burns of the hands.

Ray Haddock, 2701 South Seventh street, a city employe, cuts on the face and neck.

The following firemen were injured when their engine collided with a truck at Broadway and Delmar boulevard as they were moving up to replace an engine which had gone to the fire:

Charles Neudeck, 5108 Lotus avenue, severe back injuries. Serious.

Charles Siatta, 4527 Lexington avenue, cuts on the face.

15 INJURED, 100 SHAKEN UP WHEN TRAINS COLLIDE IN OHIO

New York Central Limited From St. Louis in Crash Near Cleveland.

CLEVELAND, Jan. 20 (AP).—New York Central officials today blamed a misjudgment of distance for a collision of two passenger trains which shook up nearly 100 persons, injured 13 slightly, and sent two to hospitals.

The Cincinnati section of the road's southwestern limited, running from St. Louis to New York, crashed into the rear of the Commodore Vanderbilt (Chicago to Boston) which had stopped for an inspection of sticking brakes, last night at nearby Wickliffe.

August Austin of Chicago, a dining car employe, suffered internal and back injuries, and Ellsworth Harris of Springfield, O., a United States army private, shoulder injuries. Several other persons were treated at the scene and 100 passengers were examined and given aid at the Cleveland Terminal before boarding other trains.

PORTLAND, Ind., Jan. 19 (AP).—Two woman passengers, four railroad employes and a mail clerk were injured yesterday in the collision of a westbound passenger train and an eastbound freight train on the Nickel Plate Railroad, near Blaine, Ind.

Charles Henry Lee Dies.

HARTFORD, Conn., Jan. 20 (AP).—Charles Henry Lee, 68 years old, former vice-president of Kiwanis International, died here yesterday.

WILLIAM GREEN TO ADDRESS E. ST. LOUIS UNIONS TONIGHT

William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, will address a mass meeting of East St. Louis labor union members tonight at Ainad Temple, under the auspices of the East St. Louis Central Trades and Labor Union.

Green will confer with St. Louis AFL leaders at Hotel Jefferson before going to the East Side. He will be guest of honor at a dinner at the Broadview Hotel at 6 o'clock. Following his appearance at the mass meeting he will return to the Broadview to install the newly-elected officers of the East St. Louis Central Trades and Labor Union. James Showalter, a hoisting engineer, is the new president of the East Side central labor body.

MAN INJURED WHEN TRAIN HIT TRUCK DIES IN HOSPITAL

Henry Spirtas, Belleville Furniture Dealer, Suffered Skull Fracture.

Henry Spirtas, owner of a Belleville second-hand furniture store, died today at St. Elizabeth's Hospital of injuries suffered yesterday when his truck was struck by a Louisville & Nashville passenger train at Swansea, in St. Clair County.

Spirtas, 56 years old, was married and resided at 423 West Main street, where he had his store.

LITTLE RELIEF FROM COLD IN SIGHT FOR CITY

Lowest During Night 7 Above—Surplus Food Allotments to Needy by State Increased.

Continued cold weather was in prospect for St. Louis today, with a temperature of about 4 degrees forecast for tonight and no substantial rise likely in the next few days.

W. J. Moxom, meteorologist at the Weather Bureau, said that a high-pressure area which brought the cold wave had settled down over the central and eastern part of the United States, and that near-zero weather would continue until it had moved on or been dissipated. There was no sign of a breaking up of the high this morning.

The lowest temperature in St. Louis overnight was 7 degrees above zero—considerably above the 12-below of yesterday, but still bitter cold. Some other cities in Missouri were even colder, with 5 degrees below zero reported at Clinton.

Yesterday's extremely low temperatures, which set a 10-year record here, had moved on into the southeast. Temperatures were below freezing as far south as Brownsville, Tex., and Jacksonville, Fla., and approached close to zero in parts of Georgia and other Southeastern states.

Steps to Aid Needy.

Steps to meet the acute relief problem caused here by the continued cold, which has kept 11,000 WPA workers idle and without pay since Dec. 22, were taken today following release of a $100,000 emergency fund by the State Social Security Commission on order of Gov. Lloyd C. Stark yesterday.

Hubert Harris, administrator of the St. Louis Social Security Commission, said that the staff in the application office at 2221 Locust street had been augmented by social workers from private agencies who volunteered their services through the Social Planning Council, and that efforts were being made to assist as rapidly as possible "all who are in need of emergency care."

The office here has received no definite allotment from the $100,000 State fund, but has been instructed to meet any emergencies which arise. The money will be expended for food and coal.

In the county, the relief administration has been instructed to spend up to $2500 extra. In addition, the St. Louis County Court yesterday made available a fund sufficient to purchase a half ton of coal for about 600 of the families whose income stopped when the weather interfered with WPA work.

Food Allotments Increased.

A 50 per cent increase in Federal surplus commodity allotments, to remain in effect for the duration of the cold spell, was announced at Jefferson City by State Administrator George I. Haworth. Haworth said he had received authority from Washington to increase grants to families from $8.16 to $12.24 worth of the commodities.

Private agencies also enlarged their facilities. The Rev. James P. Johnston, head of the Father Dempsey Charities, said that shelter would be provided for as many men and women "as the walls will hold" at the Father Dempsey Hotel at 1417 Hogan street.

Highways in Missouri and Illinois were reported safe except in the extreme northern parts of the states, but motorists continued to have trouble with frozen radiators, weakened batteries and congealed oil. The Automobile Club of Missouri office here had 900 calls for assistance from members yesterday.

Only one serious fall was reported here yesterday and this morning. Roger York Jr., a machinist, 5465A Cote Brilliante avenue, was taken to City Hospital suffering from an ankle injury, believed to be a fracture, after falling in the 5400 block of Easton avenue.

Overheated furnaces caused an unusually large number of fires. There were 93 fire alarms in the 24 hours ended at midnight, compared with the average of 25 for such a period, and seven more in the next eight hours.

River Frozen at St. Charles.

The Missouri River was frozen across at St. Charles today, for the first time since January, 1936. There also was heavy ice in the Mississippi River.

Maintenance crews of the City Water Department have been working overtime to repair an unusually large number of leaks in mains caused by contraction of pipes due to the cold. No serious breaks have been reported, however, since Tuesday night, when a disabled main at Jefferson avenue and Accomac street left a six-block area without water for 12 hours.

The department has learned of more than 100 cases in which surface pipe connections from mains to residences have frozen and burst, causing single homes to be without water from two to eight hours. These pipes are not property of the department and must be repaired by home-owners.

One effect of the cold has been to increase prices charged for coal by some of the larger dealers here, in some cases as much as 75 cents a ton. Walter Muckerman, director of the St. Louis division of the City Ice & Fuel Co., said the increases were made necessary by interference by the weather with mining operations and higher costs of distribution.

THREE CONVICTED OF RELIEF FRAUD IN ST. CLAIR CASE

Albert Ulrich, Deposed Director, and Two Sisters Found Guilty by Jury at Belleville.

Albert Ulrich, deposed relief director of Centerville Township in St. Clair County, and his two sisters, Mrs. Louise Ulrich Reiff and Miss Josephine Ulrich, were found guilty of falsifying township relief records by a jury in Circuit Judge Maurice V. Joyce's court at Belleville today.

The punishment provided by law is an indeterminate prison term of one to seven years. The jury, which had received the case shortly after noon, deliberated about an hour and a half and took four ballots before reaching its verdict.

Testimony was completed last night with the appearance of 17 character witnesses for the defendants. These included public officials of Centerville Township, East St. Louis and St. Clair County. Among them were Postmaster E. P. Klein and City Judge Ralph Cook of East St. Louis; St. Clair County Judge Joseph E. Fleming; Sheriff D. A. Prindable; County Auditor Robert W. Tiernan, and State Representative Frank Holten. There were also two Negro ministers.

Charge Against Three.

Ulrich and his sisters were charged specifically with using township relief funds to pay a $50 dental bill incurred by Miss Ulrich and charged tot he relief account of a Negro, Henry Nunn.

Testimony for the State had been that Dr. Irene Waters, East St. Louis dentist, treated Miss Ulrich and received a $50 relief check, together with a disbursing order which when signed would indicate that Nunn received the treatment. Dr. Waters sent back the money, the unsigned order and a note that no treatmnt had been given Nunn.

In rebuttal testimony yesterday, Mrs. Tille Toth, former relief administrator, denied she had ever had possession of the check and that she had put it in her bankbook. Ulrich had previously testified that he found the check in Mrs. Toth's bankbook in her desk.

Denials by Ulrich.

He testified also that Mrs. Toth was "the boss" of the office and wrote all the checks, which he signed in blank on his weekly visits to the office. He said he had not seen any records on the Nunn case until the trial began nor had he told Dr. Waters the $50 check sent her was for payment of his sister's bill.

He denied making two statements attributed to him by Mrs. Toth. One was: "You see if Dr. Waters will accept a relief check. I might as well get some benefit out of this relief, anyway." The other was: "I'll just charge it to some Negro; they never know what they're getting anyway."

Miss Ulrich, who is employed in the cafeteria of the Monsanto Chemical Co., has contended that she paid Dr. Waters' bill out of her own money, on the installment plan. Mrs. Reiff, who handled all small medical and dental cases of the relief office, has denied she wrote the disbursing order showing that Nunn had received treatment.

Basis of Indictment.

Ulrich and his sisters were indicted after an investigation by the Illinois Emergency Relief Commission, made at the instance of State Representative Calvin D. Johnson of Belleville. He assembled much of the evidence which the Illinois Relief Commission subsequently used and took it to Attorney-General John Cassidy, who assigned an assistant, Timothy Sullivan, to conduct the prosecution.

An earlier investigation by the Relief Commission, in December, 1938, disclosed that more than one-third of the families on the Centerville Township relief rolls were ineligible.

PATROLMAN KILLS TWO, THEN IS SHOT TO DEATH

Fires on Wife and Daughter of Police Sergeant Who Then Fatally Wounds Him.

CHELSEA, Mass., Jan. 20 (AP).—Threatened with disciplinary action, Patrolman John A. Price, 46 years old, forced his way into the home of his superior, Sergt. Herbert J. Hannabury, 44, early today, shot Hannabury's wife and daughter and then fell dead himself from a shot from Hannabury's service pistol.

Mrs. Helen Hannabury, 44, died at once and later her 12-year-old daughter, Virginia, died at a hospital.

Lieut. Edward Forbes reported that Hannabury and Price had an argument shortly before they went off duty at 12:30 a. m. and that Hannabury threatened to prefer charges against Price unless he filed a report on a certain police matter.

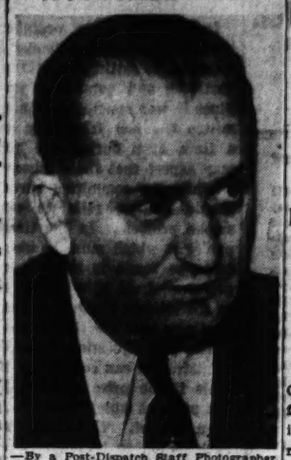

ENGINEERS FINED FOR SPEEDING

Plead Guilty of Operating Trains Too Fast at Wichita, Kan.

WICHITA, Kan., Jan. 20 (AP).—Five railroad engineers pleaded guilty of train speeding yesterday and were fined from $11.90 to $26.90.

The summonses were issued after a grade crossing crash last month in which four members of a family were killed. A city ordinance fixes a 15-mile-an-hour maximum for trains.

LLOYD E. GREATHOUSE

L. E. GREATHOUSE DIES, ILL FOR TWO DAYS

He Was Regional WPA Administrator—Funeral Services Monday.

Lloyd E. Greathouse, WPA Administrator for St. Louis and St. Louis County since 1937, WPA executive here since project work was established in 1935, died at St. Luke's Hospital early today after two days' illness, probably, physicians said, of heart disease.

Mr. Greathouse, who was 47 years old, became ill Thursday morning at his home, 7700 Shirley drive, Clayton. He was taken to the hospital yesterday.

When the WPA was set up in July, 1935, Mr. Greathouse, a graduate of the University of Missouri in civil engineering and long experienced in construction work, was made deputy administrator here under Joseph Amend.

Their task, beginning Aug. 1 that year, was to transfer unemployed persons capable of working from direct relief to work projects which had to be drawn up, figured and approved within a limited time. By the end of November the initial task was completed and 25,000 unemployed were at work in this area. Now 17,500 are assigned to projects in St. Louis and the County, and the total has reached 36,500.

Mr. Greathouse became administrator in 1937 when Amend resigned to return to private business. When appointed in 1935, he was an engineer for the Joseph Kesl & Sons Construction Co. of Edwardsville and St. Louis.

Following graduation from the University of Missouri, he was employed by the State Highway Department, eventually serving as assistant division engineer in the Kirkwood and De Soto divisions. Later he was employed by the St. Louis Construction Co. and, before going to the Kesl firm, the C. P. O'Reilly Construction Co. of St. Louis.

Surviving are his wife, who was Miss Lyda Lake of Hannibal; his mother, Mrs. Drucilla Greathouse, who resides at the family home near Monroe City, Ralls County; two brothers and two sisters.

The funeral will be held at 9 a. m. Monday at the Bopp Chapel, Forsythe boulevard and Hanley road, Clayton, with burial Monday afternoon at Monroe City.

OSCAR F. FUNK SUES UNION ELECTRIC FOR $300,000 DAMAGES

litical activities. The SEC exercised jurisdiction because Union Electric is a subsidiary of the North American Co., one of the large holding companies registered with the SEC under the Federal Holding Company Act.

Among the latest disclosures were those made to the SEC by Hermann Spoehrer, for more than 30 years secretary of the company, concerning a slush fund of about $85,000 derived from cash refunds to the company on insurance policies. These sums were not entered in the company's books, but were turned over to an officer superior to Spoehrer, and disposition of the money was not shown in company records.

Martin Put on Probation.

Fred J. Martin, a rural sales engineer for the company, who was sentenced to six months in jail and fined $501, Jan. 3, on his plea of guilty to perjury charges in connection with his testimony to SEC examiners, was placed on probation for two years by United States District Judge George H. Moore today. The fine was paid when he pleaded guilty.

In City Jail since Jan. 3, Martin has been visited there frequently by SEC investigators. The order of probation was made after Judge Moore had received the report of Probation Officer Milton Weiffenbach. The company will pay Martin's salary for the rest of this month, but has not determined his future status.

Another employe, Albert C. Laun, is under indictment on a similar charge.

Laun, who was vice-president in charge of the real estate and tax department, was the company's ace lobbyist for many years. He was removed from his official position at the same time Egan and Boehm were, but was paid his regular salary of $16,800 a year until Jan. 1 when his pay was reduced to $1250 a month. The perjury charge against him is on the trial docket in United States District Court but the date has not been set.

BULK OF $100,000 ESTATE LEFT TO HOME FOR BOYS

Mrs. Carroll's Will Names Thomas Dunn Shelter—Its Managers Never Heard of Her.

The will of Mrs. Theresa Helm Carroll, who died last Sunday, was filed in Probate Court today, leaving the bulk of her estate, estimated at $100,000, to the Thomas Dunn Memorial Home for Boys, 325 North Ewing avenue.

Mrs. Carroll, who was 74 years old, died at Ft. Smith, Ark., while visiting relatives. She was the widow of Martin Carroll, former manager of the Washington Hotel. Previously she had been married to George Wood.

When a Post-Dispatch reporter called the Dunn Memorial Home for information about her, he was told that Mrs. Carroll was not known there. Miss Etta Manley of the Winston Churchill Apartments, a niece of Thomas Dunn, who founded the home, told the reporter that the home was established in Mr. Dunn's memory and that, as far as she knew, it did not accept bequests. She said she did not know Mrs. Carroll.

She said Mrs. Carroll might have intended the money for Father Dunne's Newsboys' Home, which is just a block away from the Dunn Memorial Home.

Mrs. Carroll was a Catholic and made two bequests to Catholic institutions.

These were a gift of $8000 the Missouri Province Education Institute for the education of Jesuit scholastics and one of $500 to the Little Sisters of the Poor, 3400 Joseph White, a trust officer of the Mercantile-Commerce Bank & Trust Co. and a member of the board of directors of the Thomas Dunn Home, said that he knew of no previous occasion on which the home had received a bequest. He said he knew of no provision barring a bequest, however.

White added that there had been "frequent mix-ups" between the Thomas Dunn and Father Dunne's homes.

Mrs. Carroll's will made bequests of $500 each to four brothers, two sisters, a nephew, and a cousin. It directed that two small trust funds be established, one to give her brother, William Heim of Fort Smith an income of $300 a year and another to give her sister, Miss Barbara Heim, also of Fort Smith, a yearly income of $120.

For the last two years Mrs. Carroll had lived at the Melbourne Hotel.

PAYS FOR VALENTINE TAKEN FROM STORE 25 YEARS AGO

Woman Tells of Act as Child, Sends Nickel "to Settle Matter Between Me and God."

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., Jan. 20 (AP).—It was a pretty valentine. The little girl didn't have 5 cents to pay for it, so she took it while the storekeeper's head was turned.

That was 25 years ago. The storekeeper sold out in 1919. Now the storekeepers' daughter, Mrs. Grace Carter, has received a letter, with a nickel inclosed, from the woman who was the little girl.

"I am writing to settle a little matter between me and God," said the letter, unsigned.

G. O. P. MEETING IN CHICAGO

Twelve State Chairmen Called to Meet by Illinois Leader.

CHICAGO, Jan. 20 (AP).—A. K. Stiles, Republican State Chairman for Illinois, announced last night that the party's chairmen from 12 other midwestern states have been asked to meet him here tomorrow to "consider a proposition which should have the support of all Republican leaders."

Except to say it was non-factional, Stiles did not disclose the matter to come before the conference. Chairman Mattingly of the Missouri Republican Committee is one of those who have accepted invitations to the conference.

THE POST-DISPATCH PLATFORM

I know that my retirement will make no difference in its cardinal principles; that it will always fight for progress and reform, never tolerate injustice or corruption, always fight demagogues of all parties, never belong to any party, always oppose privileged classes and public plunderers, never lack sympathy with the poor, always remain devoted to the public welfare, never be satisfied with merely printing news, always be drastically independent, never be afraid to attack wrong, whether by predatory plutocracy or predatory poverty.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

A Game of Power Politics.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

I HAVE seen press dispatches from Paris which indicate that the Communist party has been outlawed in France and that all Deputies who will not renounce that party have been expelled from the Chamber of Deputies, to which they were duly elected as Communists by certain elements of the French electorate.

Pro-Allied propaganda is continually directed at the people of this nation, seeking to convince us that the current struggle in Europe is a fight between "democracies" on the one hand and "totalitarian states" on the other. The very essence of democracy is a republican, representative form of government, wherein the voters select by ballot certain of their number to sit in a deliberative body for the purpose of making law and policy for the country.

Suppose Earl Browder could find enough deluded voters in his home State of Kansas to elect him to Congress. Suppose, then, that Congress should by edict "outlaw" his party and expel him from the seat to which the electors of Kansas had sent him. Would this be a democracy?

I am not a Communist. I do not travel with Communists or with Fascists. The only "ism" to which I subscribe is Americanism. However, I feel that Americans should recognize the European war for just what it is—another move in the great game of European power politics, which has been played by all Continental Powers for centuries, which has been characterized all along by complete cynicism, utter faithlessness and entire disregard of all moral and honest virtues.

England and France have shown no more regard for simple morality in their moves on the international stage than has Germany or Russia. All these countries are tarred with the same brush. None of them is at the present time in any sense a democracy, and not one of them, or the system of government which it espouses, is worth one drop of American blood, one foot of American soil or even the value of one WPA worker's check.

WILLIAM L. MASON JR.

What Smoke Has Done to Mr. Hoxie.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

A LOT of persons in the locality of St. Louis say they do not like its atmosphere, but I must admit that it soots me.

JAMES L. HOXIE.

At Fault in the School Board Mess.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

WE have nobody but ourselves to blame for our School Board mess. Nearly every church and club has a group studying education. Parent-teacher groups are innumerable, and so are political organizations. Why are they too disinterested to check on their own housekeeping? At many an open meeting of the School Board, no organization is represented except the League of Women Voters.

Public opinion can accomplish anything it wants to. Starting out with the a priori assumption that nobody is perfect, checking on our leaders ruthlessly and intelligently, helping them wherever and whenever we are qualified, we will produce leaders we are not ashamed to support.

Our School Board 's the measure of ourselves.

EDNA WAHLERT McCOURT.

His Nominations for 1940.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

AN intelligent combination for the next presidential election would be:

Hull for President.

LaGuardia for Vice-President.

Or vice versa. This represents a combination for safety of American democracy and for progress.

JOHN BUSH.

City of Blackouts.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

THIS is the city of blackouts. Greater than the smoke blackout is the blackout of truth and justice.

This is the town where some people cough their heads off and then have enough breath left to say, "Blackouts have been mainly due to atmospheric conditions."

This is the place where a justice blackout allows school relief funds to be snowbound in stocks while teachers dig in their pockets for student breakfast money, where "non-profit" lunches furnish $17,500 for speculation purposes.

Truth is on the march, however. The truth about smoke, the school system and the unorthodox practices of our utilities will soon shine through the blackout. "Let there be light!"

I. C. LIGHT.

Europe's Perennial Dream.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

THE photograph I am inclosing (showing Dr. Stresemann of Germany pleading at the Geneva conference for the formation of a United States of Europe) appeared in the Post-Dispatch, I believe, about eight or 10 years ago.

Strange, isn't it, that today's opponents of Germany should advance as one of their major war aims the very thing Germany herself advocated a decade before—a United States of Europe?

Will Chamberlain and Daladier be any more successful than Dr. Stresemann? I fear not.

PRICE IS ALL-IMPORTANT.

In contrast to the ordinary easy-going group of its kind, the Mayor's Smoke Elimination Committee seems to be setting something of a record in its industrious and persistent pursuit of its objectives. Since it was appointed, a month or so ago, the committee has met frequently and for many hours at a time, even during the holidays, and the public may expect that these labors will bear fruit.

While the committee burns the midnight oil, we should like to reiterate certain ideas about the smoke problem. In the first place, the underlying principle which must be observed if a real solution is to be found is this: A smokeless fuel or fuels, processed from Illinois coal, must be made available to the citizens of St. Louis at a price approximating that now paid for the cheapest form of smoky fuel.

The price question is all-important. No city administration can compel the people to buy smokeless fuels if the price of them is unreasonably beyond the price at which they can buy smoky fuels in the open market. The courts would undoubtedly hold such action to be oppressive—if it ever got to the courts. No ordinance, no matter how savagely worded, would be enforceable unless smokeless fuels at a low price were available. You cannot prosecute 130,000 citizens, and no city administration would ever dare to try it.

In its editorial of Nov. 16, the Post-Dispatch mentioned among smokeless fuels gas, oil, coke, petroleum coke and a coke made from Illinois coal known as Carbonite or Solarite. The last fuel was mentioned because it meets two of the necessary specifications—it is smokeless and it is processed from Illinois coal. It fails by far, however, to meet the price specification. The present retail price of this fuel is completely out of the question for smoke elimination purposes. We made this suggestion:

> Let the city approach the miners and manufacturers of all smokeless fuels and offer to purchase their fuel by contract over a reasonable term of years. Let the miners and manufacturers state their prices and terms. Let the city select from these fuels that with the lowest price, stressing in these negotiations that this is not an ordinary business proposition but one calling for vision on the city's part and the absence of a greed for undue profits on the sellers' part.
> The city, in making any contracts with private manufacturers or miners for smokeless fuel, should give the price question the severest scrutiny. If it tries to unload a high-priced fuel on the people, the cause of smoke elimination is sunk.
> The price, we repeat, must approximate that now paid for the cheapest form of smoky fuel.

Well, anyhow, whether as Administrator, or Trustee or just plain Henry, he was a blue-chip customer.

NO MORE LONELY ISLANDS.

A group of 21 "streamlined pioneers" is headed for a deserted island in the West Indies, to lead a simple, pastoral life, and all of us, harassed by the complexities of a frenzied age, will wish them well. But the good wishes must be mixed with doubt, for life on a remote island isn't what it used to be in the placid days of Robinson Crusoe or the Swiss Family Robinson.

Those early castaways had nothing to occupy them but rustling food and shelter, watching for a sail and reading a book or two salvaged from the wreck. Nowadays, there's the radio, which puts the most distant listener smack at the ringside of astonishing events, capable of shattering the calm of the most serene paradise. An inland spot is far more isolated today than a forgotten island, for the minute dots on maritime maps are favored sites for seaplane bases and submarine refueling. With naval warfare sprawling all over the world's oceans, the 21 settlers on East Caicos Island may find their siestas wrecked any day by another battle of Montevideo.

Shangri-La probably has a full house by this time, which leaves the Ozark caves as the best place to get away from it all.

Contractor John J. Pryor, who left Kansas City yesterday to join the Leavenworth colony, will be remembered as the terrible-tempered Mr. Bang of the Pendergast machine.

WILLIAM EDGAR BORAH.

Integrity and independence were the two great virtues that set William Edgar Borah, the Lion of Idaho, far above most of his colleagues during his 33 years in the United States Senate. There were times when it was difficult for the Norrises, the La Follettes and the Johnsons—the senatorial spirits most akin to him—to understand the position he took, but never in his long career were his motives questioned.

He displayed this independence on his very entrance to the Senate. The machine Republicans were in the saddle then and riding high. They had perfunctorily scanned the record of the new member and found that he had prosecuted Haywood, Moyer and Pettibone, the I. W. W. leaders accused of the death of Gov. Steunenberg. Therefore they decided he was "safe" and gave him the chairmanship of the Committee on Education and Labor. Never were men so confounded as when he reported out bills for an eight-hour day, the creation of the Department of Labor, and for an investigation of conditions in the steel industry.

Borah's greatest triumph came when he, together with Hiram Johnson and Henry Cabot Lodge, took up the cudgels against President Wilson's proposal that the United States become a member of the League of Nations.

He was an orator in the grand manner. He commanded attention even in a Senate where there is scant respect for speech-making. In fact, often his only contribution to a cause was an oration. He was not, as a rule, one to do the detail work of following a bill through the legislative processes. But his oratory often captured attention and fanned enthusiasm so that a bill was all but passed when he sat down after his speech to wipe his brow in that studied way of his.

Borah's independence has at times been questioned. It has been said that he was always a Republican on election day. Perhaps that is slightly unfair. The classic example, of course, is his break with Roosevelt after the former President failed to win the nomination from Taft in 1912 and launched his Bull Moose campaign. Although Roosevelt himself seemed to have forgotten it, Borah, who had been in charge of his fight for delegates, had made his full support conditional on the winning of the nomination. He broke no pledges.

Borah at times was less than crystal clear to the other sons of the wild jackass. They looked always to the future. Borah looked to the Founding Fathers. Geography notwithstanding, he was more of a Hamiltonian Federalist than a pioneer of the New West. But to him the course was clear and he followed it without faltering.

THE FESTUS J. WADE DEALS.

The disclosures in St. Louis' unspeakable public school scandals are ramifying into previously unexplored territory. A major shock had not yet subsided—that caused by the exposure of Dr. Henry J. Gerling as a speculator with funds entrusted to him for needy children's relief—when the public encounters a new shock on learning that he had paid a broker unconscionably high prices for the bonds he purchased.

The figures on the outrageous profits made at the school funds' expense by this broker, Festus J. Wade Jr., and his admission that no other customer of his former firm had to pay such prices, were published in the Post-Dispatch yesterday. The exposure adds a grimly ironic touch to the sickening picture. The trickster, it now appears, was outtricked. The supposedly shrewd manipulator who secretly speculated with the children's relief funds is found to have paid double and triple in making his "investments."

Another name is tarnished by the exposures, a name long one of the most respected in the city's annals. To a disclosure of shocking practices in public office is added a disclosure of shocking practices in the marts of finance. Is it any wonder that the public is becoming dazed by the revelations as the probe goes deeper?

Now the Board of Education has accepted the resignation of Dr. Gerling as Superintendent, and has taken control of the six school funds, whose records and remaining assets have been turned in by Gerling. The secret Children's Relief Fund, it is disclosed, has shrunk from $6000 to $1379. What is the next step? Will the board be content simply to hold these records until they are handed over to a new custodian? Or will it submit them to the Circuit Attorney for a searching examination into all details of their management? The SEC, meanwhile, has lost no time in announcing that it will look into the Wade-Murphy manipulations, and the Bureau of Internal Revenue appears ready to make appropriate inquiries as to the income reported by those concerned in the deals.

It is understandable that board members may wish to avoid further scandals. Some of them have been extremely reluctant to move in the matters now exposed, until pushed by public opinion. Now an inquiry into all the Festus Wade deals and all the Richard Murphy deals with Dr. Gerling is imperatively in order. It is up to the board to brace itself again and see that every phase is plumbed to its depths.

PITY THE NAZI BOOTLEGGER!

As this Blitzkrieg ohne Blitz drags wearily on, living grows ever more harsh in the Nazi Third Reich. Decree follows decree, and one by one the minor pleasures of life are cut away. Only yesterday, it was announced that tailors will be permitted to make only one hip pocket, instead of the customary two, in a pair of trousers.

This would have been a minor matter, indeed, in the old Germany that laughed at American hip flasks. But ration cards have brought the bootlegger into the new Reich. And he deals in more than Schnaps. If one can meet his price, one may eat fine cuts of meat every day and have butter with every meal.

However, if this campaign against pockets is extended, it will become increasingly difficult to get little tidbits home without arousing the suspicions of a Gestapo agent. And if ever a decree goes forth against brief cases, it will be impossible.

NOT THE WAY TO STRENGTHEN THE COURTS.

Francis Biddle's appointment as Solicitor-General has a side which has been insufficiently noticed. This is the fact that he was transferred from the Federal Circuit Court of Appeals from the Third Circuit. The Court of Appeals ranks next to the Supreme Court in our Judicial system. The branch on which Mr. Biddle sat at Philadelphia serves Pennsylvania, New Jersey and Delaware. The important cases which come up through it make this one of the important courts of the country.

Yet Mr. Biddle has stepped down from a lifetime seat on that court only nine months after taking it in order to be the temporary prosecutor of an administration whose continuance in office depends on a highly uncertain election within the year. The feeling is inescapable that Mr. Biddle made the exchange because of personal loyalty to President Roosevelt.

A more important consideration is the strength and dignity of the Federal bench. If Mr. Biddle was a good appointment to this important court, he was worth keeping there. The President obviously does not build up the judiciary when he drafts a member of it for temporary and relatively less important work.

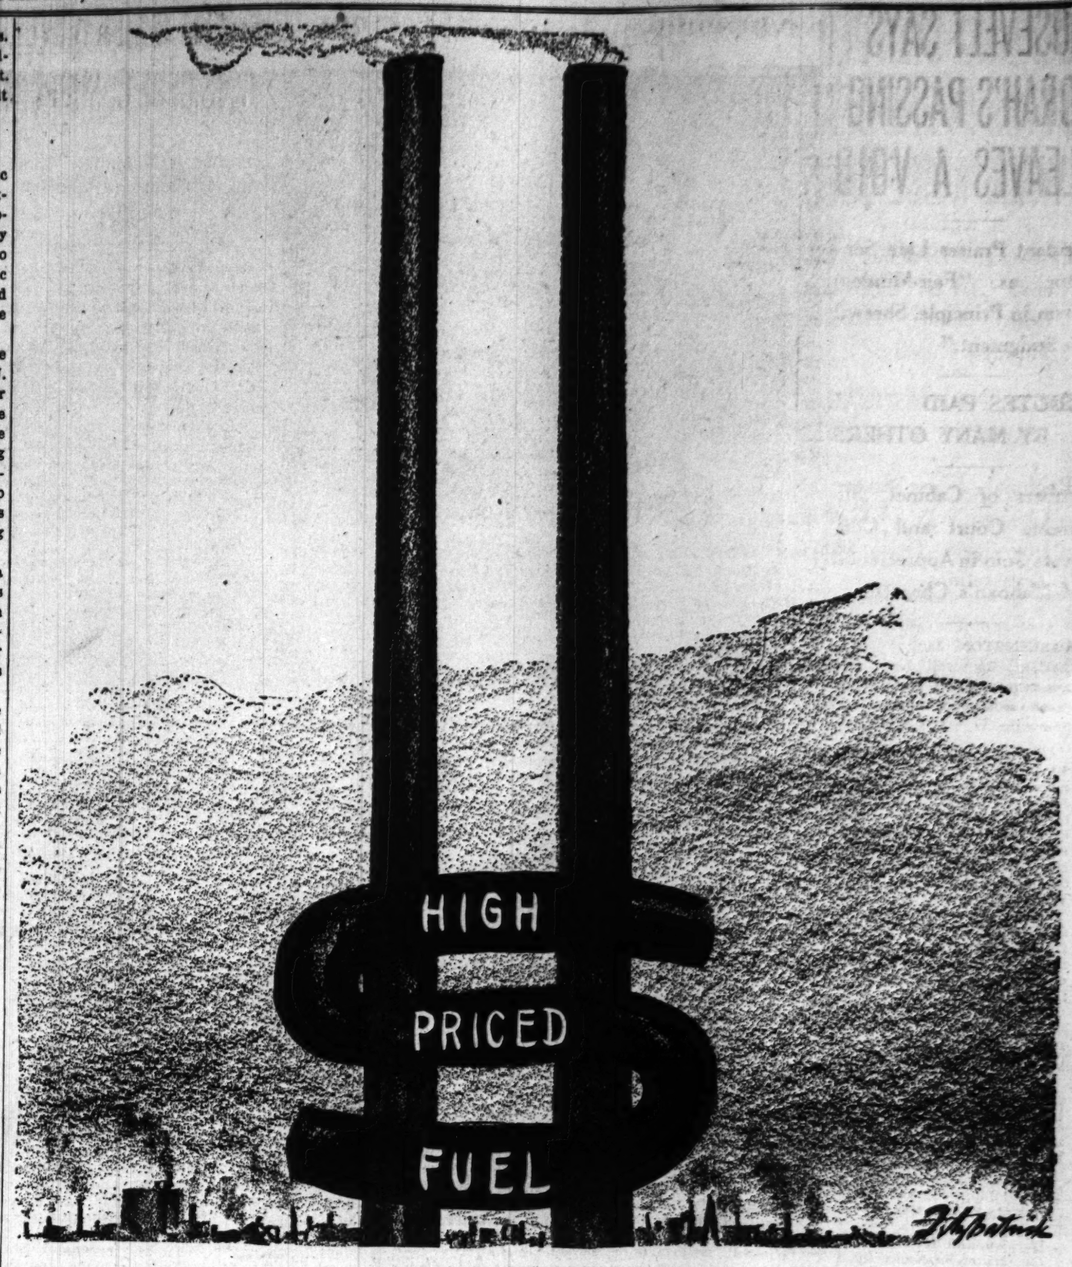

Our Browns, fined $500 for just looking pleasantly at a ball player, have no friend in court in that fellow, Judge Landis.

A MERE MATTER OF WORDS.

What is wrong with things in this country may be something pretty slight after all. Maybe we're just using the wrong words. In any case, Dr. F. M. Kercheville of the University of New Mexico, president of the American Association of Teachers of Spanish, proposes that we ditch the term, "Americanism." It is bad because it makes an "ism" out of the American order of things, thus bringing up Communism, Nazi-ism, Fascism, and that whole un-American breed. Happily, Dr. Kercheville is not without a constructive suggestion. He nominates "Americanity" as meeting the needs of the hour. Does Americanity sound a bit strange—it is no stranger, he argues, than Christianity, which is definitely to be preferred to Christianism.

All right, all right, Americanity it is. But what some of us carping critics would like to know is what verbal transformations our philological friend has in mind for such unpleasant words as deficit, relief, subsidy and unemployment. The professor has cut out for himself a large order and he has just begun.

After the shouting and the tumult dies, as is bound to happen, Jimmy Conzelman may be induced to write the story which will be headed: "Some Call It Resignation and Others Call It Fired."

NOT THE RIGHT ANSWER.

The Battle Over Antarctica

The Mirror of Public Opinion

Member of first Byrd expedition to South Pole minimizes importance of "frozen continent" as source of minerals and aviation base; says minerals seem to be there but are hardly accessible; thinks fierce storms forbid establishment of an airline terminal.

Russell Owen, Author of "South of the Sun," in the New York Times Magazine.

THE battle of Antarctica goes on apace. Germany claims a part of the area as result of a recent expedition; the United States has sent Rear Admiral Richard E. Byrd down there to establish a legitimate claim by putting down permanent bases, and now Argentina has unexpectedly jumped into the fray and claimed all of the Falkland Dependency of Great Britain. The huge continent of rock and ice and snow is for some reason becoming increasingly important as the world shrinks. What is this land? What is it really worth?

Antarctica has always been a place of mystery. It has been postulated on maps for centuries, but it was only 100 years ago that it was discovered. This huge land mass of more than 5,000,000 square miles, larger than the United States and Mexico, is the most isolated in the world.

One can almost step from Alaska to Asia; the distances from Northern Canada to Greenland, to Iceland and to Europe are not great. All the continents are easily accessible except one—the Antarctic. It is 2600 miles from New Zealand to the famous Ross Ice Barrier; it is a hazardous, ice-strewn route from the nearest point of South America, Cape Horn, to the desolation of the Antarctic Archipelago, 400 miles south.

The map-makers call this shelf ice, but those who have lived on it always refer to it as the Barrier, named the Ross Barrier, after the great English explorer who first dared to push his way through the pack and find it.

Its walls are straightly vertical, as if cut off with a gigantic saw. The upper edge undulates slightly and it rises from 60 to more than 200 feet above the water through a distance of 400 miles. Inland, the Barrier runs back in a vast triangle for about 400 miles.

There is an entrance to it at each end. One of them is set in mountains, where an active volcano, Mount Erebus—called by Cherry-Garard "the most restful mountain in the world" because of its smooth, gradual slopes—rises to 13,000 feet. The other is at the Bay of Whales, where in the past Amundsen and Byrd have made their headquarters, an indentation that rises to relatively low levels.

The interior is not entirely known, although it is believed from partial experience to be much quieter and more hospitable—if that word can be used in a region where the temperature goes down in the minus seventies—than along the rim of the continent. The region around the Pole itself is a plateau of about 10,000 feet altitude, sloping downward from mountains that rim the Ross Barrier, mountains which rise to 13,000 or 15,000 feet. How deep the ice cap is in the interior no one knows. But one thing is fairly certain: in the winter it is probably the coldest spot on earth, colder than 90 below zero.

Perhaps one compelling reason why men who have been to the Antarctic want to go down there again is the beauty of an Antarctic day. Nature there shows how feeble are the attempts of man to create color. It is overcast, and at midnight—for the sun shines the whole 24 hours during the summer—the clouds break and the sky and the snow beneath are colored with delicate pastel tints. From where you stand stretches a path of rose-colored light, and the sky turns from pale blue above to soft shades that fade one into the other in a way that would be the despair of a painter.

Are there minerals in the Antarctic? Scott's and Shackleton's expeditions found coal years ago. One open seam was found to be 25 feet thick. But most of the coal is lignite, and all of it of inferior quality.

As for other minerals, on Shackleton's first expedition rocks between Cape Bernacchi and Depot Island on the coast were found to be rich in commercial ores. Titanium and horn-blende rock were discovered. On Mawson's expedition it was found that the continental glacier, pushing down into the sea, had built up a long moraine which contained beryl, tourmaline, garnet, mica, iron, copper and molybdenum. But where it came from is another matter, for its source might be buried far inland under hundreds of feet of ice.

So it can be seen that although minerals probably exist in Antarctica they are indicated largely by rocks found in glacial moraines, and how to get at them and get them out economically from a continent so isolated as the Antarctic would be a precious problem.

Then there is the question of how valuable the continent would be as a base for international airlines. To use the Antarctic as a base for regular airline communication would seem a bit rash. Along the coast and for some distance inland the weather is so disturbed by conflicting temperatures and pressures that it is hard to predict a few hours ahead what the weather may be. And it is known that when the sky is overcast, so that light is diffused, the surface of the snow becomes invisible and landing is extremely risky.

The airplane can be valuable in the Antarctic for exploration, but it will be many a long year before it will be able to land there from more northern countries.

Keeping Out of War

From the Emporia (Kan.) Gazette

THE great task before the American people is to keep out of this war. Just now, war seems to be spreading to the Balkans. Tomorrow it may threaten the Americas. War is a pestilence which may attack any land when the plague is abroad in the earth.

The question now is, What are our people doing to prevent our entrance into war? Above everything, we should keep out of this war—first, because we should maintain our economic integrity so far as possible; second, because we should keep our political neutrality so far as possible, not to save our own hides but to have some influence in directing or helping to direct world settlement for a just peace. For only a just peace will be a lasting peace.

If we are a belligerent, weakened economically and biased politically with the others, at this war's close our voice will not have behind it the power that we will have if we remain economically strong and politically fairly neutral.

No plan, no specific course all thought out in advance, no formula of any kind will keep us out of war. No President can lead us into war against our will. No party, no Congress can get us into war unless we weakly yield to war's trumpets of hate!

Yet after all, only the sturdy resolution of the American people to avoid the conflict will keep us out of war. Moreover, we must implement our sturdy resolution by an intelligent citizenship. For otherwise we shall be swept off our feet by emotions. That's the rub!

Are we up to it? There is the one serious question that breeds fear and doubt in the hearts of thoughtful citizens.

ST. LOUIS' RENOWN SPREADS.

From the Arkansas Gazette.

ST. LOUIS offers a unique advantage as a place to live. Of course, the Missouri metropolis has important business, industrial, transportation and other interests, but man does not live by a meal ticket alone. We mean solar observation.

Just now, there are spots on the sun, which one astronomer describes as the "most astounding" in his 30 years of daily observation. But to see them, you have to smoke a piece of glass or use some developed photographic film or some other light-screening device.

Not so if you live in St. Louis. All the people there have to do—or all they had to do on the day the news told about it—was just look at the sun. Not even the blinding light of the illuminator of the universe could get a blink out of eyes enjoying the protection of the well-known St. Louis carboniferous atmospheric blackout.

SOME PROGRESS, AT LEAST.

From the Des Moines Register.

THERE were 4922 fewer employees in the executive branch of the Federal Government on Dec. 1, 1939, than on Nov. 1, according to announcement by the Civil Service Commission.

Time was when that would have represented a heavy percentage of reduction of the Federal payroll. When it is considered, however, that there were still 932,654 Federal jobholders on Dec. 1, the importance of the layoffs lies chiefly in the possibility that it may indicate a trend.

ROOSEVELT SAYS BORAH'S PASSING LEAVES A VOID

President Praises Late Senator as "Fair-Minded, Firm in Principle, Shrewd in Judgment."

TRIBUTES PAID BY MANY OTHERS

Members of Cabinet, Supreme Court and Congress Join in Appreciation of Idahoan's Character.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20 (AP). President Roosevelt last night praised Senator Borah as "a unique figure whose passing leaves a void in American life." The President's statement said:

"The Senate and the nation are sadly bereft by the passing of Senator Borah. We shall miss him, and mourn him, and long remember the superb courage which was his. He dared often to stand alone and even at times to subordinate party interest when he presumably saw a divergence of party interest and the national interest.

"Fair-minded, firm in principle and shrewd in judgment, he sometimes gave and often received hard blows; but he had great personal charm and a courteous manner which had its source in a kind heart. He had thought deeply and studied patiently all the great social, political and economic questions which had so vitally concerned his countrymen during the long period of his public career.

"His utterances commanded the close attention of the Senate and of a far-flung audience whenever he spoke. A unique figure, his passing leaves a void in American public life."

Barkley and McNary.

Senator Barkley of Kentucky, the Democratic leader: "He is one of the men whose death will make an impression around the world."

Senator McNary of Oregon, the Republican leader: "No one can ever fill his place."

Chairman John D. M. Hamilton of the Republican National Committee: "Senator Borah did not always agree with others in the Republican party but none ever doubted his sincerity or questioned the lofty motives which inspired him."

Secretary of State Hull: "His long record of truly great service to the people of the nation will live in history."

Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau: "He was one of the im- portant statesmen of this century."

Supreme Court Justice Murphy: "Undoubtedly history will rank him with the great leaders of American democracy."

Senator Johnson (Rep.), California: "Wherever there is an American there is mourning for the passing of one of America's great."

Speaker Bankhead.

Speaker Bankhead (Dem.), Alabama: "In company with all American citizens who are familiar with the long and illustrious record in the Senate of the United States, I am deeply sorry and pained to learn of the passing of this outstanding statesman who for so many years has contributed by his intellectual genius to the best traditions of the Senate. I think that it is universally recognized that there has been no debater in Congress for the last quarter of a century who was his superior."

House Majority Leader Rayburn (Dem.), Texas: "An outstandingly useful American and stateman. He will be terribly missed."

House Minority Leader Martin (Rep.), Massachusetts: "He will live long in the memories of the American people. A virile, forceful character passes and his death is a great loss to the Senate and the country."

'Wonderful Man,' Says Clark.

Senator Clark (Dem.), Missouri: "His death brings a grevious loss to the Senate and the nation. He was a wonderful man."

Senator Glass (Dem.), Virginia: "He was a great man. I always took my constitutional law from him."

Senator Townsend (Rep.), Delaware: "He was honest and fearless and able."

Senator Davis (Rep.), Pennsylvania: "He was the tribune of the people. He should have served as President."

Senator Schwellenbach (Dem.), Washington: "I know how much the people of our State are grieved, because he was not only a representative of Idaho but of all the Pacific Northwest and the nation."

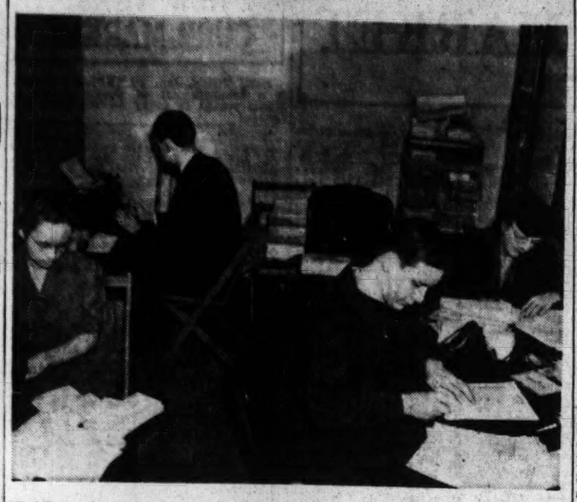

Senator Ree (Rep.), Kansas: "His was one of the Senate's great voices. His clarity of mind and his ability in debate were unequalled in the Senate."

Senator Nye (Rep.), North Dakota: "He was a great constitutional lawyer, and his loss will be deeply felt in the Senate for many years to come."

Senator Borah's Funeral In Senate Chamber Monday

called him in vain and discovered him unconscious.

Leader of historic fights against American participation in the League of Nations and the World Court, Senator Borah, "the great oppositionist," was mourned by his associates and many a common man.

President Roosevelt, whose foreign policies often brought Mr. Borah's ringing denunciation in the Senate, declared that "we shall miss him and mourn him and long remember the superb courage which was his."

Died Peacefully.

The Idaho veteran, whose Senate speeches always drew crowded galleries and a large attendance of his colleagues, died peacefully and without pain. He often said that his isolationist views sprang from a basic desire to keep this country out of war.

Until a few years ago, the Senator often rode a high-spirited horse through the shaded bridle paths of Washington's Rock Creek Park. Sometimes other riders would canter up beside him, but Senator Borah never turned his head. He went his way by himself.

He was a leader in the recent fight against Roosevelt's recently enacted neutrality program, and his address against it commanded more attention from colleagues and the galleries than any other Senate speech.

Although his death had been anticipated, London newspapers stopped their presses to carry the news of his passing.

The Daily Express said Mr. Borah would be remembered as "a bitter critic of Britain," but added that "we should not forget that all Americans shared his creed: "America first."

The Daily Mail commented that Senator Borah was better known to the average Briton than any other American except the President.

Senate Service Embraced Two Crucial Periods in U. S. History.

Life-long devotion to cherished principles and implacable opposition to others of which he disapproved characterized the career of William Edgar Borah of Idaho.

His long service in the Senate included two of the most crucial periods in American history, the World War years and the economic upheaval of the early 1930s. His tenure made him the oldest member of the Senate in point of service. He was the chamber's acknowledged authority on constitutional law and, probably, its most-feared adversary in debate.

He often crusaded against great combinations of wealth and industrial control and championed the cause of states' rights, while in international affairs he tenaciously pursued a rigid policy of no foreign entanglements. The defeat of efforts to put the United States into the League of Nations and the World Court was due in no small part to his opposition.

Although during the New Deal administrations Mr. Borah's minority party affiliation reduced his effective influence, he always commanded a well-filled chamber when he took the floor. He spoke rapidly, with curt gestures. He passed his hand over his long mane. He was often called "the lion of Idaho."

Shunned Third Party Movements.

Politically he held an underlying belief in the theory of government by party. So while he differed often with other Republican leaders he shunned third party movements. Instead he tried to swing the organization to what he considered more liberal views. Always he denounced "old guard" leadership.

In 1936, holding to these views of party welfare, he asked for the presidential nomination. When the convention chose Alfred M. Landon he said he had "no intention of bolting the ticket," and added:

"I am supporting the platform and I have been supporting it from the beginning."

Proud of Consistency.

Senator Borah was proud of his record for consistency in legislation. He opposed a Taft administration reciprocity treaty with Canada on the ground that it would open American markets to Canadian agricultural products and he opposed the reciprocal trade policies of the Franklin D. Roosevelt administration on the same ground.

He entered the Senate in 1907 when Theodore Roosevelt's "trust-busting" was in full swing and became an uncompromising foe of monopoly. Thirty years later he teamed with Senator O'Mahoney of Wyoming, a Democratic colleague, to propose that the Federal Government get control of interstate corporations by requiring them to obtain Federal charters. When the administration asked that a study be made to prepare for anti-monopoly legislation, Vice-President Garner named Mr. Borah to the investigating committee.

Fought for Income Tax.

Early in his senatorship he led the fight for the income tax and the constitutional amendment that permitted it. In 1938 he was in the forefront of those who proposed to abolish tax exemptions on public securities and governmental salaries.

He piloted the bill which created the department of labor and the children's bureau and was a constant supporter of child labor legislation. But he opposed the child labor amendment to the constitution as a violation of state rights. In that latter field he joined Southern Senators in helping to defeat anti-lynching bills. He believed in Federal aid for farmers along certain lines and early in his senatorship put through a $20,000,000 appropriation for reclamation, authored the three-year homestead law and had much Western farm land opened to settlement. But he assailed the New Deal farm legislation as a "policy of scarcity."

As a minority member of the Senate Judiciary Committee he helped in 1937 to defeat President Roosevelt's plan for "rejuvenating" the Supreme Court. He had prepared what might have been one of his most important speeches, but in the swift turn of events that killed the measure his attack never was delivered.

His record embraced credit for the constitutional amendment providing for direct election of Senators. Also he supported the prohibition amendment.

His chairmanships, through the years, included the committees on labor, education, interoceanic canals and, in pre-New Deal days, the highly important committee on foreign relations. This last made him a world figure, especially as he preached tenaciously a policy of isolation and never went abroad for "first-hand" information.

Native of Illinois.

Born at Fairfield, Ill., June 29, 1865, Mr. Borah came of a deeply religious stock. His father was a Presbyterian and often filled the local pulpit in the absence of the regular minister. His own youth was spent on a farm. He had an inclination toward the stage, and succeeded in running away from home to join a traveling troupe. His role was Marc Anthony, but an angry father cut his career short by summarily bringing him back to the farm.

After receiving his early education at the Southern Illinois Academy, young Borah moved to Kansas and studied law at the University of Kansas. Admitted to the bar in 1889, he practiced at Lyons for two years before moving to Boise, Idaho.

He was a candidate for the Senate in 1903, but was defeated. Four years later he made a second and successful effort.

At the age of 30 Mr. Borah married Miss Mamie McConnell, daughter of former Gov. McConnell of Idaho.

Senator Borah had no children. Besides his wife, he is survived by a sister, Mrs. Mattie Rinard of Fairfield, Ill., and a nephew, Wayne G. Borah, a Federal Judge in New Orleans.

METALLIC DEVICE MAKES MOVIE PICTURES SHARPER

Tested on Projection Lenses at Rochester, N. Y., Improves Brilliance 15 Pct.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Jan. 20 (AP).—A metallic film, four-millionths of an inch thick applied to motion picture projection lenses increases screen brilliance more than 15 per cent, the Bausch & Lomb Optical Co. announces.

When tested at local theaters projectionists reported "a marked improvement in image contrast and increased sharpness of focus," the company said.

FINNISH RELIEF DRIVE GETS C. OF C. SUPPORT

Charities Committee Commends Campaign Activities in City.

St. Louis activities of the Finnish Relief Fund, Inc., which is raising money throughout the nation for assistance to civilians in Finland, were approved unanimously by the Charities Committee of the Chamber of Commerce at a meeting yesterday.

The committee commended the manner in which the campaign is being conducted nationally under the direction of former President Herbert Hoover, in Missouri by Sidney Maestre, State chairman, and here by a group of prominent St. Louisans.

Action of the committee was reported to Hoover in a letter by Scott R. de Kins, its secretary, who also is secretary of the Chamber of Commerce.

"The committee had before it a rather complete report in regard to the campaign made available through the National Information Bureau of New York City, and on the basis of that report approval followed," De Kins stated.

"The worthiness of the cause itself, the personnel of the local committee, the outstanding character of the gentleman you have appointed to head the statewide campaign, the personnel of those in charge of the campaign nationally, plus the most satisfactory report from the National Information Bureau on the work you are doing, afforded ample reasons for the unanimous approval of our committee."

VACANCIES ON 5 COMMITTEES CREATED BY BORAH'S DEATH

Smith of South Carolina Becomes Oldest Senator in Point of Service.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20 (AP).—The death of Senator Borah (Rep.), Idaho, creates vacancies on five Senate committees—Foreign Relations, of which he was ranking minority member and former chairman; Education and Labor, Judiciary, Public Lands and Surveys and the special Committee on Silver.

His death makes Senator Smith (Dem.), South Carolina, the dean of the Senate, oldest member in point of service. Borah entered the Senate March 4, 1907, Smith two years later.

Several others, including Vice-President Garner, have longer continuous congressional records. The Vice-President was a House member from 1903 until 1932, when he resigned to become presiding officer of the Senate.

Another Texan, Senator Sheppard (Dem.), Texas, is the present dean of Congress. Sheppard first was elected to the House in 1902 and went to the Senate in 1913. Senator Norris (Ind.), Nebraska, served in the House from 1903 until elected to the Senate in 1913.

CONSUMER CREDIT BUREAU

It Will Serve Banks Making Installment Loans.

NEW YORK, Jan. 20 (AP).—The American Bankers' Association announced yesterday the establishment of a consumer credit department to serve the several thousand member banks engaged in the extension of installment loans to the public.

Walter B. French, a marine in the World War and recently vice-president of the Trust Company of New Jersey, Jersey City, N. J., will direct the department.

Flashes of Life

Cash Before Delivery.

MOUNTAINAIR, N. M., Jan. 20 (AP).—Newspaper advertisement, signed by three physicians of this mountain village:

"If you are expecting the stork to visit your house this year, and he is to come by the way of Mountainair, he will have to bring the cash to pay his bill before delivery."

50c a Week for Gasoline.

OAKLAND, Cal.—"I run my car on a 50-cents-a-week allowance for gas," explained Mrs. Flora E. McKenzie, before Police Judge Chris F. Fox on a charge of running a stop sign. "If I obeyed all the stop signs, I'd exceed my budget because stopping burns up gasoline."

Judge Fox wrecked her budget for six weeks to come with a $3 fine.

Free Waking Service Ends.

MOUNT CARROLL, Ill.—There was a rush for alarm clocks in Mount Carroll stores this week. For many years most of the town's 2000 residents had depended on the 7 a. m. steam whistle at Francis Shimer College to awaken them, although it was sounded chiefly to arouse late sleepers at the girls' school.

But the school's early rising rules have been relaxed and President Albin C. Bro has ordered the whistle blowing stopped.

A Life of Pane.

GREEN BAY, Wis.—The thoughts of Arthur (Butch) Ritter, a tavern keeper, are full of panes. He recalls these events:

First a fire damaged his place and a large window pane, facing the street, was broken into bits. Then a pedestrian stumbled on the sidewalk and fell through. A couple of weeks later a truck smashed the new pane. Finally a switch engine operating nearby set up heavy vibrations and Ritter had to buy another pane.

ROOSEVELT PROPOSES CHILD WELFARE POLICY

Solution to Problem in Higher Income, Not by Treasury Handouts, He Says.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20 (AP).—President Roosevelt told the White House Conference on Children in a Democracy last night tha "mere handouts from the Federal Treasury" are not the permanent solution to the needs of the American child and its family.

"I agree with you that public assistance of many kinds is necessary," he said in a discussion of the conference report, which recommended continued or increased Federal spending in at least 10 fields, "but I suggest to you that mere grants in aid constitute no permanent solution but that we should address ourselves to two policies:

"First, to increase the average of incomes in the poorer communities and areas, and, second, to an insistence that every community and area pay taxes in accordance with its ability to pay."

When Mr. Roosevelt mentioned "handouts from the Federal Treasury," he turned from his prepared text to comment:

"But I suggest to you that the Federal Treasury has some bottom to it."

Read "Grapes of Wrath."

Departing more frequently and more extensively from his text than usual Mr. Roosevelt disclosed at another point that he had read John Steinbeck's novel, "Grapes of Wrath," the story of the mass migration of agricultural workers from the dust bowl to California.

Referring to the Columbia basin development, which is to be irrigated from Grand Coulee Dam after 1942, the President said, "I would like to see Columbia basin devoted to the care of 500,000 members of 'Grapes of Wrath.'"

Mr. Roosevelt observed that he had been saying for years that one-third of the nation was ill-housed, ill-clothed and ill-fed, and added that he had been criticised for doing so.

"I have been telling the truth, and you people have sustained me in that statement," he said, referring to the conference's disclosure of economic conditions among the poorer families of the nation.

"By admitting it, we are saying that we are going to improve, and why shouldn't we," he said.

Failure of School Districts.

Referring to what he said was the failure of many school districts and states to "even pay for good schools," the President declared:

"I would like to put on the front page of every newspaper in the United States the most backward school districts and the most backward school states."

"That's rough treatment," he said, but he added that such advertising would get understanding and sympathy for those areas in the solution of their problems.

The President referred to the fact, somewhat humorously, that he was having difficulties with Congress, which this week eliminated three White House agencies from the Independent Offices bill.

"And I think I'm going to win out," the President said with a smile.

"Still Much to Do."

The President declared, "adequate national defense calls for adequate munitions and implements of war and, at the same time, for educated, healthy and happy citizens."

"You tell me in effect what I have been talking about for many years—that we are moving forward toward an objective of raising the incomes and living conditions of the poorest third of our population, that we have made some dent on the problem, and that most decidedly we cannot stop and rest on our somewhat meager laurels."

It was there that he interjected his declaration that "mere grants in aid constitute no permanent solution." Earlier, he said:

"After reviewing the record of the past 10 years, your conference finds that we have definitely improved our social institutions and public services. You conclude, and rightly, that to have made progress in a period of hardship and strain proves that America has both strength and courage. But we have still much to do. Too many children are still living under conditions that must be corrected if our democracy is to develop to its highest capacity."

Resettlement of Million.

Discussing the care of children of migratory families, Mr. Roosevelt said: "The situation of these children who have no homes, and can put down no roots in school or community, calls for special consideration. This means in its simplest terms a program for the permanent resettlement of at least one million people—and money spent on it, after careful planning, will be returned to the nation many times over in a relatively short time.

"Just as we cannot take care of the child apart from his family, so his welfare is bound up with other institutions that influence his development—the school, the church and the agencies which offer useful and happy activities and interests for leisure time. The work of all these institutions needs to be harmonized so as to give our children rounded growth with the least possible conflict and loss.

"Religion, especially, helps children to appreciate life in its wholeness and to develop a deep sense of the sacredness of human personality. In view of the estimate that perhaps one-half the children in this country are having no regular religious instruction, it is important to consider how provision can best be made for religious training. In this we must keep in mind both the wisdom of maintaining the separation of church and state and the great importance of religion in personal and social living."

By Colvin McPherson

THE EARL OF CHICAGO—Robert Montgomery in the most astonishing acting job of many months. Especially appealing to those who liked "Night Must Fall." "The Shop Around the Corner" is another article from the top rack—a tender, clever romantic comedy that is only a wee bit too long. At LOEW'S.

THE GREAT VICTOR HERBERT—A family affair in operetta with Allan Jones, Mary Martin and Susanna Foster as family, Walter Connolly as a guy who writes songs. Very musical, not much else. "Oh, Johnny, How You Can Love," is a wacky romance of the road. A candy salesman, Tom Brown, picks up a little sweetie, Peggy Moran, and a red-hot, Allen Jenkins. At the AMBASSADOR.

THE INVISIBLE MAN RETURNS—Vincent Price follows in the still empty foosteps of Claude Rains. A nice batch of camera tricks, this one. "He Married His Wife," about a reconciliation between Joel McCrea and Nancy Kelly, has enough laughs for anybody. At the FOX.

Pope Tells Roosevelt Chance For Peace Is Slight Now

the noble thought contained in your note, in which the spirit of Christmas and the desire to see it applied to the great human problems have found such eloquent expression; and fully persuaded of its extraordinary importance we lost no time in communicating to the distinguished gathering present that very morning in the Consistorial Hall of this apostolic Vatican palace, our appreciation of this courageous document, inspired by a far-seeing statesmanship and a profound human sympathy.

"We have been particularly impressed by one characteristic feature of Your Excellency's message: the vital, spiritual contact with the thoughts and feelings, the hopes and aspirations of the masses of the people, of those classes, namely, on whom more than others, and in a measure never felt before, weighs the burden of sorrow and sacrifice imposed by the present restless and tempestuous hour. Also for this reason, none perhaps better than we can understand the meaning, the revealing power and the warmth of feeling manifest in this act of Your Excellency.

"In fact our own daily experience tells us of the deep-seated yearning for peace that fills the hearts of the common people. In the measure that the war with its direct and indirect repercussions spreads; and the more economic, social and family life is forcibly wrenched from its normal bases by the continuation of war, and is forced along the way of sacrifice and every kind of privation, the better need of which is not always plain to all; so much the more intense is the longing for peace that pervades the hearts of men and their determination to find and to apply the means that lead to peace.

Basis of Peace.

"When that day dawns—and we would like to hope that it is not too far distant—on which the roar of battle will lapse into silence and there will arise the possibility of establishing a true and sound peace dictated by the principles of justice and equity, only he will be able to discern the path that should be followed who united with high political power a clear understanding of the voice of humanity along with a sincere reverence for the divine precepts of life as found in the gospel of Christ. Only men of such moral stature will be able to create the peace, that will compensate for the incalculable sacrifices of this war and clear the way for a comity of nations, fair to all, efficacious and sustained by mutual confidence.

"We are fully aware of how stubborn the obstacles are that stand in the way of attaining this goal, and how they become daily more difficult to surmount. And if the friends of peace do not wish their labors to be in vain, they should visualize distinctly the seriousness of these obstacles, the consequently slight probability of immediate success so long as the present state of the opposing forces remains essentially unchanged.

"As vicar on earth of the Prince of Peace, from the first days of our pontificate we have dedicated our efforts and our solicitude to the purpose of maintaining peace, and afterwards of re-establishing it. Heedless of momentary lack of success and of the difficulties involved, we are continuing to follow along the path marked out for us by our apostolic mission. As we walk this path, often rough and thorny, the echo which reaches us from countless souls, both within and outside the church, together with the consciousness of duty done, is for us abundant and consoling reward.

Praises President's Deed.

"And now that in this hour of world-wide pain and misgiving the chief magistrate of the great North American Federation, under the spell of the holy night of Christmas, should have taken such a prominent place in the vanguard of those who would promote peace and generously succor the victims of the war, bespeaks a providential help, which we acknowledge with grateful joy and increased confidence. It is an exemplary act of fraternal and hearty solidarity between the new and the old world in defense against the chilling breath of aggressive and deadly Godless and anti-Christian tendencies, that threaten to dry up the fountainhead, whence civilization has come and drawn its strength.

"In such circumstances we shall find a special satisfaction, as we have already informed Your Excellency, in receiving with all the honor due to his well-known qualifications and to the dignity of his important mission, the representative who is to be sent to us as the faithful interpreter of your mind regarding the procuring of peace and the alleviation of sufferings consequent upon the war.

"Recalling with keen joy the pleasant memories left us after our unforgettable visit to your great nation, and living over again the sincere pleasure that personal acquaintance with Your Excellency brought us, we express in turn our hearty good wishes, with a most fervent prayer for the prosperity of Your Excellency and of all the people of the United States."

"Given at Rome, at St. Peter's, the 7th day of January, 1940, the first year of our pontificate.

(Signed) "PIUS PP. XII."

Taylor Ranks as Ambassador in Pontifical Directory.

VATICAN CITY, Jan. 20 (AP).—Myron C. Taylor, President Roosevelt's personal representative to the Vatican, is listed among the diplomats accredited to the Holy See in the pontifical directory for 1940, just published.

Taylor's name appears at the end of a list of 38 Ambassadors and Ministers and is separated from them by a dash. The listing reads:

"United States of America — his excellency, Myron C. Taylor, representative of his excellency, the President of the United States of America with the rank of Ambassador."

FISK CO. SALE TO U. S. RUBBER TIED UP BY STOCKHOLDERS

Management Fails to Command Two-Thirds Majority, Though Transfer Has Been Made.

WILMINGTON, Del., Jan. 20 (AP).—Stockholders in the Fisk company meeting here last night to vote on dissolution of the rubber corporation, adjourned without taking the action necessary to distribute the $11,227,330 paid by the United States Rubber Co. to acquire the Fisk company last month.

No date was set for another meeting, which can be called only after stockholders are polled once more.

The impasse resulted from failure of the Fisk management to command the two-thirds vote necessary. Only a majority was needed to sanction the sale.

Fisk property and assets already have been transferred to United States Rubber.

The United States District Court at Boston has directed the corporation to show Jan. 29 why an injunction should not be issued against the sale, which Attorney-General Thurman Arnold has said may be in violation of the anti-trust laws.

EDWARD E. HUGHES DIES AT 77

WEST ORANGE, N. J., Jan. 20 (AP).—Edward Everett Hughes, 77 years old, husband of Thomas A. Edison's widow and stepfather of Secretary of the Navy Edison, died yesterday.

He married Mrs. Edison at Chautauqua, N. Y., Oct. 30, 1935.

CHINESE CLAIM GAINS IN HUPEH AND AT CANTON

Defenders Say Battles Presage Collapse of Japan's Kwangtung Campaign—Losses to Both Sides.

HONGKONG, Jan. 20 (AP).—The Chinese reported today they had killed nearly 3000 Japanese in Central China in a series of battles around the Hupeh Province town of Suihsien, and that a Chinese drive toward Canton had cost the Japanese about 5000 men, a "moderate estimate."

Chinese losses in Hupeh were not given, but high Chinese sources here acknowledged the fighting in the Canton vicinity had cost 15,000 to 20,000 Chinese.

In the Hupeh fighting, the Japanese lost 10 tanks, a plane and some machine guns and rifles, the Chinese said.

On the Kwangtung Province front, the Chinese reported their lines formed an arc about Canton at 18 to 25 miles. They said they pushed the Japanese back 50 miles in a series of encounters, and that this presaged the collapse of Japan's Kwangtung campaign. Canton, largest city in South China, has been held by the Japanese since October, 1938.

Neutral observers said the silence of the Japanese, coupled with the Chinese admission of casualties, lent credence to the Chinese claims of gains.

The Chinese said they had thwarted on Jan. 8 a Japanese attempt to retake Pingtam, island off the coast of South Fukien Province which the Chinese captured Jan. 1.

The Japanese said Chinese forces in the Tapieh Mountains of North Hupeh Province were "utterly disorganized" as the result of a Japanese offensive there.

WILLIAM K. WHITFIELD DIES, FORMER HEAD OF RISK FIRM

Succumbs at Home in Florida; Once Served as Illinois Circuit Judge.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

ORLANDO, Fla., Jan. 20.—William K. Whitfield, former president of the International Life Insurance Co. in St. Louis and a former Circuit Judge at Decatur, Ill., died yesterday at his home here, where he has lived since 1928.

Mr. Whitfield served two terms as Judge at Decatur. He moved to St. Louis in 1922, when he became vice-president and general manager of the Standard Life Insurance Co. In 1924 he and several associates bought out the International Life.

He became president of the company in 1926, but sold out his interest in 1927. The company failed in 1928, after Roy C. Tombs, Chicago promoter, had obtained control.

CROWD JAMS INTO CHURCH TO SEE CRIPPLED MODEL WED

Four Policemen Keep Order Outside as Jessie Simpson Is Married at Hackensack, N. J.

HACKENSACK, N. J., Jan. 20 (AP).—Jessie Simpson, a beauty contest winner who lost both legs in a railroad accident, was married last night to James Steward at the First Presbyterian Church.

Four policemen who struggled to preserve order outside the church said the crowd was the largest at a wedding in Hackensack history. Some invited guests were unable to get into the church.

Mrs. Steward, a former photographer's model who won the title "Miss New Jersey" in a beauty contest, is 21. She fell under the wheels of a train in April, 1937, and lost one leg above the knee, the other at the ankle.

Obtaining artificial legs, she opened a beauty parlor, which she plans to run after returning from her honeymoon in Florida. She is already an expert golfer, dancer and motorist.

ST. LOUIS SYMPHONY PLAYS TO LARGE TOLEDO AUDIENCE

Second Movement of Franck's Symphony in D Minor One of Program Features.

TOLEDO, O., Jan. 20 (AP).—A program of majestic sweep, possible only for a great orchestra, was presented by the St. Louis Symphony Orchestra here last night.

High points were the playing of the second movement of the Cesar Franck Symphony in D Minor, the drowsily skeptical "Afternoon of a Faun" of Debussy, and the riotous polka and fugue from Weinberger's "Schwanda."

There was a large audience in spite of sub-zero temperature.

INDECISION MARKS QUIET STOCK TRADE AT WEEK END

Scattered Specialties Move Higher in Short Session but Many Leaders Continue to Linger by the Wayside.

NEW YORK, Jan. 20 (AP). — Indecision again gripped the stock market today and, except for a few favorites, the general run of leaders shuffled over a slightly irregular route.

Speculative contingents apparently had little in the way of stimulating news to go on, although there were several fairly cheerful items in the day's budget.

Brokerage quarters were coming to the conclusion many potential buyers were holding off because of threatened foreign liquidation. While selling from Europe has been dribbling into the market here daily, offerings have been far from urgent. With the list as "thin" as it has been in past weeks, however, even a little pressure from overseas was believed to have acted as a brake on prices.

The pace was relatively slow, even though blocks of 3000 to 10,000 shares of such low-quoted stocks as Commonwealth & Southern frequently made their appearance, usually at Friday's final levels.

Among Gainers.

Transfers for the two hours were 271,170 shares.

Further signs of recession in a number of industrial lines were seen as a share recovery handicap. Steels, especially, lacked rising vigor as next week's steel output was expected to show another decline. Softening of copper quotations kept red metal stocks under blankets.

Brooklyn-Manhattan Transit common and preferred pushed up to new 1939-40 peaks following reports the RFC had decided to grant the company's application for a $2,000,000 loan to assist in unification plans.

Standard Gas & Electric preferreds on the "big board" and bonds in the curb retrieved a portion of this week's losses as talk was heard of the SEC investigating the unusually sharp drop in this group.

Among resistant shares were Montgomery Ward, Great Northern, Pennsylvania, Westinghouse and General Electric. In arrears most of the time were U. S. Steel, General Motors, Chrysler, Douglas Aircraft, Anaconda, Kennecott, du Pont, Loft and Standard Brands.

Bonds and commodities were hesitant the greater part of the day.

Up at one time in the curb were American Cyanamid "B," Borne Scrymser and Electric Bond & Share. Among losers were Humble Oil, Lake Shore and Niles-Bement-Pond.

Overnight Developments.

The Federal Reserve figures disclosed the country's department store sales for the week ended Jan. 13 topped the comparable period last year by 4 per cent. The year-to-year gain amounted to 5 per cent in the preceding week and 8 per cent in the week of Dec. 30.

Sustained retail activity was said to have accounted for the recent heavy buying of textiles in New York's Worth Street. Observers in this field predicted most mills would show a profit in the first quarter compared with large losses in the 1939 months.

CORPORATION SHARE EARNINGS IN DOLLARS, COMPARISONS

Corporation earnings in dollars and cents per common share in most instances, with corresponding periods in the preceding year, reported by the Associated Press will be found in the following table:

	1939.	1938.
Dome Mines —	4,109,991	4,226,691
Cent. States Elec.	†1,035,815	$1,425,515

†Deficit.

NEW YORK, Jan. 20 (AP).—Blue Ridge Corporation, investing concern, reported today net assets at the close of 1939 were $31,612,023, equivalent to $1.31 a common share. At the close of the previous year the figures were $34,450,631 and $1.61, respectively.

SOME COPPER FOR 12 CENTS

NEW YORK, Jan. 20 (AP).—A small producer offered copper at 12 cents a pound today, adding to the uncertain price situation prevailing in the domestic market since mid-week.

Large primary producers adhered to their quotation of 12.50 cents, established early in October.

Custom smelters have quoted 12.25 cents since Thursday. The outside market was reported at 11.87½ to 12 cents a pound for spot shipment and copper for export was 12 cents, with fair demand reported.

Boston Wool.

BOSTON, Jan. 20 (AP) (U. S. D. A.)—The Boston wool market was somewhat more active this week than in the previous week. The greater portion of the trade, however, was on foreign wools from South Africa and South America. Price trends were mixed in foreign wools with fine merinos and coarse crossbreds showing some advance, while grades in between were slightly easier. Quotations on domestic wools were about steady on fine grades and inclined to ease on coarser wools. Greasy combing graded bright fleece wools were quoted at 39 to 42 cents in the grease for fine delaine; at 40 to 42 cents for halfbloods and at 44 to 45 cents, in the grease, for three-eighths and quarter-bloods.

Coffee.

NEW YORK, Jan. 20.—Coffee spot quiet; Santos, No. 4, 7½@⅝; Rio No. 7, 5⅜. Santos No. 4 D futures closed unchanged to 2 lower. Sales, 2250 bags; Mar., 6.27b; May, 6.32; July, 6.37b; Sept., 6.42b. Rio No. 7 A futures, new, unchanged. bBid.

Linseed Oil.

Linseed oil in 1 to 4 barrel lots was quoted at 11.8c per lb for raw and 12.2c per lb for boiled. Half barrels, 06c.

Local Clearings.

Local bank clearings for Jan. 20 were $12,700,000. Debits to individual accounts for Jan. 19 were $21,700,000.

FAST ACTION MARKS TRADE IN SOME UTILITY ISSUES

NEW YORK, Jan. 20 (AP).—Fast action in several utility and local traction loans kept bond traders hopping today.

Brooklyn-Manhattan Transit collateral 4½s shot up more than 2 and the 4½s nearly as much by forepart of last hour. Manhattan Railway issues also moved forward rapidly.

Demand for the tractions followed reports RFC Administrator Jesse Jones had agreed to lend the B.-M. T. at least $2,000,000 to aid in the plan to sell its properties to New York City.

In the curb Standard Gas and Electric liens snapped out of slump of the last few days with gains running to more than 2 points. Wall Street rumor had it the SEC was investigating the fluctuations in the company's issues.

The cold wave left marks in the bond list when Lehigh Valley Coal stamped 5s advanced around 6 points. Recent efforts to allocate production of the fuel also played a part in the rise, brokers said. The unstamped 5s soared 10 points in the first dealings since Nov. 21.

Other wide movers, but downward, were Portland General Electric bonds. The 4½s slumped 3 or so and the 5s more than 2.

Traders didn't have much time to get around to the balance of the list, which dawdled over an uneven price range.

United States Governments moved both ways on only a handful of sales.

Scandinavian loans improved again in the foreign section, but there was no great rush of buying.

COTTON MARKET CLOSES 4 LOWER TO 3 HIGHER

NEW YORK, Jan. 20 (AP).—Cotton futures traded in a narrow range during today's short session. From an irregular start, prices moved up moderately under small but persistent trade buying only to sag again near the close. Bombay interests both bought and sold. Hedge sales appeared in late trading and near months were subjected to light commission house liquidation.

Final prices were 4 lower to 3 higher. Old contracts: March, 11c; May, 10.72c; July, 10.40c. New: March, 11.20c; May, 10.88c; July, 10.58c; October, 9.78c; December, 9.70c.

Following an irregular opening the market steadied on good trade demand which offset scattered hedge offerings and small foreign selling. A spot interest sold March against purchases of July.

Near the end of the first hour prices held 1 lower to 2 higher; March (old) 11.00; July (old) 10.39; May (new) 10.87.

Futures closed 4 lower to 3 higher.

LEAD, ZINC AND COPPER

Lead was steady at $5.35 per 100 pounds in St. Louis today. Zinc was steady at $5.75 per 100 pounds.

NEW YORK, Jan. 20.—Copper unsettled; electrolytic, spot, $12.25@12.50; export, $12. Tin steady; spot and nearby, $46; forward, $45. Lead steady; spot New York, $5.50@5.55; East St. Louis, $5.35. Zinc steady; East St. Louis, spot and forward, $5.75. Pig iron, aluminum, antimony, quicksilver, platinum, Chinese wolframite and domestic scheelite unchanged.

NEW YORK, Jan. 20 (AP).—Production of lead in the United States in December declined to 45,615 tons, from 48,467 in November, the American Bureau of Metal Statistics reported. In December, 1938, production was 34,683 tons. Stocks on hand at the end of December were 58,777 tons, against 58,061 in November, and 115,902 in December, 1938. Domestic shipments last month were 44,881, compared with 64,365 in December, and 33,908 in December of the previous year.

NEW YORK, Jan. 20.—St. Joseph Lead Co. reported 75 tons of Southeast Missouri pig lead sold yesterday at $5.35 per 100 pounds, East St. Louis, and 100 tons at the New York average.

U. S. ISSUES REACT LATE

AMSTERDAM, Jan. 20 (AP).—American shares closed below overnight parities in the Bourse today, reacting late in the session after a higher opening. Tin shares weakened as prices for that metal were lowered.

Dutch bonds were well maintained. Dealings otherwise were at a minimum as trades waited for new political developments.

London, Liverpool and Paris, closed.

OIL STOCKS DECREASE

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20 (AP). — The Bureau of Mines reported today stocks of domestic and foreign crude petroleum at the close of the week ended Jan. 13 totaled 238,249,000 barrels, a net decrease of 332,000 barrels compared with the previous week. Stocks of domestic oil decreased 107,000 barrels for the week and foreign crude decreased 225,000 barrels.

Daily average production for the week was 3,592,000 barrels, an increase of 8000 barrels, compared with the previous week's level. Runs to stills averaged 3,520,000 barrels daily.

Sugar.

NEW YORK, Jan. 20.—World futures took the lead in a thin sugar market today.

Trade and operator buying developed on reports of further labor difficulties in Cuban producing areas.

Offerings were small and limited to profit-taking.

Domestic contracts were less active. Prices held steady. Trade houses and producing interests were buyers. The former took contracts against sales of raw sugar. Selling came mainly from Wall street and speculative sources.

Raw sugar was quiet. Cubas remained available 2.95 cents, duty paid. One cargo of Puerto Ricos at New York was offered at 2.92 cents but other duty free offerings were quoted 2.95. Refined also was quiet with refiners still accepting orders for the next six months at 4.50 cents.

Futures No. 3 closed unchanged to 1 higher. Sales 5800 tons. March 1.95, May 2.00b, July 2.04b, No. 4 futures ½@2½ higher. Sales 4550 tons. March 1.58½b, May 1.55b, July 1.54½b.

COMMODITY MARKETS

NEW YORK, Jan. 20 (AP).—Wheat dropped about 1 cent a bushel at the start of trade in the Chicago pit, then started a slow climb that left final prices unchanged to ¼ cent lower. Corn was unchanged to ⅛c higher.

Dealings in other major staples for future delivery were just about as decisive.

Cotton swung back and forth at New York and came to rest 20c a bale lower to 15c higher. Selling by local interests nipped an attempt to rally.

Copper closed unchanged to .07 of a cent a pound down following evidence of fresh weakness in the price of refined metal.

Others sliced a little lower at New York included lead, Straits tin, Santos coffee, wool tops, cocoa and rubber. Hides shifted unevenly while cottonseed oil and sugar posted small gains.

Hogs at Chicago lost 10 to 15 cents a hundredweight at a top of $5.75 when the largest Saturday shipments in some time came to market.

The Associated Press weighted index of 35 wholesale spot commodities, based on 1926 as 100, advanced to 74.95 from 74.94 Friday.

WHEAT PRICE IS LITTLE CHANGED AT THE CLOSE

CHICAGO, Jan. 20 (AP).—Wheat prices dropped about a cent a bushel in early trading today, and then spent the rest of the session in a slow rally which eventually wiped out practically all of the ...

The unsettled trade reflected selling ... spired by milder temperatures over most of the belt and uncertainty regarding producers' plans in connection with large quantities of 1938 and 1939 grain now held in storage under Government loans.

Wheat closed unchanged to ¼ lower compared with yesterday, May $1.01½-1.01¼, July 98⅝@½c; corn unchanged to ⅛c higher, May 58⅝@½c, July 58⅝; oats unchanged to ⅛c down.

Reports indicated spring wheat belt moisture conditions had been improved by recent snows, but from some sections of the Ohio Valley came advices that snow covering was inadequate over parts of the soft winter wheat belt and that the cold wave was regarded as a threat to the crop. There were also reports of damage to grain in parts of Texas.

Government announcement that loans on 1938 wheat expiring March 31 and on 1939 wheat maturing April 30 would not be renewed except in certain cases attracted much attention in the trade. Inasmuch as current market prices are 20 cents a bushel or more in some instances above loan rates, traders believe most producers will find it to their advantage to redeem wheat and sell on the market. After redemption, however, it would not be necessary to sell the wheat immediately.

How much wheat this development will free from loans the next few months could not be estimated. Approximately 160,000,000 bushels are under loan now in addition to liberal quantities which producers have retained ownership. The condition of the market, now governed mostly by crop prospects in 1940, would determine to a large extent how rapidly this wheat is put into consumptive channels, traders said.

Some traders were inclined to look for improved flour demand due to resumption of subsidy operations in Pacific Coast wheat and flour but there were no signs of this today although some buying of the rally was credited to milling interests.

Corn and oats prices were about steady but rye declined slightly in sympathy with wheat.

Lard declined with hogs.

MERCHANTS' EXCHANGE, Jan. 20.—In the cash grain section of the market today corn was unchanged. Wheat was nominally unchanged.

Sale made on the floor of the Exchange today was as follows:

CARDINAL OFFICIALS TO STUDY AGREEMENTS WITH 10 CLUBS

Billikens Seek 4th Victory

By James M. Gould.

Appearing on their home court for the last time until they meet the Washington U. Bears, Feb. 13, the St. Louis University Billikens oppose the Missouri Miners from Rolla at the University Gym tonight with action beginning at 8:15 o'clock. The Billiken freshmen will play Parks Air College in a preliminary. It will be the last non-conference contest for the Billikens.

In eight games, thus far, the Billikens have won three and lost five. Coach Jack Sterrett's team won a previous game from the Miners at Rolla, 37 to 26, defeated Centenary, 34 to 26, and earned their most heartening victory when they toppled the Washington Bears in a Valley game, 26 to 24. Defeats have come at the hands of the Macomb (Ill.) Teachers, Missouri U. (twice), Drake and Washburn.

In the eight games, St. Louis has averaged about 33 points on offense and has allowed the opposition about four points more a game.

With three sophomores in the lineup, Coach Sterrett has had to do some experimenting before reaching the conclusion that his latest combination is his strongest. This consists of Capt. Dudenhoeffer at one forward with McDevitt, the team's high-scorer, as his running mate. Steiz, like Dudenhoeffer, a letterman, is at center and two sophomores, Brady and Bandle, handle the guard assignments.

Coach Percy Gill of the Miners expects to start Capt. Kamper and Cook at the forwards, Bruce at center and Wampler and Romaine at the guards.

Georgia Trials Won By Young's Billie

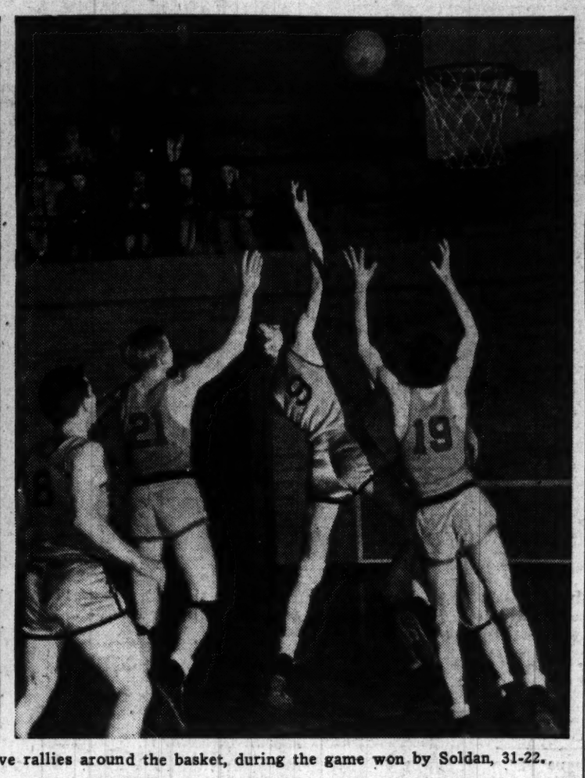

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

WAYNESBORO, Ga., Jan. 20.—Young's Billie, pointer dog owned by H. J. Yoakum of Houston, Tex., won first place prize of $500 in the open all-age stake of the Georgia Field Trial Association meeting yesterday.

Tip's Topsy Top, pointer dog owned by Raymond Hoagland of Cartersville, Ga., took second prize of $300. Bill's Dr. Ricks, pointer dog owned by C. F. Gaines of Sherburne, N. Y., and Sioux Bacon Shals Jake, owned by W. R. Plowden of Sumter, S. C., tied for third place.

HANDS UP!

Soldan Wins From Central and Ties For League Lead

By Harold Tuthill

Soldan uncorked a last-quarter rush that enabled the Tigers to defeat Central, 31 to 22, in the first game of last night's City High School League basketball tripleheader at the St. Louis University gymnasium. The victory put Soldan in a tie with McKinley for the lead, each school owning three victories and no defeats.

Beaumont moved into a tie with Cleveland for the runner-up position by toying with Southwest, 32 to 9, after Roosevelt upset Blewett, 19 to 17, in 32 seconds of an overtime period.

The rise of Soldan to the co-leadership has been marked by a weekly scoring star. In the first game it was Dave Bornestein with 11, last week it was Ervin Tullman with 26 and last night it was Henry Holtzman with 18 points.

It was Holtzman who turned the tide definitely in favor of the West Enders, who only had a 19-to-18 lead going into the last eight minutes. The lanky Soldan center dropped in four field goals during that time, which, with one apiece by Joe Dowdy and Bornestein, made the final result rather one-sided. Particularly since Central counted only on field goals by Wayne Batteiger and Ken Wulfemeyer.

Roosevelt's Rally.

Roosevelt, victim of several overtime defeats last season and on the short end of last week's extra period game with McKinley, put a crimp in Blewett's championship hopes by reversing the procedure

Tulsa's Hockey Players Fined

TULSA, Ok., Jan. 20 (AP).—GEORGE LACKEY, president of the Tulsa Hockey Club, said he was imposing a blanket fine on the 10 Oilers he said, after being informed the Tulsans put up a "disgraceful, lackadaisical exhibition."

St. Louis scored 10 goals in the last period and the total of 16 was a new American Hockey Association record.

Lackey reached the decision, players who participated in the game which St. Louis won, 16-2, Thursday night. He declined to say how much he would fine each one.

Songer and Gerst to Play With Havanas

Two former collegiate foes, Walter Songer, who played at St. Louis University, and Bob Gerst, who starred at Washington University, will be in the starting lineup of the Havana Club when it opposes the United Service Cars tomorrow afternoon at Municipal Auditorium. The game is scheduled for 2 o'clock, a preliminary to the Missouri Valley A. A. U. game between the St. Louis Rangers and the Phillips 66 quintet of Bartlesville, Ok.

Ray January will be paired with Songer at forward, Ted Bristol will be at guard with Gerst, and Gene Globig will be at center for the Havana club. The starting Service Car five will have Henry Krey and Elmer Serb at forwards, Carl Weidner at center and Howard Bartman and Allen Hug at guards.

Phillips Win, 43-23.

CULVER, Ind., Jan. 20 (AP).—The Phillips 66 national amateur basketball team from Bartlesville, Ok., outfought the LaSalle Hotel Cavaliers of Chicago in the second half of an exhibition hardwood game here tonight and won by a score of 43 to 23.

The Oklahoma five led at the intermission, 24 to 20, and came back strong to pile up a larger advantage. The Chicagoans faded and were held scoreless until the final five minutes of play.

Frank Groves and Bill Martin led the winners with eight points each, while Center Anderson paced the Cavaliers with 11 points.

Racing Dates for 3 Kentucky Tracks

LEXINGTON, Ky., Jan. 20 (AP).—The State Racing Commission awarded racing dates to three Kentucky tracks yesterday.

They are Keeneland, 11 days, from April 11 through April 25; Churchill Downs, 19 days, April 27 through May 18, and Dade Park, 26 days, Aug. 3 through Sept. 2.

A fourth Kentucky track, Latonia, is expected to apply later.

Goggin, Dark Horse In Frisco Tourney, Plays Byron Nelson

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 20 (AP).—Eight survivors swung off in the quarterfinal round of the $5000 San Francisco match play open golf tournament today with a local entry, Willie Goggin, in the "Man of the Hour" role.

Whether he would retain the honor throughout the day was problematical, but for the time being he was the central figure of a series of golfing dramas in which some of the country's nationally famed players took minor parts.

Goggin, in the throes of a subpar wave of ball-belting, squared off with the U. S. Open champion, Byron Nelson of Toledo, O.

To reach the quarterfinals, Goggin knocked two famed competitors out of the running in the opening rounds. He polished off the tournament medalist, and recent Los Angeles Open winner, Lawson Little of Bretton Woods, N. H., and followed up the sensational upset by eliminating Clayton Heafner of Linville, N. C. The scores were identical, 3 and 2.

Nelson at His Best.

Nelson, approaching peak form after illness that caused him to pass up the last two events of the winter swing, came up to the third round with wins over Charles Klein, Alice, Tex., 3 and 2, and "Red" Francis, Altoona, Pa., 1 up.

Off their showings, Goggin ap-

Breadon, Rickey Want to Know if They'll Aid Birds

President of St. Louis Team Declares There Is No Use Continuing Working Arrangements With Minor Teams if Major Leaguers Are Not Benefited.

The Cardinals requested the return of papers covering working agreements with 10 minor league teams to determine whether they can be profitably continued in view of a recent ruling by Commissioner K. M. Landis, Sam Breadon, Redbird president, said this morning.

A dispatch from Durham, N. C., stated that W. G. Bramham, president of the Minor Baseball Leagues, had complied with a request of Branch Rickey, vice-president and general manager of the Cardinals, to return to him the working agreements.

Breadon stated that the move did not necessarily mean that the working agreements would be discontinued.

"We want to know more about the Judge's ruling," he said. "It's not very clear. And if there can be no benefit obtained by having working agreements with minor league teams there's no sense in having them. We want to know more about the decision before determining whether to continue the agreements."

The agreements recalled were with clubs at Albuquerque, N. M., Cambridge, Md., Caruthersville, Mo., Daytona Beach, Fla., Duluth, Minn., Kilgore, Tex., Mobile, Ala., Union City, Tenn., Washington, Pa., and Williamson, W. Va.

Two more Cardinal youngsters have signed their 1940 contracts, the Redbird office announced. Joseph Francis (Red) Barrett and Harry Brecheen, young right-handed pitchers, are the latest to decorate the dotted line.

Senator Owner Seeks Bids on Lighting Plant

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20 (AP).—PRESIDENT CLARK GRIFFITH of the Washington Senators, once an enemy of night baseball, asked technicians yesterday to give him an estimate on the cost of lighting Griffith Stadium for night games.

Griffith declared, however, that he had not made up his mind to install lights in the park.

The lighting engineers told Griffith that, if he should decide to light the park, they might be able to complete the system before the close of the 1940 season.

Fry Resigns As Coach at Kansas State

MANHATTAN, Kan., Jan. 20 (AP).—Resignations of both head Football Coach Wes Fry and Line Coach Stanley Williamson were announced today by M. F. (Mike) Ahearn, director of athletics at Kansas State College.

Ahearn added that both resignations would be discussed at a meeting of the Kansas State Faculty Council on Athletics tomorrow afternoon.

The resignations were handed in two days ago, Ahearn said, but were kept secret in hopes that the difficulties between the two coaches could be ironed out.

Former Skate Champion Dies.

NEW YORK, Jan. 20 (AP).—Benjamin McCready Phillips, 65 years old, real estate operator and one-time national amateur speed skating champion, died of a heart attack yesterday.

Kansas State Wins From Husker Five

MANHATTAN, Kan., Jan. 20 (AP).—Kansas State's improved basketball team climbed out of the Big Six cellar last night by defeating the Nebraska Cornhuskers, 32 to 25.

The Wildcats held the Huskers with a tight defense and made up for the visitors' big height advantage with a scrappy floor game.

Municipal Soccer Games Called Off

All Municipal League soccer games scheduled for tomorrow have been called off because if ice and snow on the fields, it was announced by the Department of Recreation this morning.

Weather conditions have forced the calling off of some or all municipal soccer games for the past six weeks.

Alloo Beats Hare In Florida Tourney

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., Jan. 20 (AP).—Ed Alloo of Berkeley, Cal., defeated Charles Hare, British Davis Cup player, 6-3, 3-6, 6-2, in a quarterfinal match of the Florida West Coast tennis tournament today.

16-Year-Old Church Team Players 'Ripe' for Pivot Plays

With Lessons in Shooting, Passing, Catching and Defense Technique Should Come Set Plays to Co-ordinate the Club Into a Unit.

No. 5—Pivot Plays—By

Hudson A. Hellmich

Basketball Coach, Washington University.

A letter received several days ago requested some information about the organizing of a church basketball team composed of boys about 16 years old. The questioner, never having coached before, is naturally in a dilemma. Sixteen-year-old boys are ripe for some technical instruction on the fundamentals of basketball.

Time can be well spent on such techniques as passing, catching the ball, shooting and some sort of defensive principles. Many books are available and the use of any one of these is desirable so that correct habits may be formed.

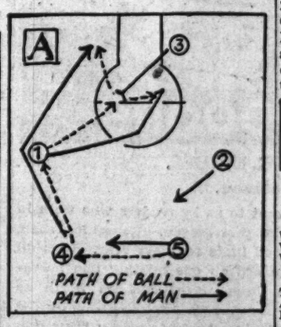

Hellmich.

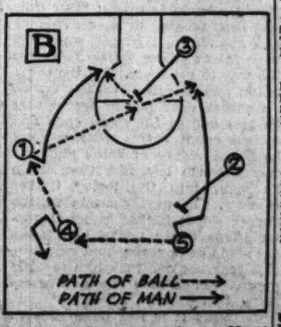

In shooting, most coaches advocate keeping the eyes trained on the front rim of the basket from the time the ball leaves the hand until it reaches the basket. Also, a good "follow through" by the arms is desirable. In learning to catch passes, it is wise to watch the ball intently until it is safely within the hands.

With regard to defense, a basketball player seldom makes an error if he adheres to the principle of staying three to four feet away from his opponent and always between him and the basket. With the learning of these fundamentals should come the use of several set plays to co-ordinate the five players of a team into a unit which will operate smoothly. I have diagramed plays which are simple enough to facilitate learning, yet very effective if properly executed.

In A, the single pivot play is shown. It can be run on either side, but as shown, Guard No. 4 passes to Forward No. 1 and breaks past him on the outside and on toward the basket. No. 1 passes to center, No. 3, in the free-throw circle, follows his pass and breaks past No. 3 as indicated. Pivot man No. 3 has the option of passing to No. 4 or No. 1, whichever may be open as they pass him.

Diagram B shows a "weak side" pivot play in which the first two passes, No. 4 to No. 1 and No. 1 to No. 3, are the same as in A. No. 4 fakes to break for the basket but returns and No. 2 screens, as indicated, for No. 5, who breaks for the basket. Pivot man No. 3 again has two options, either passing to No. 1 or No. 5, whichever may be open. These two plays work very well when used alternately, and, as both can be run from either side, give four different set-ups.

WRAY'S COLUMN

His Dream Came True.

THERE was a race in Boston Garden a few days ago that the glamour boys of the press termed the "dream mile." It lived up to its name for one man, Gene Venzke.

For three years Gene had seen nothing of Glenn Cunningham in a race except the Kansan's heels. For three years he had dreamed of one day finishing ahead of the country's greatest miler.

And then at last, in that "dream mile," his dream came true. He finished one foot ahead of Cunningham in 4 minutes 13.1 seconds.

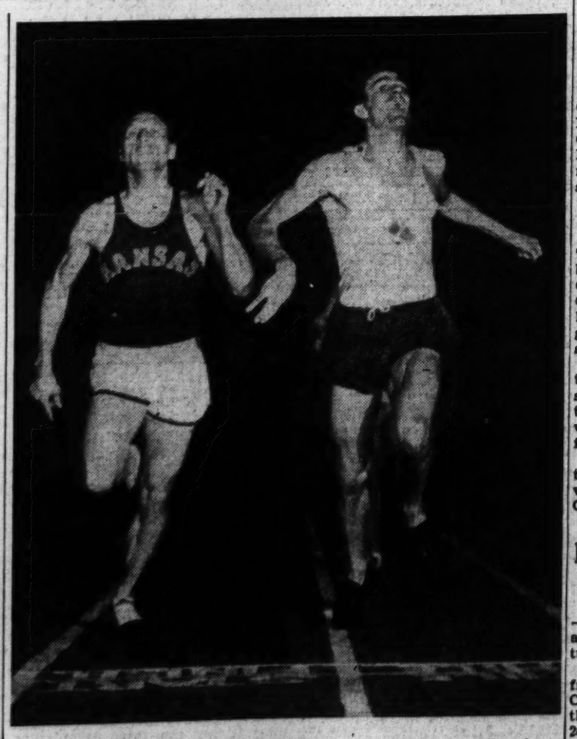

And what made the dream sweeter was that behind himself and Cunningham finished a famous field, including Wayne Rideout, Archie San Romani and the former Olympic mile champion, the Italian Luigi Beccali.

VENZKE HAS BEEN a good miler for years—ever since he was in prep school and all during his University of Pennsylvania days he was expected to blossom into one of the truly greats. But near the top he hung fire. He remained good, but failed to become truly great. Cunningham and other milers came up and passed him. He was consistently in the money, seldom in front—in top company.

Now, late, he has arrived. Athletes are wondering if he has come to stay and will remain a top factor in mile running this year. That seems unlikely, at this stage of his

Reserve Guard Sparks Tulsa in 37-23 Victory Over Bears

Crow Gets 4 Goals in 10 Minutes

Center Lee Stars as Washington Five Drops Its Fourth Consecutive Valley Contest.

TULSA, Ok., Jan. 20 (AP).—Washington University's Bears resisted stubbornly here last night until a junior reserve guard, Howard Crow, entered the Tulsa University lineup in the last 10 minutes to spur the Hurricanes to a 37-23 Missouri Valley Conference basketball victory. It was Washington's fourth straight Valley defeat.

Desmond Lee, Washington's center, usually took the ball off both backboards to slow Tulsa's offense and was high scorer with 10 points, including three goals afield.

The sparkling Crow, however, led in baskets from scrimmage with four. A Washington drive had cut the Tulsa edge to 22-20 when he left the bench.

Harry Lamprich, Hurricane forward, connected after that and then Crow popped out of a scramble to lay in a setup. Before the minute ended, he had dropped in a long shot. He punched the hoop twice again, with Lamprich scoring in between. Lamprich paced the Tulsa offensive with nine points.

A slim crowd of about 300 saw the Hurricanes begin their conference campaign at home.

Jack Brown, starting at forward for the injured Bob Patterson, led Tulsa into an early lead, but the Bears bounced back to tie it, 10-10, midway of the first half, the only time they weren't behind. The half-time score favored Tulsa, 19-12.

The Hurricanes' first-half passing was the best the five has displayed this season. Fast breaking kept the Bears on the defense most of the period.

Trailing, 12-20, early in the closing half, Washington started clicking with guard Bud Schwenk and Lee hitting a free toss each and Huey, another guard, looping a field goal to trim it to 16-20.

Clarence Ehlers, Tulsa guard, counted from the field for Tulsa and Lee and Lutz, forward, made a free goal apiece. Then guard MacLean sank a bucket to pull the Bears to 20-22. From there, Crow took over.

Catcher Brucker Signs Contract

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 20 (AP).—Earl Brucker, veteran catcher of Connie Mack's Athletics, has signed his 1940 contract, officials of the Philadelphia American League baseball club announced today. Brucker, a resident of San Diego, Cal., experienced a batting slump last season after consistently hitting better than .300 in previous seasons, but is regarded as a valuable handler of young pitchers.

Soldan Wins, Ties for Lead in Basket Race

last night. The loss was Blewett's second in three starts.

Roosevelt took the floor at the start of the second half trailing 15 to 5. When Jim Dodson sank a field goal for Blewett in the third period that represented all the scoring done by his team in the second half. Dodson's goal was matched by John Moore, leaving Roosevelt still 10 points behind as the final session got under way.

Blewett was unable to hold the lead, however, and Moore of Roosevelt said to Referee Roy Newsom at the four-minute mark, "Mr. Nemsom, take the lid off that basket." Of course, there wasn't any lid to take off, but something happened because Roosevelt began to pour shots through the hoop. Then Bob Nelson's goal in the closing seconds tied the score at 17-all.

Dodson, Blewett's red-headed forward, missed a try as the overtime period opened and a short time later at the other end of the floor fouled Jack Melchior in the act of shooting. Melchior approached Referee Newsom and asked, "Mr. Newsom, if I make both free throws, will I win the game?"

"You certainly will," Newsom answered.

"Okay, then," Melchior said, "I'll make them."

And he did to give the Rough Riders their first league victory in four engagements.

16 Beaumont Players.

Coach Tom Stanton used 16 Beaumont players in routing Southwest. The only distinguishing feature of the game was Cliff Harrison's 15 points which threw him in a tie with Tullman of Soldan for the league lead, each having 37. Ken Rodermund of Cleveland, last week's leader, dropped to second place, a point behind.

The cold weather held the attendance down to 1500.

Evidently the cold affected the scoring of the teams because the average number of points per contest was 41, or a little more than 20 per team.

Kansas City at Arena Tomorrow

Butch Keeling and his Kansas City Greyhounds are to face the league-leading Flyers at the Arena tomorrow.

The Flyers, who turned in a 16-to-2 victory over the Tulsa Oilers Thursday, to establish a new American Hockey Association scoring record, were given day of rest yesterday as a reward for their feat by Manager Johnny MacKinnon. MacKinnon ordered his squad to report at the Arena today at noon for a workout.

The Hounds have yet to win a decision over the local sextet this season.

Eureka and Ferguson in Tie for Lead

Jennings High School was dropped from the three-way tie for first place in the County League basketball race, being routed by Eureka, 20 to 9, in a game last night. The defeat for Jennings left Eureka and Ferguson, which won from Affton, 27-11, deadlocked for the lead.

In other league contests, Valley Park gained a 31-25 decision over Brentwood, while Fairview smothered Hancock, 40-22. In a non-league game, Riverview Gardens eked out a 24-23 decision over the Memphis (Mo.) five.

Maplewood gained undisputed possession of first place in the Suburban League with a 23-19 victory over Webster Groves, while University City upset Normandy, 32-23. St. Charles continued its winning streak, defeating Clayton, 23-21.

Country Day School's A quintet gained its sixth consecutive victory, defeating John Burroughs, 41-26, on the Country Day floor. It was Country Day's second A victory and put the team in first place in the title race. Ted Garvey, the winner's center, scored 12 points.

In a Catholic League game, St. Peter's of St. Charles won its first league start, defeating Central Catholic, 24-21. South Side Catholic, of the Prep League, defeated Cathedral High of the Catholic League, 32-14, in a non-league battle.

Granite City gained its ninth consecutive victory of the season, drubbing Alton, 45-26, in a Southwestern Illinois Conference game. Wood River defeated East St. Louis, 34-18, while Edwardsville upset Collinsville, 21-19. Madison dropped its eighth straight game, losing to Belleville, 37-25.

Michigan Team Sets Swim Mark

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Jan. 20 (AP).—On the say so of Matt Mann, Michigan coach, the Michigan swimming team is the best collegiate array in the United States today—and some 2550 fans who jammed Yale's natatorium to watch the powerful Wolverines scuttle the Elis, 46 to 29, last night, would be willing to take his word.

Michigan's perennial national collegiate and Big Ten champs flashed a virtually flawless exhibition of speed and strength to dominate the intersectional meet, capture seven of the nine events, smash a United States standard and tie another mark.

The Sharemet brothers, Gus and John, a couple of sophomores, were outstanding for the victors with brilliant individual performances.

Michigan's 400-yard relay team consisting of Charles Barker, Tom Williams, Will Holmes and Gus Sharemet, shattered the national college record, churning over the distance in 3:31.8 to better the previous mark of 3.32.2 it had held with Ohio State. Barker tied the 50-yard free style sprint pool record of 23.2 made by Charley Hutter of Harvard four years ago.

Yale's only victories were scored in the dive and 220-yard free style.

Two Meets, 64 Days For Narragansett

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Jan. 20 (AP).—Narragansett Park will stage two race meets totaling 64 days of racing in 1940. Louis C. Gerry, State administrator of racing and athletics, said the first meet of 28 days will run from April 17 through May 18 and the second of 36 days from Aug. 26 through Oct. 5.

A Light Breaks.

THE cold wave brought a streak of luck
For, as the zero hour struck
There came a ray of light.
The Browns and Cardinals agreed
To cater to a crying need,
And play baseball at night.

The Browns' directors ratified
The plans, as they are satisfied
The scheme is bound to pay.
So when their seven games they book,
Like first division it will look
By night as well as day.

The Browns having agreed to go in with the Cards on a 50-50 basis, all they have to do is go ahead with the plans drawn three years ago. Of course, the time element will be an important factor as regards 1940. However, if you can't take time by the forelock, grab him where the hair is short and freeze on.

Turning the floodlights on the cellar will be a break for the old clientele of former years who couldn't "see" the Browns in the day time. The history of night baseball has been that the lights bring out the fans win, lose or draw.

See where the trustees of the Comiskey estate want to put on a sale of White Sox. The Comiskey heirs say they'll be darned if they do.

Charley Comiskey, the Old Roman, got his franchise for nothing and ran it into a $2,000,000 plant in a few years. To the pioneer belong the pioneer's profits.

Lefty Grove, with 40 summers and several hard falls under his belt, signed his Red Sox contract the other day and departed for Hot Springs declaring that he expected to go on pitching "indefinitely." As Lefty's record last year was 15-4 in 23 starts, don't bet that he won't make good on his threat.

career. Also, his time, while excellent, is almost nine seconds lower than Cunningham's best.

To maintain his advantage during the coming indoor and outdoor miles of the year. Venzke probably will have to cut several seconds off of his Boston Garden time. Can he do it? * * *

The Older the Whiter.

NEW LIGHT on the "white" race horse debate. This time we are indebted to A. H. Pendleton, president of the Missouri Riding Stables and a former starter of Grand Circuit races, for the information that gray horses sometimes become white as they grow older. Mr. Pendleton writes:

"For your information many pure white horses have come under my observation. Practically every gray horse eventually becomes white, depending on the age of the horse. Each year they shed lighter.

"When I first saw Dandy Jim, 2:09¼, he was absolutely white regardless of his former color. This was about 1903 or 1904, I think.

"The grand dam of the world champion trotter Greyhound, Zombrewer (2:04¼) was white; and Greyhound himself is getting lighter each year. The white mare Bridget (2:17¼) by Direction, owned in Kansas City years ago, and driven by Howard Perry, was as white as the proverbial sheet. Many white horses that have raced have been listed as gray when the fact of the matter was they were white in color. Princess Welcome (2:07¼) by Lodaller, came under this heading."

Well, in the matter of hair, the horse has nothing on mankind, then. Sorry to say, this writer can testify Started brown, it's now pretty gray, and in course of time, like Dandy Jim, we'll soon be white.

And so that spills the beans for Snow White, said to be the only white trotter.

peared to have the edge. He finished each of his first two rounds two under par, whereas Nelson was above the figures rated as standard golf.

Interest also was focused on a match in the lower bracket, bringing together two Oak Park (Ill.) stars, Horton Smith and Dick Metz, the latter defending tournament champion.

Smith, veteran of the golfing wars, upset second round predictions by trimming Harold McSpaden, top flighter from Winchester, Mass., and winner of the recent Philippines Open. The count was 2 and 1. In the opening 18 Smith outshot Dennis Lavender, Dallas, Tex., 3 and 1.

Metz, after a narrow first round squeak in which he nosed out John Diflure, Los Angeles, on the nineteenth, defeated Felix Serafin, Scranton, Pa., 3 and 1.

Wood Opposes Oliver.

Craig Wood, Mamaroneck, N. Y., and Ed Oliver, youthful entry from Hornell, N. Y., teed off in the other upper bracket setto while the other lower group match pitted Jimmy Demaret of Houston, Tex., against Jimmy Hines of Great Neck, L. I.

Wood advanced with wins over Rod Munday, White Plains, N. Y., 3 and 2, and W. A. Stackhouse, Sequin, Tex., 4 and 3. Oliver scored impressively over Jimmy Thomson, Chicopee, Mass., 3 and 2, and over Ben Hogan, White Plains, N. Y., 2 and 1.

Hines turned back Tom Popresti, Sacramento, Cal., 5 and 4, after outlasting Fay Coleman, Culver City, Cal., in a 21-hole first round struggle. Coleman missed a cinch win two-foot putt on the eighteenth to prolong the match.

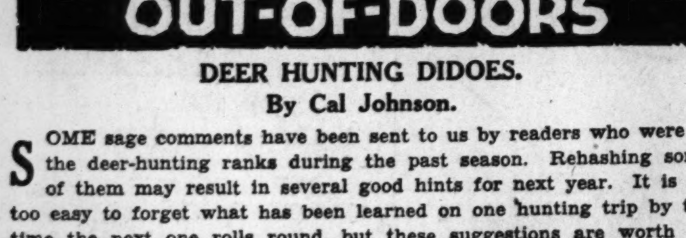

Eighteen hole semifinal matches are scheduled for the afternoon with the 36-hole windup tomorrow. The tournament winner will receive $1000.

McKendree Five Loses to Eureka

LEBANON, Ill., Jan. 20 (AP).—Eureka's Red Devils outlasted McKendree in a non-conference basketball game here last night, winning 27 to 24, on a spurt in the last 10 minutes.

The visitors held a 17 to 11 advantage at the half but the Bearcats knotted the count at 19-all in the second half on a rally sparked by Marvin Corvine, freshman forward. Hershell Moberry, Eureka center, then sent two fielders through the hoop to enable his team to pull away again. Moberry, with eight points, was high scorer, while Corvine topped the losers with seven.

DEER HUNTING DIDOES.

By Cal Johnson.

SOME sage comments have been sent to us by readers who were in the deer-hunting ranks during the past season. Rehashing some of them may result in several good hints for next year. It is all too easy to forget what has been learned on one hunting trip by the time the next one rolls round, but these suggestions are worth an effort to hold.

A high percentage of the deer hunters appears to have had the good fortune to get meat, but there were the usual disappointments. The average report that deer are plentiful and that in most of our deer states the conservation work has been good and the laws fair.

It may surprise some people to learn that much of the successful hunting was done near sizeable towns and not in the far distant wilds. One reader who lives in a town of 8000 writes that a party of seven brought down four bucks without ever going more than 10 miles from home. A year ago they didn't have such good luck and had a lot more hardships when they went far north and worked the wilderness.

The food supply is the reason for results near town. The deer are wise and have found that farm country is a good provider and that there is many a good meal to be found on farmers' back lots and in the fields. By hunting what this writer calls the "looked-over areas," the party found big, fat deer in plenty. Again to quote: "Our deer had been feeding in back clearings and abandoned pastures, and they were fat as young heifers." That's the way to get them. Let the other fellow have the aged, stringy bucks.

Another deer hunter wrote that he had hunted the more open and settled country this year because he found plenty of game and was taking much less risk than when he went into the heavy timber country. In past seasons in the deeper woods he had run into too-ambitious hunters who had taken pot shots at anything moving while this year not one took him for fair game. Looks as if he had something there.

Certainly it is less dangerous to hunt in open country, much easier, with less risk of getting lost. Landmarks are easier to locate, and accommodations are generally better where it is more settled. It means something to come back to a warm cabin and comfortable bunk after a hard day of terkking around in the cold of late fall. After all, deer are where you find them.

ITALY INCREASES MILITARY OUTLAY TO RECORD HIGH

Cabinet Sets by $1,745,000,000 for Fiscal Year; $542,000,000 for Army and Navy.

ROME, Jan. 20 (AP).—Premier Mussolini's Government today approved Italy's biggest military budget since the World War to meet dangers growing out of the current European war.

The Cabinet authorized expenditure of 10,846,000,000 lire (about $542,000,000) for military purposes in the fiscal year beginning next July 1.

The enlarged military expenditures represented an actual increase of about $75,000,000 over the current military budget, which has been progressively increased by emergency appropriations to about $469,563,200.

The total 1940-41 budget, which the Cabinet approved, was set at 34,896,000,000 lire (about $1,745,000,000), with a deficit of about 6,000,000,000 lire ($300,000,000).

A Cabinet statement said the large arms appropriations for the army, navy and air force were designed to "meet the undeniable necessity of placing the armed forces in a condition which will assure the greatest efficiency for any event."

Italy, a high authority said, would be absent from the Balkan entente conference at Belgrade Feb. 2, not even sending an observer, as some had expected.

The Italian decision, along with reports that Hungary and Bulgaria also would refrain from sending observers, has narrowed the scope of the meeting, in the view of diplomatic circles.

Italy's desire to avoid any contact with the entente of Rumania, Yugoslavia, Turkey and Greece, which long has been considered as under French tutelage, was understood to be the reason for Rome's hands-off attitude. Premier Mussolini has preferred to carry out his foreign policy through direct diplomatic contact with individual capitals.

That Italy considers the dangers of the conflict real is shown by the fact it is rushing its army into a state of readiness for spring. Army leaves are expected to terminate by April, so the present force of 800,000 men will be back to more than 1,000,000 — perhaps 1,500,000. New guns, tanks and airplanes will be ready. Stocks of supplies will be stored.

The rationing of sugar, effective Feb. 1, was ordered today. Each person will be allowed 500 grams, or one and one-tenth pounds, monthly.

Coffee recently was ordered restricted to 50 grams (1.7 ounces) a person a month.

Yugoslav and Rumanian Ministers Discuss Policy.

BUCHAREST, Jan. 20 (AP).—Foreign Ministers Grigore Gafencu of Rumania and Alksander Cincar-Markovic of Yugoslavia held a secret discussion on Balkan policy today. They met at the castle owned by Queen Elizabeth of Greece near Timisoara, Rumania, where King Carol II of Rumania and Regent Prince Paul of Yugoslavia conferred Jan. 12.

Despite the mystery which surrounded the meeting of the Foreign Ministers it was reported, unofficially, that Yugoslavia is seeking a Rumanian-Hungarian rapprochement to strengthen the neutrality of Southeastern Europe.

JAMES L. HEAD, 74, DIES FOLLOWING FALL AT HOME

Retired Arms Sales Manager Once Won National Trapshooting Championship.

James L. Head, western district sales manager for the Remington Arms Co. until his retirement in 1922 after 30 years of service, died yesterday at St. Anthony's Hospital of complications resulting from a fall at his residence Jan. 7. He was 74 years old, and his home was at 5564 Bartmer avenue.

Mr. Head won a national trapshooting championship in the '90s and once headed an all-American trap shooting team which toured this country and Europe. He was active in organizing the present annual system of national trap shooting competition. Although he retired from active business in 1922 he remained on the payroll of the company.

Besides his widow he is survived by two sons, Kenneth Head, of Cape Girardeau, Mo., and James L. Head, of New York City, and a daughter, Mrs. G. H. Dameron, of Port Allen, La. Funeral services will be held Monday morning at 11 o'clock at the Lupton funeral establishment, 7233 Delmar boulevard. Burial will take place in the family plot at Moberly, Mo.

HEADS PARK SERVICE PROJECT

F. R. Leimkuehler in Charge of Historic Buildings Survey.

F. Ray Leimkuehler, St. Louis architect, has been appointed architect in charge of the Historic American Buildings Survey of the Mississippi Valley, a project of the National Park Service, it was announced yesterday.

The survey will obtain measurements and descriptions of early American buildings. Assistant architects appointed are: Adolph Felder, Joseph P. Marlow, Norman C. Moore, and Herman A. Weiter of St. Louis; William A. Stowe, Columbus, O., and Alfred R. Van Valkenberg, Huntsville, Ala.

LA GUARDIA TURNS HEAT OFF AT COAL STRIKE CONFERENCE

'Rather Chilly in There, Wasn't It?' He Remarks After Parley.

NEW YORK, Jan. 20 (AP).—Mayor LaGuardia trying to end the deadlock in coal strike negotiations, had the radiators turned off in the City Hall conference room yesterday as the union and coal companies were negotiating.

Leaving the meeting after calling another for this morning, he remarked to bystanders: "It was rather chilly in there, wasn't it?"

The union, representing 5000 coal handlers, is seeking a pay increase from $1 to $1.20 an hour and an extra man on each truck.

MISS BESSIE HARRIS, TEACHER MORE THAN 50 YEARS, DIES

Former Acting Principal of Old Douglas School Succumbs at 76.

Miss Bessie Harris, a teacher in St. Louis public schools for more than 50 years and at one time acting principal of the old Douglas School, Eleventh and Howard streets, died of heart disease yesterday at St. John's Hospital.

Miss Harris, who was 76 years old, had been on sick leave for five weeks from Walnut Park School. She was head assistant there, succeeding her sister, Miss Grace Harris, who died about five years ago. She resided at 2015A East Fair avenue.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. Monday at the Matt Hermann chapel, Fair and West Florissant avenues, with interment at St. Peter's Cemetery. Three brothers survive.

GAS REPLACING GASOLINE AS FUEL FOR GERMAN AUTOS

Many Use Substitute Because of War Restrictions; Supply Carried in Cylinders.

BERLIN, Jan. 20 (AP). — Many German motorists are switching from gasoline to gas because of motor fuel restrictions. A slight alteration of the carburetor is all that is necessary.

The gas, a by-product of synthetic gasoline production, was being used by 40,000 heavy trucks and omnibuses in Germany at the end of December. Private motorists likewise have turned in ever-increasing numbers to the fuel substitute, which they carry in steel cylinders on rear luggage racks.

Gas filling stations so far are scarce but new ones are being built throughout Germany.

$250,000 FIRE IN KANSAS CITY

Twenty Rescued From Second Floor of Armour-Troost Building.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Jan. 20 (AP).—Twenty persons were rescued from the second floor of the Armour-Troost Building last night before fire destroyed the two-story structure with a loss estimated by the Fire Chief at $250,000.

Included in the loss were records and printed material of about 150 Kansas and Missouri high school annuals stored in the office of the Printograph Co.

GOV. LONG CALLS SPECIAL SESSION OF LEGISLATURE

Louisiana Executive, Trying to Retain Power, Summons Six-Day Meeting to Enact 18 Bills.

BATON ROUGE, La., Jan. 20 (AP).—Gov. Earl K. Long copied the sensationalism of his late brother, Huey, and called the Louisiana Legislature into special session today as he fought to continue the old machine in power.

Gov. Long's move came suddenly after the forces of Attorney Sam Jones of Lake Charles, second to Long in Tuesday's gubernatorial primary, were strengthened for the runoff election Feb. 20 by the support of State Senator James A. Noe, who was third in the primary.

The Governor signed the call for the extra session a few minutes before midnight, summoning the legislators to convene at 3 p. m. for six days to consider 18 specific proposals.

Among the proposals were repeal of a number of the laws Huey Long had enacted at rapid-fire special sessions in 1934 and 1935.

Among Long's proposals to the Legislature were repeal of the 2-cent sales tax, opening of State bond and tax board records, separate million-dollar appropriations for lunches for needy school children and for social work and authorization of appropriations for unspecified "public purposes."

Repeal of two of Huey P. Long's "dictator" laws was suggested. One prevents sheriffs, in certain cases, from appointing their own deputies. The other allows the Governor to appoint as many members of the East Baton Rouge parish (Baton Rouge) police jury as there are members elected. It was through this law that Huey gained control of the State government.

Virtually complete returns from the primary gave Long 204,901 votes, Jones 138,958 and Noe 104,265. Two other candidates' votes totaled 49,000.

Government Puts St. Louis Lawyer's Net Income for 1936 at $92,237, for 1937 at $73,575.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20.—Petitions filed yesterday with the Board of Tax Appeals, Samuel W. Fordyce, senior partner of the law firm of Fordyce, White, Mayne, Williams & Hartman, 506 Olive street, St. Louis, asked that the board redetermine income tax deficiencies assessed against him by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, amounting to $22,340.90 for the calendar year 1936 and $1095.32 for 1937.

In a notice sent to Fordyce last Oct. 25, Revenue Commissioner Helvering alleged the attorney's net adjusted income for 1936 was $92,237.10, instead of $19,701.38, as listed in his tax return. The larger figure was arrived at in part by disallowing $50,000 which Fordyce had deducted as a $199,000 non-collectable debt owed to him by his brother, W. C. Fordyce; and also $4610.51, which Fordyce had sought to deduct as a capital gain.

For 1937, Helvering contended that the lawyer's net adjusted income was $73,575.13 instead of $71,244.68 as stated in his tax return.

LOWER ESTATE, INCOME TAXES URGED BY JOHN W. HANES

Former Treasury Aid Says Reduction Would Lay Foundation for Business Upsurge.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Jan. 20 (AP).—John W. Hanes, who recently resigned as Undersecretary of the Treasury, expressed last night the "earnest belief" that a reduction in personal income and estate taxes would lay the "foundation for a real business upsurge.

Haynes spoke at the celebration of the fiftieth anniversary of the founding of the Yale Alumni University Fund Association. He said there was no way to stop the shrinkage in endowment income that had been going on for 10 years, that high taxes made it difficult for those on whom a university depended to make contributions and then said:

"It is my belief that the highest rate of taxation upon the taxpayer does not always produce the maximum revenue. I am convinced that the Treasury of the United States will collect a larger total of dollars with a tax bill that takes into broad consideration the effect of the dollars it will leave the taxpayer for expansion and development."

S O S FROM ESTONIAN SHIP

Crew Takes to Lifeboats Off Coast of Norway.

LONDON, Jan. 20 (AP).—A Reuters dispatch from Oslo, Norway, today said the Aalesund wireless station reported an S O S from the 2050-ton Estonian steamer Nautic saying the crew had taken to lifeboats off the coast of Norway.

ULTRA VIOLET RAYS BRIGHTEN BERLIN DURING BLACKOUTS

These and Luminous Paint Give Moonlight Effect Invisible to Planes.

BERLIN, Jan. 20 (AP).—Artificial moonlight is helping brighten the way in blacked-out Berlin. At nightfall, small ultra-violet ray lights are turned on and their rays are reflected against curb stones, street corners, walls and fences by a light gray luminous paint.

The result is a soft silvery-yellow light which conforms with blackout orders because it is not visible from above, even to low-flying planes.

Potsdamerplatz, one of Berlin's busiest downtown squares, glows nightly under this man-made moonlight, facilitating traffic and guiding pedestrians in safety zones.

The lighting effect, cheap, durable and efficient, is a by-product of artificial tar production and was developed by the German dye trust. Other luminous paints have been worked out by chemists of the dye trust. For instance, one may obtain blackout lights in such colors as violet, green, blue, yellow, orange and red.

These paints have replaced simple whitewash which was daubed on curbs, lamp posts and sidewalks when the war brought on strict nightly blackouts.

Show windows, movie theater fronts and facades of other public places soon will be luminous-painted to help brighten the streets at night.

HOUSING SURVEY SUSPENDED UNTIL CENSUS IS COMPLETED

WPA Expediter Says It Was Feared Residents Would Become Weary of Answering Questions.

About 200 WPA workers, who began early in December to make a housing survey in St. Louis, have been transferred to inside jobs with the St. Louis Housing Authority until the Federal Census, to be started in April, is completed in the districts covered by the housing survey.

R. M. Bristol, city WPA expediter, explained that the housing field workers were withdrawn so as not to interfere with the census. Bristol said it was feared residents of the districts affected might become weary of answering questions and resent the appearance of census takers close on the heels of the housing field workers. The WPA workers whose work was halted will assemble and classify the information obtained so far.

It is planned to use the housing information in support of requests by the city for Federal funds for rehabilitation of blighted areas.

FIVE ON ZOO BOARD TO STUDY $400,000 AQUARIUM PLAN

Committee Appointed to Consider Proposal to Build It With 1923 Bond Issue Funds.

The Zoological Board of Control appointed a committee from its own membership yesterday to study the proposal to build a $400,000 fresh water aquarium with 1923 bond issue funds and maintain it out of Zoo revenue.

Those on the committee are George P. Vierheller, director of the Zoo, George E. Diekman, James J. Masterson, Edwin A. Lemp and Deputy Comptroller Charles L. Cunningham.

HULL WON'T SUSPEND SEAWAY NEGOTIATIONS

Declares St. Lawrence River Project Would Benefit Canada and United States.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20 (AP).—Secretary of State Hull refused yesterday a request of Representative Kennedy (Dem.), New York, that he suspend negotiations with Canada for a St. Lawrence seaway pact. Hull defended the proposed waterway as "a great project which would provide extensive benefits to both the United States and Canada."

Kennedy wrote Hull earlier this week urging him to suspend negotiations until the House acted on his resolution for a new congressional study of the seaway development.

In his reply Hull wrote that he could not halt negotiations, pointing out that a Canadian delegation already had been invited to continue in Washington conversations which began in Ottawa two weeks ago.

"It is my hope," Hull continued, "that the current negotiations will result in the conclusion of an agreement between the two countries at an early date.

"If an agreement is concluded it will be subject to the approval of the legislative branch of our Government in accordance with the Constitution. At such a time, it will, of course, be open to the legislative branch of the Government to make such investigation as may be deemed necessary and appropriate in connection with the proposed project.

"At the same time I should point out that I know of no project which has been before the American Government in recent years which has been investigated so thoroughly, both from the standpoint of its engineering and its economic aspects as has the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence project.

"It is therefore my hope that should we be able to reach a satisfactory agreement with Canada it can be implemented by the necessary legislative action without undue delay in order that this great project may go forward at the earliest possible moment."

OWNER BURNED TO DEATH WHEN FIRE DESTROYS SHACK

Charred Body of Henry Hill, Elderly Negro, Found in Ruins on a Dump.

Henry Hill, about 75 years old, a Negro, was burned to death last night when fire destroyed the shack in which he lived on a dump at Hall street and East Adelaide avenue.

His charred body was found in the smoldering ruins of the shack by a passerby this morning. The body was removed by firemen and taken to the morgue. Hill lived alone and had no known relatives.

DALADIER STILL CAN'T WALK

Fractured Instep Causes Him to Meet Ministers at War Office.

PARIS, Jan. 20 (AP).—Premier Edouard Daladier, still unable to walk because of a fractured instep suffered Jan. 7, met the French Council of Ministers at the War Ministry today instead of going to the Elysee Palace as usual for a review of the diplomatic and military situation.

FURNACES START FIRES, DRIVE OCCUPANTS FROM 3 HOUSES

Families Forced to Flee Into Cold; Increased Number of Fire Alarms Reported.

The occupants of three homes were forced to flee into the cold last night by fires started by overheated furnaces.

Three families were routed at midnight from a frame dwelling at 3207 Alfred avenue. They were Bernard Ilges, the owner; William Klug and Leroy Ilges and their families. The damage was estimated at $3000.

The one-story frame home of Angelo Guiffreda, 5240 Daggett avenue, caught fire at 10:25 o'clock, forcing Guiffreda and his family to flee. There was $2800 damage to the house and contents.

Fire at 1:20 a. m. today caused $450 damage at the home of Alfred Horn, 6300 Itaska street.

The fire department responded to 93 alarms yesterday, as compared with 25 for a normal day. There were seven alarms between midnight and 7 o'clock this morning.

Fire broke out in the clothing store of Max Stein, 826 Franklin avenue, at 6:40 o'clock last night, causing $600 damage. The origin was not determined.

DOCTOR, MISSING IN DETROIT GRAFT INQUIRY, IS FOUND

Arrested in Toledo, He Is Held on Charge of Conspiracy to Obstruct Justice.

DETROIT, Jan. 20 (AP).—Dr. Martin B. Robinson, sought since Wednesday by Detroit police and investigators for the one-man grand jury inquiring into gambling and police graft charges, was arrested today in Toledo and returned here before dawn. He had shaved off his mustache during his absence.

The physician's arrest was on a bench warrant charging him and several others with conspiracy to obstruct justice. The Robinson "robbery" case resulted in the biggest shakeup in Detroit Police Department history. Several high ranking officers of the department resigned or were dismissed or demoted following an investigation of the case by Detroit's new Police Commissioner, Frank D. Eaman.

A perjury allegation was made by Circuit Judge Thomas M. Cotter after four men accused of the robbery had been acquitted. The current phase of the grand jury investigation deals with allegations that an attempt was made by gambling interests to "fix" the Robinson case.

WPA Worker Gets 30 Years.

Ernest C. Richardson, a WPA worker, 1751A Mississippi avenue, was sentenced to 30 years in the penitentiary yesterday by a jury which found him guilty of criminal attack. The trial was held before Circuit Judge Ernest F. Oakley.

PROFIT ON LUNCHES; LOSS IN TEA ROOM AND RESTAURANT

This Is Experience of Average Department Store, as Related to Retailers.

NEW YORK, Jan. 20 (AP).—Department stores make money on lunches which average 21 cents, but lose when they average 42 cents and lose a lot when they average 57 cents. This was related to the National Retail Dry Goods Association yesterday by Harry Margules, chairman of staff of the organization's controllers' congress.

Margules pointed with a bit of pride to department stores' luncheonettes, those counter arrangements where sandwiches and sodas are set up.

"The luncheonette's typical customer," he said, "spent 21 cents on the average—the range of average expenditure was 12 cents to 32 cents. This was sufficient to yield the typical luncheonette a net profit of 4.4 per cent on sales."

"The typical customer of the typical tea room spent 42 cents. The typical tea room suffered a net loss of 4.8 per cent.

"The full service restaurant's typical customer paid his check in the amount of 57 cents; the average restaurant loss was 15.9 per cent."

$392,000 SOUGHT OF U. S. BY HEARST AND HIS ESTATE

Claim for Land Taken Over by Government for Addition to Grand Canyon National Park.

PHOENIX, Ariz., Jan. 20 (AP).—William Randolph Hearst and the Hearst Estate, Inc., filed demands in United States District Court yesterday for $392,100 for 207.70 acres of land in Coconino County, Arizona, which the Government took over for an addition to Grand Canyon National Park.

The publisher, as owner of 143.17 acres, seeks $285,800 from the Government, and Hearst Estate, Inc., asks $106,300 for 64.53 acres. The Government acquired the land through condemnation proceedings. Congress appropriated $28,950 as the estimated compensation.

LODGING HOUSE RESIDENT DIES; WILL BEQUEATHS $16,000

G. S. Follis, 60, Leaves $500 for Masses; Rest to Josephine Heitkamp Hospital.

George S. Follis, lodging house resident, who was found to have cash and investment receipts for $16,000 in his threat-bare clothing when he was taken to City Hospital Nov. 17 for treatment of heart disease, died yesterday at Josephine Heitkamp Memorial Hospital, 1640 South Grand boulevard. He was transferred to the private institution from City Hospital.

His will, filed in Probate Court later in the day, directed that $500 be spent from his estate for masses and that the rest go to Josephine Heitkamp Hospital, because of the kindness shown him by the Sisters of Charity of the Incarnate Word, who operate the hospital. Alderman Emmett Golden, an attorney, named executor, said it had not been learned whether Follis had any relatives.

Follis, 60 years old, resided in a lodging house at 221A South Broadway and said he had no occupation. In his clothing was found $680 cash, a savings account record of $3693, first mortgage bonds for $7000 and voting trust receipts for shares in a building and loan association. In 1933, when Follis was admitted to Isolation Hospital, his clothing contained documents showing $20,000 in investments.

ROBERT T. BARBER FUNERAL

Services Here Today, Burial in Mount Carmel, Ill.

Funeral services for Robert T. Barber, who operated an advertising agency at his home, 5931 Maple avenue, were held today at West Presbyterian Church, with burial in Mount Carmel, Ill.

Mr. Barber, 61 years old, died Thursday in Barnes Hospital of peritonitis following an operation. He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Mary Brown Barber, director of religious education at West Church.

COAL TRUCK ARRESTS TUESDAY

Enforcement of an ordinance requiring registration of trucks used in the hauling of solid fuel will begin Tuesday by police at request of Smoke Commissioner Raymond R. Tucker.

Tucker requested the arrest of truck drivers, delivering coal for use in the city, who have not registered their vehicles. Windshield stickers are issued for the registered trucks.

$154,000 IN DELINQUENT STATE TAXES PAID HERE IN '39

Bulk of It Was Income Levy Totaling $131,000; Figure for State Was $200,000.

A total of $154,209 in delinquent State income, sales and other taxes was collected in St. Louis and the county last year by the office of Joseph A. Lennon, special counsel for the Attorney-General, it was stated in Lennon's annual report yesterday.

The total included $131,017 in income taxes, $18,309 in sales taxes, $4754 in franchise taxes and $131 in inheritance taxes. The collections resulted from a State-wide campaign which has been in progress since 1936.

Lennon's office, in charge of the campaign here, accounted for 65 per cent of all the delinquent income taxes collected in the State last year. The State total was $200,934.

Collapses on Street and Dies.

A man carrying papers issued to Edward J. Haley, a salesman, Topeka, Kan., collapsed and died at noon yesterday on Winnebago street, near Grand boulevard. The papers included a title to a 1939 model automobile near which he fell, issued at Topeka, and a driver's licensce. The man, about 55 years old, was pronounced dead after firemen tried to revive him with an inhalator. The body is at the morgue.

$250,000 South Side Fire

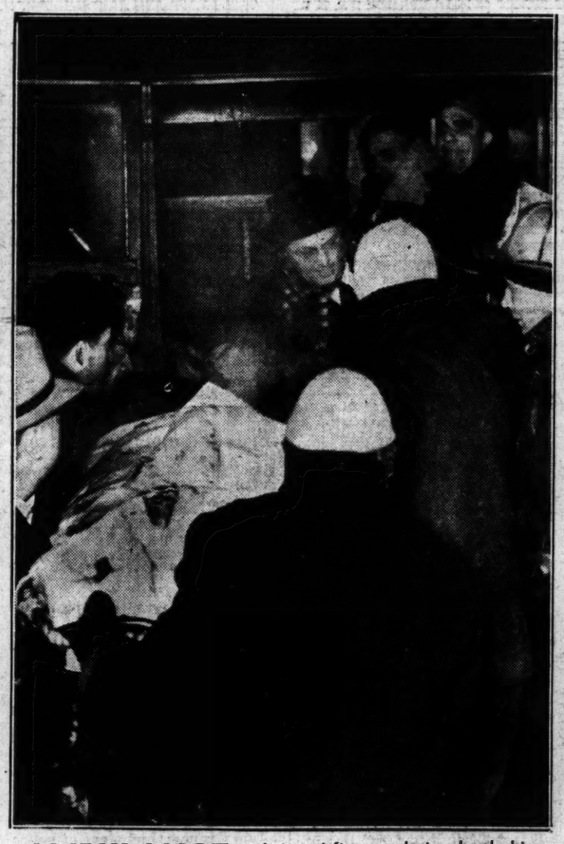

FIRE AND ICE Firemen still pumped water into this ice-coated building at Cherokee street and Iowa avenue this morning after last night's $250,000 fire. The building housed the Casa Loma Ballroom, New Cinderella bowling alleys, a Walgreen drug store, a Union Electric branch store and three other business establishments. The collapsed section of wall can be seen in the center. —By a Post-Dispatch Staff Photographer.

Falling Wall Wall collapsing at the height of last night's South Side fire. A group of five firemen narrowly escaped death. Twenty persons were injured during the fire. Two hundred firemen were on active duty, manning 21 engines, 11 hook and ladder trucks, two deck trucks, salvage wagons and inhalators.

When School Board Ousted Gerling

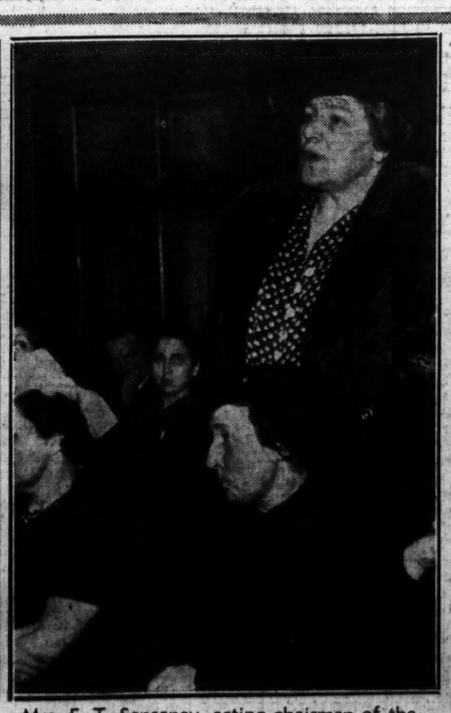

Representatives of civic and teachers' organizations, school groups and educational agencies comprised the small audience yesterday when the Board of Education quietly ousted Henry J. Gerling as Superintendent of Instruction, following his admission of speculative investment of relief funds entrusted to him. Several of them addressed the Board. —By a Post-Dispatch Staff Photographer.

Mrs. George Gellhorn, a national leader of the League of Women Voters, who complimented the Board on the way it had "risen to this great emergency."

W. H. Reals, associate professor of education at Washington University, who suggested expert advice in choosing a "well-qualified educational statesman."

Mrs. E. T. Senseney, acting chairman of the Citizens' School Survey Sponsoring Committee, who called the selection of a new school head "a matter of major civic importance."

Trained Mind Required for Skilled Work

By Angelo Patri

FLYING is still a romantic notion, full of drama, excitement and, in the minds of many children, a way to fame and fortune. Lindbergh is a name to conjure with. Parents and children alike murmur his name in awe and admiration. The children think, "If I could only do what Lindbergh did," and in their hearts they say, "And I could if I got a show." And the parents secretly think as they see their son tinkering with a toy airplane, 'Maybe he will."

Well, maybe he will, but the chances are he will not. Lindbergh was the inspired, skilled, trained, gifted leader of his epoch. Such are born generations apart. It was neither luck nor accident that made the Lone Eagle successful. He was a practiced flyer, one accustomed to effort and well acquainted with hardship. He was, and is, unique.

But parents grasp at straws.

The boy who dislikes school and gets poor marks in all his subjects still holds out hope for them. "He makes perfectly beautiful model airplanes. He works for hours over them. He ought to have training in engineering, mechanics, and the like. He would certainly make a wonderful flyer."

Don't be deceived. The boy who cannot do long division without a headache, who fails to learn to spell, who cannot write a paragraph in clear English, who cannot draw correctly the simplest object, is not material for the engineering school, nor the machine shop. The fact that he fiddles about with toy airplanes means that he is a child playing with childish things. If he was set to making an accurate pattern for a plane wing, for his toy plane, he would give up in disgust. Skilled work, in any field, demands a clear, well trained, thoroughly disciplined mind.

THE SAME mistake is made about those who play with radio. "He hates school, but he adores working with his radio." And what does he accomplish with his radio? Maybe he hitches up the wires, puts in a tube. That doesn't make him a candidate for radio engineering. It is a pastime, a happy one, even a useful one, but it is not the indication of a vocation or a profession, unless it is backed up by a strong intelligence and a liking for mathematics, physics and the allied subjects.

It takes something beside a knack for stringing wires and patching up old machines to make a flyer, an engineer, a master mechanic. It is useless to send a school failure to a vocational school to master a skilled trade or to learn the rudiments of a profession like radio engineering. A craftsman is one thing, a master mechanic, an engineer or a Lone Eagle, quite another.

Few among us can be leaders. It is a great deal better for all concerned to teach a child that, for him, honor lies in doing the one thing he can do better than anybody else can do it, even though that be sweeping the floor.

The Gorgon's Mask -:- By Van Wyck Mason

CHAPTER TWENTY-TWO.

"BUT how did Ishi's body come to be floating off the island of Maui?" asked Kilgour.

The intelligence captain, after a short pause, asked, "Doesn't all the oil at Kaanapal and those chaps at the Floating Lily with their greasy clothes and their bruised heads suggest anything?"

"It does, now that you mention them together; it suggests a submarine. I thought of that when those odd-looking beggars at the Floating Lily didn't walk like ordinary sailors. Subs are in port 90 per cent of the time," he explained, "so their crews don't get sea legs as a rule. Caught a U-boat captain that way once."

"Right!" chimed in North. "I was pretty sure it was a submarine the minute I saw Ishi's body. They must have shot him out through a torpedo tube when pretty far down. He was crushed by the pressure."

"By Jove!" Ideas now were crowding the English agent. "A submarine, by Neptune! A Jap sub!"

"Hardly that," North protested, "unless there's been an unsuspected mutiny in their fleet."

Kilgour shrubbed and settled back. "Suppose, Hugh, that you air a few of your theories."

"I will. I'll venture that this mystery sub is owned or chartered by the Transpacific."

"Nonsense! Where could they find one for such a purpose?"

"Please remember that Nadia Stefan is interested in this—there were several serviceable submarines in Russia when the Bolsheviks came in."

"But I still can't make out where this unfortunate Teodora Mazro fits."

"I've beieved from the beginning that she is the axis upon which this whole mystery revolves." North leaned forward, gray-blue eyes intent. "The two marks 'O. G. P. U.' and 'Traitorous Spy' found upon her body indicate it."

"O. G. P. U.?" Kilgour looked startled. "You've said nothing to me about that?"

"Sorry—thought I had — well, here it is." North produced that sketch of Teodora's mark and shoved it across to his companion, telling of his pre-autopsy discovery.

"So this girl had once been tattooed?"

"Yes." North made a slightly impatient gesture. "In Russia, some people believed in wearing their hearts on their skin. In this particular case I think the use of a tattooing needle is indicated."

"I think I see it, Hugh. To begin with, Teodora was one of your friend Nadia Stefan's organization. She sold out to Kanamura, Von Rentner and the Stefan woman found it out, turned her over to Capt. Karen for liquidation."

"Karen took her aboard this submarine. Had her killed in his own peculiar fashion; then, as a grisly gesture, scratched those Red ideographs on the traitor's neck. Through Von Rentner he knew that Kanamura would be dining with Abner Polk that night. So, to let both Von Rentner and Kanamura know what had happened, he indulged in a macabre bit and set her body adrift from the sub. How's that for a reconstruction of events?"

"Quite good!" North applauded. "And now I'll put in my two cents' worth. Nadia Stefan"—he flushed in spite of himself—"got it out of poor young Clark that I was coming and tried to scare me off twice. When it didn't work she must have warned Von Rentner. He saw me take that hairpin from Teodora's hair, and promptly let Nadia know about it. She must have bribed someone on the hotel switchboard to check on my conversation, and so learned that Miss Belknap was expected at 12. Her impersonation completely fooled me.

"The big thing I don't understand," North went on, "is Polk's part in this business. Last night it seemed to me he was on the outs with Von Rentner, who is supposed to be his partner. Furthermore, he had Kanamura, Von Rentner's deadly enemy, to dinner. Odd, isn't it?

"Then there are some other obscure points." Without checking himself, the speaker hurried on. "For example, I've yet to learn why Wang Tso Kin came to life so abruptly at the end of April. And for what purpose is this lethal submarine cruising about the island? I want to know her new base."

"Incidentally, I think it's the unfortunate Mr. Ishi we have to thank for that abrupt departure from Kaanapal. If only Kanamura wouldn't keep gumming our game! We could have swooped down on Maui and captured that sub."

The American agent raised a quizzical eyebrow at his companion. "Do you know, that 'I Fourteen' in the cipher may refer to her!"

"Seems very likely—I-14. Yes, by Jove!" Kilgour smote his thigh a resounding slap. "There was an I class of Jap boats built at Kaigun—" In full career Kilgour faltered. "I-14! Looks like it's a Jap boat, after all. Rather knocks our theories about a bit, doesn't it?"

"It does," was the inelligence captain's moody assent. "Better look up that class as soon as you can. In the meantime, I think there's only one thing to do and that is, interview Abner Polk."

"He may not talk to you," Kilgour objected.

"Somehow I think I can pursuade him," North predicted just before ringing up Kalua.

"I want to talk to Mr. Polk. This is Mr. Nevins."

KILGOUR listened intently to his colleague's conversation with Abner Polk.

"This is Howard Nevins. . . . Yes, quite well. . . . May I drop by this evening? . . . You're having a dinner party? Well, then, I'd like a few minutes of your time afterwards. . . . No. I assure you it's very important; something to do with your investments in China. . . . You haven't any? Nonsense, I know better. . . . Too busy to talk? I'm sorry, in that case I'll have to pay my call on the superinetndent of police tonight. . . . What? . . . Just what I said. . . . Then you'll expect me for dinner? Splendid! Delighted! On second thoughts, Mr. Polk, I'd like to talk to you before dinner. . . . All right? . . . Good! I'll be out by seven-thirty. Oh, one more thing," he added. "My friend, Mr. Kilgour, is with me tonight. He was charmed with your garden that night. . . . Bring him along? I'll call him and see. . . . All right, then, I'll telephone you if he can't come—we'll leave it that way. Good-by, Mr. Polk." The receiver went click!

"Dinner at 8 and be on time," North announced. "I think we're going to see some real action tonight."

What the nature of that real action would be, he still was wondering when his cab swung past an elaborate iron grille gate and sped up a magnificent driveway to the vast white bulk of Kalua. At last it came to a halt before an exquisitely carved teak door.

Odd, North reflected with a faint stir of uneasiness, those massive doors had not been closed the night before. Odd, too, that lights blazed in almost every room of the mansion. Odd, also, this growing presentiment of menace which was invading him like subtle fever.

"Misser Polk say plees come right upstairs," a white clad footman murmured as he took the intelligence captain's panama.

Up a broad, winding flight of stone stairs North followed the diminutive Filipino and presently came to a halt outside a white-painted door. On this the servant rapped softly.

"Misser Nevins, sirr."

The door was opened at once by Polk himself who beckoned in the intelligence officer. It was a luxurious bedroom.

"It appears, Mr. Nevins," began the millionaire, "that I made a mistake in being so intimate with you aboard the Malolo."

"Did you?"

"I don't know—better sit down," Polk added. "I'm told you're not what I thought."

"A sportsman?" queried North.

"Don't fence—you're an army intelligence officer."

"I am," the visitor admitted, then he added quite casually, "And I may arrest you for conspiring against the peace and security of the United States."

After a grim pause, Abner Polk rasped, "You're mad!"

"I'm not mad, and I shall arrest you, unless"——

"Unless what?"

"Unless you do your duty as an American citizen."

The master of the Kalua fixed his visitor with stern, staring eyes. "You're bluffing, Capt. North, but"—he shrugged a little—"last night I made up my mind to do just that. I won't explain now why I did what I have done. The main thing is, I want to remedy that harm while there still is time."

"Just a minute!" North raised a detaining hand. "Before you begin—from whom did you learn who I really am?"

"I don't know," Polk confessed with a simplicity that lent authenticity to the statement. "A woman phoned this morning and told me you were Capt. Hugh North of United States Army Intelligence."

North inquired crisply: "Sure you've no idea who it was?"

"No. I don't think I ever heard the woman's voice before; it was pleasant and cultured." Polk paused in the act of lighting a gold-tipped cigarette. "I think she expected her information to achieve another result than it did."

"I imagine so," North agreed soberly.

Appendicitis Is Only Imaginary In Many Cases

By Logan Clendening, M. D.

ECONOMIC philosophers have repeatedly pointed out that modern life is getting to be too much for the average human nervous system to stand. Gunpowder is the extreme example. Gunpowder should never have been invented; 99.9 per cent of mankind simply hasn't enough character to be allowed to play with gunpowder. The automobile is another; at least one-third of the people who are driving automobiles are incapable of doing so safely.

The discovery of appendicitis was a dangerous thing for certain types of intellect. It became a popular word and is associated with a disease causing pain in the right lower part of the abdomen. This knowledge has proved too much for many people.

According to a physician at the Mayo Clinic, the second commonest functional trouble of the digestive apparatus is pseudo-appendicitis. Nervous men and women complain of mild pain or soreness in the region of the appendix. Some feel as if they should be reaching down to hold up the abdomen with the hand. Often the distress comes on at intervals, mimicking attacks of acute appendicitis.

That the pain originates in the mind is proved by cases on record in which the appendix has been removed and the pain persisted. In the operation all the nerve pathways from the appendix region are severed, so the pain must be projected from the brain or the mind. In many cases the pain can be proved to be in the skin of the abdominal wall because pinching the skin alone produces typical pain.

A FAMOUS English surgeon, Benjamin Brodie, reported a case of a middle-aged woman who had been exposed during a considerable period of time to great mental anxiety. She complained of a constant severe pain over the right side of the abdomen. This persisted for years and she died of an intercurrent disease. On examining the body after death, careful examination of all the tissues clear through the abdominal wall to the back, at the site where she had complained of pain, was made. No morbid appearances could be detected. There was neither inflammation nor thickening, nor any morbid change of structure and not the slightest deviation of any kind from the normal condition of the part.

The important lesson is that unless there is definite objective proof of appendicitis in the form of fever, increase of the white cells of the blood, increase of the pulse rate and definite prostration, attacks of pseudo-appendicitis do not call for operative interference. In fact, operation in these cases almost invariably makes the patient worse.

How It Started

By Jean Newton

Keeping One's Distance

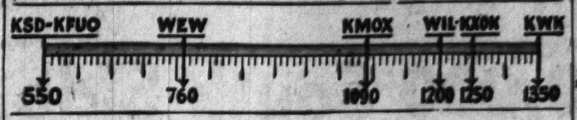

Used figuratively for maintaining an attitude of reserve, this metaphor, which made its debut in the English language in an old work, Lady Alimony, published in 1659, is thought by many to be traceable to French usage, in turn, said to have originated in an old royal decree.

This edict forbade body contact between dancers, the kingly proscription in this regard being that dancers must not come closer to each other than four inches.

The devotees of Terpischore, therefore, had to keep their distance, under penalty of fine, imprisonment or both — which perhaps is how dead letter laws started.

Milk Regarded As an Almost Perfect Food

By Edith M. Barber

MILK bars at fashionable hotels and department stores are a novelty. The latter started this service in the interest of young patrons who come shopping with mother and who are always ready for their favorite beverage. The milk-drinking habit certainly seems to carry over, as I find when I have guests of either prep school or college age that it seems impossible to furnish enough milk to satisfy them.

While no food is entirely complete there is nothing which scores as high as this food in liquid form. It is essential during the growth period, particularly on account of the mineral and vitamin content which is necessary for building good bones and teeth. The protein which it contains is of the highest quality and is transformed easily into flesh and muscle.

Milk also has the advantage of being so easily digested that it is seldom we find anyone who cannot take it. There are exceptional cases, of course, where there is an allergy toward it. This is particularly unfortunate, because it is difficult to obtain enough calcium for the daily qouta during the growth period and later without the use of this nearly perfect food.

CASSEROLE OF SPINACH AND CHEESE.

One-half cup cooked spinach.
One-half cup dried crumbs.
One and one-half cups grated cheese.
Two eggs.
One cup milk.
One teaspoon Worcestershire sauce.
One-half teaspoon salt.
Pepper.
One cup soft bread crumbs, buttered.

Chop spinach fine, add crumbs, cheese, beaten eggs, milk, Worcestershire sauce, salt and pepper and mix well. Put into a greased baking dish. Cover with the buttered crumbs and bake in a moderate oven 350 degrees F for 25 minutes, or until crumbs are a delicate brown.

CHOCOLATE BLANC MANGE.

Three squares chocolate.
Three cups milk.
Two-thirds cup sugar.
Four and one-half tablespoons cornstarch.
One-fourth teaspoon salt.
One teaspoon vanilla.

Put the chocolate and two and one-half cupfuls of the milk in a double boiler; cook until the milk is scalded and the chocolate melted, and beat thoroughly with an egg beater. Mix the sugar, the cornstarch and the salt, add the remaining milk and stir until thoroughly blended. Add the cornstarch mixture gradually to the chocolate mixture, stirring constantly until the mixture thickens. Cover and cook without stirring for 20 minutes. Add the vanilla, turn into a serving dish and chill. Serve with whipped cream.

BELIEVE IT OR NOT By Ripley

The ferry South Steyne, built at Leith, Scotland, for service in the harbor of Sidney, Australia, proved her seaworthiness by making the trip across the world to her station unescorted. On the long journey, the South Steyne rode out many gales, a sandstorm while crossing the Red Sea, and a monsoon in the Indian Ocean.

IF YOU ASK My OPINION

By MARTHA CARR

Dear Martha Carr:

I AM very much in love with a boy I've been going with for months. He said he loved me, too. After bringing me home one night from a wiener roast he told me he wouldn't see me any more. I didn't see him for weeks after that, and didn't know if he was mad, or what. Then one day I was in the store where he works and he brought me home, asked my phone number and said he would call me. I haven't heard from him since. Shall I call him, since I know he isn't angry with me? If he asks for a date, shall I accept it? And if I do, will I have the right to go out with other fellows?

PERPLEXED.

Letters intended for this column must be addressed to Martha Carr at the St. Louis Post-Dispatch. Mrs. Carr will answer all questions of general interest but, of course, cannot give advice on matters of a purely legal or medical nature. Those who do not care to have their letters published may enclose an addressed and stamped envelope for personal reply.

If this boy wants a date, he will call you. If you called him it would appear that you are running after him, and he would promptly run the other way. If he calls you and you want to go out with him, that is up to you. Just because you go out with one boy doesn't mean you must see only him, unless you have made the agreement to go steady.

Dear Mrs. Carr:

I AM A girl 16 years old. My mother fusses at me all the time for speaking to a boy she doesn't like. She thinks he's no good because he hasn't a job. I know he has honestly been trying to find one; he just doesn't succeed. My mother refuses to let me go out because she thinks I am meeting him. This makes me cry all the time, and I have thought of leaving home. How old must a girl be before she can marry without her parents' consent? If all this keeps up much longer, I don't know what will happen. What shall I do? HEARTBROKEN.

If you are silly enough and short-sighted enough to be thinking of marriage, at 16, with a fellow who hasn't even a job, no wonder your mother acts as she does. You must try to realize she is merely protecting you from your own infatuation and poor judgment. You are too young to be so serious about any boy. Have a good time with the crowd. You won't be really ready to settle down to the responsibilities of marriage for a long time yet. A girl must be 18 to marry without her parents' consent.

Dear Martha Carr:

IF I DO not seem too impertinent, I would like to correct a statement made in your column some time ago. Someone inquired about swimming in the winter and you stated the only pool open in the winter was the Y. W. C. A. There is also swimming at the Bishop Tuttle Memorial Building, 1210 Locust street, every Monday and Friday evenings from 5:30 to 7:30 for girls 16 years old and over. SWIMMING ENTHUSIAST.

Dear Martha Carr:

HOW CAN I get in touch with a friend whose address I have lost? He lives in Topeka, Kan. THANK YOU.

The reference room of the Public Library has many out-of-town telephone books and city directories. If you do not find his name listed, or if the information does not seem sufficiently recent, write the Public Library at Topeka, inclosing stamped, self-addressed envelope for reply.

Dear Mrs. Carr:

WOULD YOU advise the use of aluminum dishes for the storing of left-overs in the icebox? MRS. M. BROWN.

Covered containers of enamel or glass are best for this purpose.

IN ANSWER to "Bad Break": You know perfectly well that what you should do is to stop running around after women half your age and return and spend a peaceful old age with your wife. Since you seem to be worried over questions of property and support, etc., and those are matters calling for legal advice, I suggest you see a lawyer.

IN ANSWER to "R. L.": Send your manuscript to the Feature Editor, St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

TOMORROW'S HOROSCOPE

By Wynn

Sunday, January 21

FAIRLY good vibrations in the morning today; but p. m. is too emotional to be trusted. And nix the long distance decision—relax instead. The week ahead is likely to bring out the negative, uncomfortable side; don't take it the hard way.

The Great Book

When we are born, it has been said, nature delivers the most marvelous machine in the world without a book of instructions. But the astrologer says this is not the case. Like the description and instructions that come with the new car you buy, each of us has a vast fund of information concerning what we are and how to handle our equipment—in the true analysis of our individual horoscope.

Your Year Ahead

Your year ahead from this to next birthday brings both problems and gain through home—gain stronger from May. Watch health all year. Make good changes from July 10 on. Danger: Feb. 12-22; June 21-July 11; Nov. 15-26.

Monday, January 22

Social and artistic affairs favored today; but take nothing for granted where finances or the emotions are in the frame. Too much friction and self-pity flying around in the atmosphere. Avoid rash temptings in the evening.

Something for Nothing?

Various cruel people, ignorantly so or otherwise, promise the less fortunate among us something for nothing—or a very big something for very nearly nothing. They tell the unthinking that they, the unthinking, may have anything they want, that all they need do is concentrate or demand from nature whatever they want in order to get it. But there is no record that nature gives in just that way.

Your Year Ahead

Your year ahead from your anniversary today is good for deciding wise life changes; for artistic or inventive pursuits; from July on; but both good and difficult in home and estate. Danger: Feb. 12-22; June 21-July 11; Nov. 15-26.

Don't Take My Word for It

By Frank Colby

AUDACIOUS—An adjective. Daring; spirited; adventurous.

Do not say "aw-DASH-us," rhyming the second syllable with gash, hash. This is one of four familiar words in which short "a" of hash is erroneously used. The others are rapacious, vivacious and sagacious. In Caucasian also it is best choice to use the long "a" of gracious.

Memory phrase: GRAY-shus, what an aw-DAY-shus, vy-VAY-shus, ruh-PAY-shus, suh-GAY-shus kaw-KAY-shun.

(Capitals indicate syllables to be accented.

Question: My teachers tells me that I should not say "I am mad at you." Is "I am angry at you" correct?—J. T.

Answer: One is angry at or about a thing, and angry with a person. Say, "I am angry with you."

Question: Is food "eatable" or "edible"?

Answer: Either is correct, though edible is the better choice.

For a personal answer to your questions about words, send a stamped (3c), self-addressed envelope to Frank Colby, care St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

Bidding Often Final Guide in Play of Cards

By Ely Culbertson

THE final guide to a close decision in the play of the cards often can be found in the preceding bidding. The "wizardry" of certain experts is nothing more than the manifestation of their ability to appraise accurately the bids of the defenders.

In today's hand the declarer had two possible lines of play, each offering a distinct chance of success.

West, dealer.

	♠10 ♥QJ1065 ♦KQ106 ♣AK8
♠KQ9762 ♥AK7 ♦A94 ♣9	NORTH WEST EAST SOUTH	♠AJ8543 ♥92 ♦J752 ♣7
	♠None ♥843 ♦83 ♣QJ1085432

The bidding:

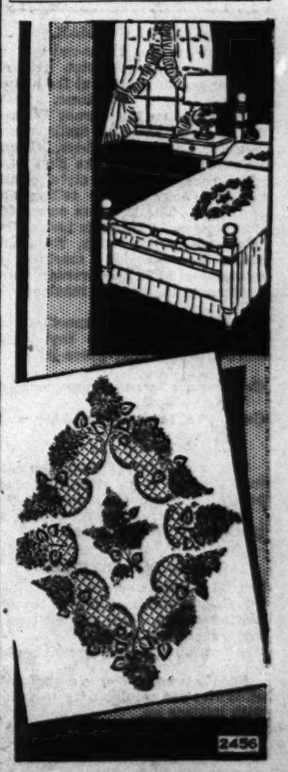

West	North	East	South
1 spade	Double	4 spades	5 clubs
5 spades	Double	Pass	Pass
Pass

West had a close decision to make over the five club bid. His three honor tricks outside of the spade suit made a double tempting, but in my opinion he was correct in bidding five spades. It was perfectly obvious that North had a generally good hand and that South, therefore, must have very freakish distribution in order to bid at the five level. West felt that there was a very good chance of making five spades and was unwilling to settle for a one or even two trick penalty.

North opened the king of clubs and then shifted to the queen of hearts. Declarer won and took out the only outstanding spade. Next he led the king of hearts and ruffed his losing heart in dummy. With no more clubs or hearts in either dummy or his own hand, declarer's only problem was to find a way to avoid the loss of two diamond tricks. There were two possibilities: One, that either North or South had one of the honors only singly guarded. In that case, the lead of the ace and a low diamond would force that defender on lead with only clubs or hearts to return, either of which would allow declarer to discard his other losing diamond and ruff in dummy. Had there been nothing to go by in the bidding this would have been the correct plan. But the declarer gave a great deal of thought to North's take-out double of the one spade as well as his final penalty double of the five spade bid. Knowing North to be a conservative player, declarer felt sure that he must have upward of three honor tricks for his takeout double, which strongly pointed to the conclusion that he held both the king and queen of diamonds as well as the ace-king of clubs.

On this analysis declarer returned to his hand with a trump, and led, not the ace of diamonds, but a low one up to dummy's jack. This play made North helpless. He was forced to go up with his queen and had the Hobson's choice of giving declarer a ruff and a discard by leading a club or a heart, or of returning a diamond into the East-West combined tenace.

DEBATE IN LAMAR.

(Lamar, Mo., Democrat.)

The Sunny Service club held a most enjoyable meeting at the home of Mrs. George O'Connor. Two songs, Brighten the Corner Where You Are and You Can Smile, were sung for opening numbers. Then the usual business of the club was taken care of in fine style. Roll call was answered by telling an Irish joke. The program consisted of several good readings and a debate, the subject being, Resolved that a power-washing machine is more essential to the average family than is the sewing machine.
